VOL. 79. NO. 56. ST. LOUIS, TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 2, 1926—40 PAGES PRICE 2 CENTS

G. O. P. PAYS $10 APIECE FOR VOTES, WALSH CHARGES

Price in New Bedford, Mass., Has Risen From $7, Democratic Senatorial Nominee Says.

BOOTLEGGERS, TOO, FORCED INTO LINE

Allegations Against Political Machine Backing Butler Are Denied by the Senator.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—Charges of vote buying in New Bedford and receipt of an anonymous postcard interpreted by the police as a threat to a Fall River priest brought the election campaign in Massachusetts to a sharp climax.

Former Senator David I. Walsh, Democratic candidate for Senator, charged in a speech here yesterday that the price of votes has risen from $7 to $10 in New Bedford and that pressure had been brought to bear on violators of the liquor laws by the political machine working for the re-election of Senator Butler, his Republican opponent.

"In calling attention to the use of money in his (Senator Butler's) campaign, I stated in my speech at Mechanics Hall Saturday night that in an industrial city of this Commonwealth, headquarters had been established for the buying of votes. I stated that the names of the voters were taken, a certain amount paid to them in advance and the balance to be paid after the election; I also stated that bootleggers, keepers of 'speak easies' and officers of social clubs had been called in and told to get active in political work or look for unhappy results.

System of "Booking."

"The city I referred to was Senator Butler's former City of New Bedford. The headquarters I referred to is in the Olympia Building in that city. The prevailing prices of votes which upon last Saturday was $7, has been increased to $10.

"The system used is called booking' and the men engaged in it are known to the people of New Bedford as 'bookers.' The subterfuge referred to is the same subterfuge employed in the Pennsylvania primaries where thousands of so-called workers were employed in Pittsburg and Alleghany County and paid the same price of $10 each. The bagman who is directing the distribution of this money is a subordinate public official who, in past years, had a great deal of experience in this same line of work in municipal campaigns. Some of those associated with him have Federal Court records as violators of the liquor law."

Senator Butler last night said he had nothing to add to statements given out previously denying charges of vote buying in the campaign.

He called attention to the statement issued yesterday in reply to earlier charges by Walsh in which Butler said: "I would not insult the electorate of my own State by any inference that their votes are for sale. Men and women will vote for me because they believe in me and in what I represent. Men and women will vote for my Democratic opponent for similar reasons. I would retire from this contest before I would intimate that my opponent's supporters were influenced in any degree whatsoever for money."

COLLEGE CLOSES, STUDENTS FAIL TO PAY THEIR TUITION

Pupils at Hedding at Abingdon, Ill., All Worked Their Way Through School.

PEORIA, Ill., Nov. 2.—Hedding College of Abingdon, Ill., has closed its doors until Jan. 1, when an effort will be made to reopen classes. President Weber announced the failure of students, all of whom are working their way through school, to pay their tuition, was the primary cause of closing the doors.

The college recently reopened on a plan of co-operation with manufacturers of Galesburg and Abingdon, who were to give students part time employment to assist them in defraying their college expenses.

KILLED IN JUMP FROM PLANE

Naval Ensign Perishes in Bay at Pensacola, Fla.

By the Associated Press.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Nov. 2.—Ensign Henry Harrison, 25 years old, U. S. N., of Cambridge, Mass., a member of the Navy air station class of 1925, was instantly killed when he leaped from an airplane into the bay. It was Harrison's second solo flight.

Observers at the air station said Harrison's plane went into a nose dive and was flying upside down when the aviator jumped. Harrison and the plane struck the water simultaneously.

35 SENATORSHIPS WILL BE DECIDED; SUMMARY OF PROBABLE NEW LINEUP

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.

FOLLOWING is a summary of the probable outcome of today's elections. If the Democrats carry the states included in the first classification (below) and those described as probably Democratic they will have gained seven votes, or two less than enough to constitute a majority of the Senate.

Although 35 senatorships are to be decided, there are two short terms at stake, in Iowa and Missouri, that end with the present Congress, the candidates running merely to fill out terms that expire on March 4.

This table applies to the Seventieth Congress that is not due to meet until December, 1927:

Democratic—Louisiana, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Maryland, Kentucky, Missouri, Arizona.

Republican—California, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Utah, Vermont, Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Washington, Idaho, Iowa.

Probably Democratic—Oklahoma, New York, Massachusetts.

Probably Republican—Ohio, Indiana (two Senators), Nevada.

In the balance—Colorado, Oregon, Illinois.

The Democrats have 33 holdover Senators, the Republicans 30, and there is one Farmer-Laborite who continues into the Seventieth Congress.

DIES ANSWERING "WRONG NUMBER"; HIS WIDOW SUES

New York Woman Says Phone Operator Was Negligent; Seeks $30,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Her husband having been killed by a fall down stairs while on his way to answer a telephone, and investigation proving that it was a wrong number, anyway, Mrs. Mary Anderson of Amboy road, Great Hills, Staten Island, has filed suit for $30,000 against the New York Telephone Co., alleging negligence on the part of the operator.

The suit, said to be the first of its kind in the country, is being heard before Justice Reigelmann and a jury in the Richmond County Supreme Court.

Robert G. Anderson, 62 years old, a real estate salesman, was awakened from sleep at 5 a. m. July 4, 1925, by the ringing of his telephone, the number of which was Tottenville 1541-J. He answered it and learned that the caller wanted 1541 Dongan Hills, so he returned to bed. Five minutes later it rang again and Anderson started downstairs once more. At the top of the stairs he tripped. The fall, it is alleged, induced a heart attack that was fatal.

Subsequent investigation disclosed that the second call also was for 1541 Dongan Hills. Mrs. Anderson admits her husband had been suffering from a weak heart, but she alleges shock attendant upon the calling of the wrong number caused death.

Official forecast for St. Louis and vicinity: Partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow, warmer tonight.

Missouri: Partly cloudy to cloudy tonight and tomorrow, probably with showers in the northeast portion; rising temperature tonight and in the southeast portion tomorrow; colder in the northwest portion.

Illinois: Showers beginning late tonight or tomorrow except mostly fair in extreme south portion; rising temperature tonight and in the extreme south portion tomorrow, colder tomorrow in the north and central portions.

General Weather Conditions.

Cool, fair weather covers the lower Missouri, Mississippi, and Ohio Valleys and the Lake region. The morning thermometer readings in Northern Iowa are around 20 degrees. They are around freezing as far south as Southern Missouri and the Ohio River. In Montana and the Dakotas the temperatures are rising rapidly. In North Dakota snow is falling and in the Gulf States rain is general. In the lower Lake region and the Ohio Valley rain fell on Monday but the weather is fair this morning.

QUEEN INDUCTED INTO SIOUX TRIBE AS 'WAR WOMAN'

Startled Out of Her Composure for First Time on Trip by Indian Ceremony at Mandan, N. D.

ARRIVES TONIGHT IN SPOKANE, WASH.

Crossing Montana Today—Proposed Florida Trip on Return From Pacific Coast Not Yet Decided on

By the Associated Press.

ABOARD QUEEN MARIE'S SPECIAL TRAIN ON THE WAY TO SPOKANE, WASH. Nov. 2.—Queen Marie of Rumania sped across Montana today with a bloodspot on her finger and an eagle feather headdress as evidence of her rank as woman chieftain of the Sioux Indian nation. She was made a blood sister and "war woman" of the tribe at ceremonies in Mandan, N. D., yesterday.

Before placing the feather bonnet on the Queen's head, Chief Red Tomahawk, master of ceremonies, reputed slayer of Sitting Bull, pricked the skin of one of the Queen's fingers with a sharpened flint. Blood appeared, but Marie only smiled. The test of courage was satisfactory and the symbolic bonnet was placed on her bobbed head.

Her Composure Shaken.

For the first time in her visit to this country the Queen lost her composure, when, after she had knelt on a buffalo robe during the ceremonies, the robe was picked up by a group of chiefs and she was carried a short distance to the ceremonial wigwam. A startled expression appeared on her face for a moment, but she was smiling when she was lowered to the ground.

Ordinarily, the designation "war woman" is given by Indians only for services on the field of battle. In the case of Queen Marie, the Indians recognized her services to Rumania during the World War as meriting the highest rank the tribe could bestow.

Only brief stops in Montana were arranged for today. Spokane, the day's destination, will be reached early this evening.

The Queen has not decided on a suggested trip to Florida, after returning to Washington from the Pacific Coast. Her spokesman said today that railroads which would be involved in the Southern visit had not been approached on the subject.

Chats With Farmers.

The Queen spent a large part of yesterday's daylight ride across North Dakota in conversation with farmers, and their wives, who boarded the train at various stops. She was told of diversified farming and co-operative enterprises and realized that agriculture in her own country of Rumania has far to go to catch up with this country's modern farming methods.

"A real woman," was the comment of the farmers after they had talked to the Queen. Mrs. A. H. Barnes of Cotter Station said: "I believe you couldn't stop her in anything she sets out to do." All the Queen's guests were put at ease, they said, by Marie's "American handshake," and friendly greeting.

An Informal Introduction.

Once when the train lurched on a curve Marie was thrown into the lap of Lynn Sperry, one of the farmers who boarded the train at Bismarck yesterday.

"That certainly was an informal introduction," she laughed, as she regained her feet.

Marie and Ileana wore native costumes to greet Rumanian residents of Dickinson. The Queen's costume was a long white robe, embroidered in old rose and gold, covered by a linen cloak of old rose. She wore red Transylvanian boots and covered her head with a white veil, called a marama, worn by married women in Rumania. The Princess wore a long white-embroidered cloak with a black scarf about her head.

For a rodeo at Medora, Marie wore a black riding habit, while Prince Nicholas wore leather chaps. Between the flags of Rumania and America, the Queen rode a short distance from the train to an enclosed area where cowboys gave an exhibition of fancy riding, roping and bulldogging.

COOLIDGES VOTE BEFORE CROWD AT OLD HOME TOWN

Hundreds Pack Hall in Northampton, Mass., to Watch President and Wife Cast Ballots.

THRONG IN RAIN AT THE STATION

Executive Shakes Hands With 2000 at Reception Before Starting on Return to Washington.

By the Associated Press.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Nov. 2.—As simply "Calvin Coolidge" and "Mrs. Grace Coolidge," the President and his wife today cast their votes as citizens of Northampton, while hundreds of their old friends and neighbors packed the hall to watch them.

To emphasize the public appeals he has made for all voters to go to the polls and the need he feels for the re-election of Senator William M. Butler, the chief executive arrived here on a special train from Washington at 9 a. m. today and went to the polls to cast his ballot in the State and congressional election.

The special train left Northampton on the return journey to Washington just before noon. A stop of five minutes for change of engines was made here at Springfield. This stop was made in the railroad yards, where some 100 persons gathered to get a glimpse of the President, who, with Mrs. Coolidge, apepared on the rear platform of his car, but did not speak.

With President and Mrs. Coolidge on their special train was Edward T. Clark, his personal secretary, who also is a legal resident of this city. United States Senator Frederick H. Gillett and Congressman Henry L. Bowles of Springfield, joined the party at Springfield.

Standing in the drizzle of rain at the station were a committee of old friends and hundreds of other residents. Mrs. Coolidge seemed especially glad to be home. She waved a greeting through the car windows before the train of seven cars came to a halt. On the platform school children who formed the majority of the crowd set up a shout of greeting.

Hundreds Line Sidewalks.

The short distance to the polling place in Memorial Hall on Main street was lined on either sidewalk with other hundreds to catch a glimpse of the presidential party while flags were excitedly waved. Walking through a lane formed in the crowd was President and Mrs. Coolidge without delay walked to the polling place marked "Ward Two" and were greeted by Herman A. Hockemeier, inspector of voting. He called "Calvin Coolidge," "Mrs. Grace Coolidge," as he handed them their ballots and they walked to their booths.

Mrs. Coolidge was the first to turn back, smiling, her ballot marked.

Visit Their Old Home.

Flashlights boomed and cameras clicked as both ballots were passed through the machine. Wihtout delay the party then moved on their second objective, a visit to their old home on Massasoit street.

As they drove past Smith College the students were out in full force with fluttering flags and at other points school children gave them similar greetings. A short pause, without alighting, was made at the Clarke School for the Deaf, where Mrs. Coolidge taught before her marriage.

Just inside the door of the simple home on Massasoit street was waiting Mrs. Limyra Goodhue, mother of Mrs. Coolidge. Her daughter and son-in-law entered quickly for a visit of an hour before the public reception in the high school hall.

2000 Attend Reception.

The President and Mrs. Coolidge greeted 2000 friends, neighbors and students who passed and shook their hands in the three-quarters of an hour allotted at the reception. Mrs. Coolidge, in particular, greeted hundreds of old acquaintances by name.

First to pass the reception line were the teachers of the high school. Following them were hundreds of students from the grammar, high, preparatory schools and Smith College. Mingled among them were many older persons who had known Mrs. Coolidge as a teacher and the President as a young lawyer.

Among the many were "Jim" Lucy, the President's cobbler-philosopher and staunch supporter; the Rev. Kenneth Wells, pastor of the Edwards Congregational Church, which the Coolidges attended when at home, and Benja-

ROOSEVELT'S COUSIN KILLED IN FOX HUNT

Horse Falls on Mrs. Fairman R. Dick During Meadowbrook Club Event.

By the Associated Press.

BROOKVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Mrs. Fairman R. Dick, the former Gladys Roosevelt, a cousin of the late President, was killed today when she was thrown from her horse during a fox hunt. The accident occurred shortly before 11 o'clock near the country estate of George F. Brewster. Mrs. Dick's mount caught its knee under a rail in a jump and landed on top of her.

The hunt is a popular social affair regularly held by the Meadowbrook Hunt Club of Long Island.

Mrs. Dick was a painter. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ellis Roosevelt, and was married to Mr. Dick in 1913. He is a member of Roosevelt & Son, a banking firm in the downtown financial district.

In Mrs. Dick's section were five or six hunters, and she was preceded to the barrier by three, they easily cleared the fence, but Mrs. Dick's horse shot low, witnesses said, and pitched completely over, landing squarely on Mrs. Dick.

The Meadowbrook hunts have long been a fashionable feature of Long Island life among the socially elect and wealthy.

After being removed from the field to the Dow's home, Mrs. Dick's body was taken to her home. Mr. Dick, overcome by the tragedy, was taken to Sagamore Hill by Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt in her car.

Mrs. Dick was 38 years old and had no children.

CITY ATTACHES EMPLOYES' PAY

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 2.—This city has attached the salaries of nearly 200 of its employes who have failed to pay personal property taxes. The action affects school teachers, firemen, policemen, clerks and all employes, regardless of position.

Pride in Possession

Home is the atmosphere of pride and possession that binds the family close together—

It is the kitchen, where Mother can prepare or supervise the meals happily because the place is her own—

It is the living room, where all may gather about the fireplace on chilly evenings—

It is the garden, to work and to play in, the very window panes, and the roof too, on which the snow and the rain may fall with only the added comfort of security for you.

Home is all these things, found in a bargain offered in the "Real Estate" columns. Turn there, select your own.

By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Nov. 2.—Mashpee, on Cape Cod, the first Massachusetts town to report in today's election, went heavily Republican. The vote for United States Senator was: William M. Butler, Republican, 46; David I. Walsh, Democrat, 12.

The vote for Governor was: Alvan T. Fuller, Republican, 57; William A. Gaston, Democrat, 5.

Mashpee's vote in the election of 1924 was: For Senator: Gillett (Rep.), 45; Walsh (Dem.), 12. For Governor: Fuller (Rep.), 48; Curley (Dem.), 10.

By the Associated Press.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 2.—Returns from Precinct 1-E: Butler (Rep.), 159; Walsh (Dem.), 344. This precinct in 1924 gave: Gillett (Rep.), 211; Walsh (Dem.), 296.

Precinct 1 E is in Ward 1 in the industrial section of the city, where most of the residents are cotton mill workers.

Precinct 4, a Democratic precinct, New Bedford, gave Butler 55; Walsh, 95. In 1924, Gillett, 77; Walsh 89.

By the Associated Press.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Nov. 2.—New Ashford, the first town in Berkshire County and the second in Massachusetts to report, gave: For Governor: Fuller, 11; Gaston, 11. For United States Senator: Butler, 14; Walsh, 8. The vote in 1924 was: For Governor—Fuller, 7; Curley, 4. For United States Senator—Gillett, 14; Walsh, 7.

13 Straight G. O. P. Ballots Only Ones in New Hampshire Town.

By the Associated Press.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 2.—The first town in New Hampshire to report its election results was Ellsworth, where 13 straight Republican ballots were cast. There was no Democratic vote.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Nov. 2.—Incomplete returns from two precincts in this city gave for the United States Senate: Charles Curtis, Republican incumbent, 69; Charles Stephens, Democrat, 37. In the gubernatorial race the incomplete count in the same precincts was: Ben S. Paulen, Republican incumbent, 50; Jonathan M. Davis, Democrat, 36. Double election boards are used in the larger precincts in Kansas, which permits counting of the vote to be started early in the day.

PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL TRAIN HITS AUTO; NO ONE IS HURT

Machine Occupied by Two Army Privates Is Demolished at Aberdeen, Md.

By the Associated Press.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 2.—The special train, on which President and Mrs. Coolidge were traveling to Massachusetts to vote, hit an automobile at Aberdeen, Md., at 12:45 a. m., today, demolishing the automobile, but the occupants escaped uninjured.

The men in the car were Privates W. J. Held and M. Irving, U. S. A., stationed at the Aberdeen proving grounds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—While President Coolidge's special train was here this morning additional details were learned from newspaper men on the train of the collision at Aberdeen, Md.

It was said that the automobile was driven directly into the path of the train in spite of the fact that crossing gates were down. The President and Mrs. Coolidge were sleeping at the time in the last coach of the five-car train. The impact was so great that the front trucks of the locomotve were lifted off the rails and the special was delayed about ten minutes. The train was said to have been traveling about 45 miles an hour.

Woman, 101, Walks to Polls.

By the Associated Press.

HOKAH, Minn., Nov. 2.—Despite her 101 years, Mrs. Dorothy Reed Smith Dunham walked unaided into the voting booth and cast her ballot today. "I think any person who can, and does not vote in a shirker," Mrs. Dunham remarked as she voted.

HEAVY VOTE INDICATES CITY TOTAL OF 200,000

Canvass Discloses Brisk Balloting in West End and Central Wards—River Precincts Quiet.

75 TO 80 PER CENT TURNOUT EXPECTED

Greatest Rush to Polling Places Yet to Come, Just Before Closing, Between 4 and 7 P. M.

More than 26 per cent of the city's registered vote for today's Congressional, State and local election was cast up to 1:30 p. m., it appeared from a telephone canvass of selected precincts in each of the 28 wards at that time. The proportion of the vote cast in those precincts indicated, for the entire city, that nearly 74,000 votes were cast in the first 7½ hours, or somewhat more than half, of the voting day.

The latter half of the day is the heavier voting time, as shown in previous elections since women have had the ballot. Political workers figure that the day's total vote will be more than 200,000, which would be 72 per cent of the registration of 276,345, and that possibly 75 or 80 per cent may be reached.

The polling places in the city's 624 precincts, which opened at 6 a. m., will close at 7 p. m.

In the afternoon canvass, it was found that the vote cast in the various precincts ranged from less than one-fourth to slightly more than one-third of the registration for those precincts. A Twenty-fifth Ward precinct showed more than one-third of the registrants as having voted, while river wards and some residence districts showed much less of a vote. In the Thirteenth, a large residence ward, much less than one-fourth of the vote had been cast.

Previous canvasses showed about 20 per cent of the city's vote cast at 11:30 a. m., and 13 per cent at 9:30.

Today was a holiday in all municipal offices, and banks were closed.

City Employes at Polls.

City employes generally were working in their own wards for the Republican ticket, under orders which are based on the idea that each employe should bring in 25 Republican votes. Not all the 6000 city employes, outside the Police Department, were available, as one-half the firemen, the waterworks employes and a few others had to remain at their regular duty. But the Republican organization has enough workers not in the city's employ to make up for these, and it was estimated that on an average, 10 persons were working for all or a part of the day in every city precinct, for the locally dominant party.

Besides these workers, volunteers worked near polling places for Proposition No. 2, which looks toward a police pension system, and No. 1, for the workmen's compensation law. Many of the workers for No. 2 were the wives and daughters of policemen.

Fair weather, with freezing temperatures in the early hours, prevailed throughout Missouri today. The cold was not such as to interfere with voting, but it kept outdoor workers, near polling places, on their toes.

Offices to Be Voted On.

Every voter in St. Louis found on his ballot the names of candidates for the United States Senate, short and long terms; two State offices; the national House of Representatives; four circuit judgeships, one of them for a short term; two other judgeships; one State senatorship, 3 or 4 seats in the lower House of the Legislature; eight local offices; one Justice of the Peace and one Constable, or in two of the nine districts, two Justices and two Constables.

In one of the three congressional districts, the Eleventh, a short and a long term were to be filled; in the Tenth and Twelfth, the long term only.

Four proposals calling for a statewide vote were on the constitutional ballot. Each is voted upon by scratching No to vote Yes, or scratching Yes to vote No. Yes on No. 1 means to ratify the workmen's compensation law passed by the Legislature, No means to reject it. On No. 2, Yes means to amend the State Constitution to make it possible for St. Louis to establish a police pension

ELECTION TO TELL WHICH PARTY WILL RULE IN CONGRESS

Democrats Claim Landslide but Republicans Say They Will Keep Control of Both Houses.

PROHIBITION ISSUE IN EIGHT STATES

Present Minority Party Must Wrest Nine Seats From G. O. P. to Gain Margin in the Senate.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Control of the Seventieth Congress and of nearly two-thirds of the state governments, as well as the extent to which prohibition is likely to figure in political affairs in the near future, are the major issues resting on the outcome of today's elections.

Democratic leaders still claim a landslide will enable them to wrest control of both the Senate and the House from the Republicans. On the other hand, spokesmen for the Republicans declared such contentions were optimistic bubbles that would burst with the counting of the votes.

To obtain control of the Senate, the Democratic party will have to pick up nine seats now held by Republicans, while they must carry 36 congressional districts to get a majority of the House. Many of the Republican senatorial togas at stake were won in the Harding landslide in 1920 and the House that is asking another tenure of office came into power in the Coolidge tidal wave of 1924.

Democrats Sure of Seven Senators.

Democratic managers maintain that with the presidency not now at stake they can count on a number of turnovers involving seats in both Houses. They also call attention to the fact that the seven Democratic Senators to be elected are from the solid South where victory is certain.

The four border states—Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri and Oklahoma and Arizona as well—are listed by the Democrats as already off the Republican list. Refusing to concede this, the Republicans claim that in even these states, which frequently are found in the Democratic column, will remain within the G. O. P. fold.

Other states in which the Democrats believe they have a better than even chance are Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, Illinois and Colorado. In Idaho, Indiana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Washington, they claim at least fighting chances.

Republicans say all these states will be held in their present political status. The Republicans likewise are confident that few if any inroads will be made in their ranks in the House. Democratic leaders insist they will carry at least six Republican districts in Pennsylvania; will recapture a number of House seats that went to the Republican column in the Coolidge victory two years ago, and also win some districts which they contend are dissatisfied with administration policies.

Dry Issue in Eight States.

In many of the contests for Senate and House seats, prohibition has run through the whole fabric of the campaign and in eight states the voters are expressing their views on this question in referendums. These states are Missouri, New York, Nevada, Wisconsin, Illinois, Montana, Colorado and California. The proposals put forward range all the way from repeal of all State prohibition enforcement codes to expressions of sentiment for guidance of Representatives in Congress.

In Maryland, which has refused to adopt a State enforcement code, a last-minute twist was given the campaign by the Association Against Prohibition Amendment which repudiated its indorsement of Senator Weller (Rep.) and came out for Representative Millard Tydings, his Democratic opponent.

New York and Ohio.

Because of a possible relation to the presidential year, 1928, campaigns in New York, Maryland and Ohio held more than their customary share of the political spotlight. Gov. Alfred E. Smith, whose long battle for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1924 is historic, again is putting his political future to the test in the Empire State. The Governor, however, did not alone hold the center of interest in New York's heated contest, as Senator Wadsworth found himself in a three-cornered race with his power in the Republican State organization challenged because of his stand on prohibition. Atlee Pomerene seeks to regain in Ohio the Senate seat he lost four years ago, and should he succeed, many political dopesters believe he would loom as a figure on the Democratic presidential list. In Maryland, Gov. Ritchie, who drew a scattering vote at Madison Square Garden in 1924, is attempting to obtain another gubernatorial term.

The Weather Bureau today reported rain this morning at New York, New Haven, Albany, Canton, Savannah, Montgomery, Pensacola, Meridian, New Orleans Corpus Christi and Helena, and snow at Portland, Me., Syracuse, Buffalo and Marquette, Mich. In New York City and some other places the skies cleared during the morning, rsulting in speeding up of voting.

Clear Weather Expected to Bring Out Heavy Vote in Illinois.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Sunshine and keen political interest brought out a heavy vote in Chicago in the first hour of balloting in the general election today. The three-cornered senatorial race and competition for local offices were expected to bring out a large percentage of the approximately 800,000 registered votes. As a result of reported irregularities, County Judge Jarecki relieved from duty the entire Election Board in the Seventh Precinct of the Twentieth Ward, on the West Side, where frauds were uncovered by recent special grand juries. Morris Eller, Republican nominee for one of the three Sanitary District trustees, is party chief in the ward.

Clear weather was promised for all of Illinois today.

SENATOR REED ENDS CAMPAIGN FOR HAWES AND GOES HUNTING

By the Associated Press.

TRENTON, Mo., Nov. 2.—Reiterating the charge that "the red line of the circumference of the circle of corruption runs across the White House ground, and passes through the heart of the Coolidge administration," Senator James A. Reed closed his campaign on behalf of the Democratic senatorial nominee, Harry B. Hawes, with a speech here last night.

Reed had expected to find a rival political rally, which was scheduled to be addressed by former Gov. Hyde. The Hyde rally was called off as a mark of courtesy to the visiting Senator, the Republican leaders announced. Hyde lives here.

Senator Williams came in for some joshing on the score of his proposed amendment at the constitutional convention to include women under military control during war times.

"The Negroes of darkest Africa would be insulted if asked to make their women fight for them," Reed declared.

Reed charged that when the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill was before the Senate, Senator Williams came to him three times and asked him if he thought the bill was constitutional. Each time, Reed said, he answered in the negative and that the last time Senator Williams said that he did not think the bill constitutional either. Then, 45 minutes later, Senator Williams voted for the bill.

Reed made his speech without mentioning the name of Hyde and only making one reference to him. This came when the Senator was giving his reasons for opposition to many proposed changes in government.

"One of the greatest minds in all Missouri, a mind so great that no ordinary hat can serve as a temple for it, has been discharging itself against me because I haven't been doing a lot of things. But I am discussing the consequential, and do not want to take up your time with that."

After the speech Reed left for Kansas City. He will go duck hunting today.

PROTEST AGAINST U. S. OFFICERS AT POLLS

Charleston Mo., Holds Indignation Meeting—Marshal Denies Sending Deputies.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHARLESTON, Mo., Nov. 2.—More than 50 residents of Mississippi County, at a meeting last night in the courthouse adopted resolutions protesting against presence of Federal officers in the county on election service. The sending of Feedral officers here was termed "an insult."

Each general election there is friction in this and adjoining counties over the Negro vote. Republican politicians invariably charge that Democratic farmers refuse to permit the Negroes to vote, and Democratic politicians charge that the Republicans attempt to vote Negroes who are ineligible.

It was learned at the Federal Building here that several Department of Justice agents had been sent into the Southeast Missouri counties to watch voting. In the election two years ago about 100 men were specially deputized by United States Marshal Hukriede for this service, the expenses of most of them being paid by the Republican State Committee. Hukriede today said he had deputized nobody for this election and that there were no deputy marshals in any of the southeastern counties.

12 Arrested at Polls in Kansas City Released on rWits.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 2.—Arrests, alleged police intimidation and the buying of votes marked the voting here today. Shortly after the polls opened 12 arrests wer mad. Those arested were soon released on writs of habeas corpus. It was alleged by newspapers that the releases were brought about by the Democratic organization. The arrest of Frank Benanti, Justice of the Peace, was denied by Chief of Police Shreeve. Three writs were served on Shreeve this afternoon, ordring the production of three men arrested during the morning. It was said they were arrested for being intoxicated and would be released later. More than 50,000 votes had been cast this afternoon. A total vote of 125,000 is expected.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Nov. 2.—Voting was about normal during the first few hours today, the women voters waiting until afternoon to visit the polls. A spirited campaign by county officers here is likely to result in an extremely heavy vote. The weather is clear and cold.

By the Associated Press.

SEDALIA, Mo., Nov. 2.—Voting in Pettis County was light up to the middle of this forenoon, but fair skies indicate a heavy poll later in the day.

By the Associated Press.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 2.—With weather conditions ideal, it is expected that a heavy vote will be cast here at today's election, although the early vote is light. Women are taking a greater interest in the election than usual.

By the Associated Press.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Nov. 2.—Election day started quietly this morning with indications of a smaller vote than in 1924, when 8351 votes were cast in the city.

By the Associated Press.

MOBERLY, Mo., Nov. 2.—A light vote was cast in Moberly this morning, with fair weather prevailing. The Democrats have the only ticket in the field in the county election.

By the Associated Press.

JOPLIN, Mo., Nov. 2.—Voting was brisk in several precincts here early today. Many of those to vote early were women. Weather conditions are ideal.

By the Associated Press.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., Nov. 2.—With crisp, fair weather and dry roads, a normal vote is looked for here. Voters went to the polls early.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 2.—With fair weather prevailing here today, a reasonably heavy vote is expected by party leaders in spite of the fact there has been lack of interest in the election throughout Greene County. Voting this morning was light. The citizens' organization against proposition No. 4 is doing much toward getting out the Springfield vote, as this city is State headquarters of the W. C. T. U.

TRACING OWNER OF CLOTHING FOUND IN ORMISTON'S TRUNK

Police Seek to Identify Mrs. McPherson as Purchaser of Dresses Seized Receptacle Contains.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2.—District Attorney's investigators started a final search in the city's exclusive shopping district today for evidence with which they seek to prove Aimee Semple McPherson was the woman who spent 10 days in a Carmel (Cal.) cottage with Kenneth G. Ormiston.

The tour of the shops will be an attempt to identify the Angelus Temple evangelist as the purchaser of an array of costly articles of wearing apparel found in a trunk recently seized in New York as the property of Ormiston. The trunk was found to contain 67 articles of women's apparel. Among its contents also, Keyes said, were eight long strands of auburn hair and a mother-of-pearl pendant, which, the prosecution says, was purchased by Mrs. McPherson during her tour of Palestine last spring. A strand of red hair, found inside of a boudoir cap when the Ormiston trunk was first opened in New York, is also in Keyes' possession.

Two pairs of expensive shoes found in the trunk were traced to an exclusive shop which Mrs. McPherson is known to have frequently patronized.

Keyes yesterday filed the prosecution's brief in the evanglist's case in Municipal Court. Mrs. McPherson, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, Ormiston and others, are charged with conspiracy to manufacture evidence in support of the story of kidnaping Mrs. McPherson to explain her disappearance last spring.

The defense brief also was filed by W. I. Gilbert, attorney for Mrs. McPherson. It contended that the defendants committed no crime, and that no perjury could have existed in Mrs. McPherson's story to the grand jury if the District Attorney is correct in his assertion that the kidnapers who the evangelist says held her captive, did not exist. This being the case, Gilbert maintains she was privileged to tell any story she pleased to account for her absence.

Charges of embezzlement, including alleged improper use of a special investigation fund, filed against Keyes by the Los Angeles County Supervisors, were dismissed in Municipal Court here yesterday at the request of State's Attorney-General Webb.

SLAIN GUNMAN IDENTIFIED BY TWO BROTHERS OF ONE

Woman Found Dead With Cunniffe in Detroit Unknown to Them, However.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 2.—James ("Killer") Cunniffe and William Olsen, gunmen, killed in a shooting affray here Sunday, were identified today by Cunniffe's brothers, Thomas and Daniel, upon their arrival from New York.

Olsen, they said, was known to them as Thomas Connelly, with whom James Cunniffe grew up. They were unable, however, to identify the woman found dead in the apartment with Cunniffe.

"They were tough as boys and they were tougher as men," the brothers said of the dead men. "James is better dead. All his life he brought disgrace to the family. Mother is 68 years old and the shame of his crimes was almost more than she could bear."

The brothers, one a metal lather and the other a dairy employe, said they would bury Cunniffe here.

No members of the Cunniffe family had seen James for four years, they said.

Two Negroes Held After Shooting.

Four shots at Eighteenth and Biddle streets last night attracted policemen, who found William Haskin, Negro, of 324 South Twenty-third street, with a revolver in his hand. Witnesses said he had been shooting at John McCartney, Negro, of 2001 Wash street, with whom he had quarreled. Haskin and McCartney, who was not hurt, were both held for Police Court.

CONGRESSMAN DENIES HE IS PLEDGED TO SUPPORT DRYS

E. M. Irwin at Polling Place to Refute Statement in Belleville Paper Yesterday.

Congressman Ed M. Irwin of Belleville, a candidate for re-election, was at his polling place, in the first precinct fo the second ward in Belleville today, informing voters that the statement in a Belleville newspaper yesterday to the effect that he has pledged himself to support prohibition in return for the backing of the Anti-Saloon League is "an absolute lie."

To further refute the statement, which he called "an eleventh-hour attack," Congressman Irwin issued circulars in Belleville today in which he said he is "wet" and added: "I have never at any time sought an indorsement from the Anti-Saloon League and if it has indorsed my candidacy for Congress it has done so without my consent and against my wishes."

"Wets" are in a large majority in the district represented by Irwin.

Stubborn Bronchial Coughs

You can't stop chronic bronchial cough with cough syrups or lozenges. Don't try. Get a bottle of Mentho-Kreoamo (M-K) and take it at once. Within a few hours' time your cough will be relieved, fever reduced, your condition greatly improved.

Mentho-Kreoamo (M-K) is the discovery of an Illinois physician and specialist. It is intended particularly for the stubborn bronchial coughs and those following prolonged attacks of Flu, Grippe and Pneumonia infection.

It will check the progress of infection and break up an ordinary cough or cold in 12 hours and prevent the serious consequences which so often follow neglect.

Druggists supply Mentho-Kreoamo with positive guarantee of results or money back.

system, and No means that the Constitution shall not be so amended. On No. 3, Yes means to adopt a so-called workmen's compensation law conflicting with No. 1, and No means to reject the proposal. On No. 4, Yes, means to repeal the State prohibition law, and No means to retain that law.

Two Charter Amendments.

Two other Yes-No proposals, of a local character only, are being voted upon. They are proposed amendments to the City Charter, to increase the salary of Aldermen from $1800 to $3000 a year, and to increase the salary of the President of the Board of Aldermen from $3000 to $5000. The total increase would amount to $35,600 a year.

Sam W. Fordyce, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, in a statement yesterday, took the position that orders of the Republican City Committee to city employes to vote and work for Republican candidates in the election today constituted intimidation and duress, and were contrary to law. Fordyce said the Democratic State Committee would provide counsel free to any city employe whose position was threatened because of a failure to obey political orders. He also said it was his intention, if evidence came to him of the orders being carried into effect, to insist upon Federal and State senatorial investigations of the election.

Mayor Miller, as was told yesterday, has issued a formal statement that city employes directly or indirectly under him are free to vote and work as they please, and that no one will be discharged, reduced or promoted, or made the subject of either unfavorable or favorable discrimination because of any act in connection with the election.

About 20 Per Cent of County Vote Cast at 1:30 P. M.

A telephone canvass of 10 scattered precincts out of the 121 in St. Louis County at 1:30 p. m. today indicated that about 10,000 votes had been cast at that time, or about 20 per cent of the total registration.

Negro Arrested on Liquor Charge at Polling Place.

The first arrest in connection with the election occurred at 1 p. m., when a Negro who said he was Roscoe Berry, 38 years old, of 3410 Franklin avenue, was arrested on a liquor charge near a polling place at 1210 North Jefferson avenue. The patrolman making the arrest reported finding a half-pint of moonshine whisky in Berry's inner coat pocket. Berry had voted a few minutes prior to his arrest.

Hang Chung Accused of Killing Greenville, Miss., Chinese Fled Here in Red Taxi.

A Chinese youth, a blind Negro minister and a Negro chauffeur, riding in a red taxicab with a Mississippi license, were arrested at 3 a. m. today on Eads Bridge.

The Chinese accused of murder in the shooting of a Chinese storekeeper at Greenville, had picked a strange company and a strange vehicle in which to flee. Detectives had been stationed at all the Mississippi bridges since 11 p. m. when authorities at Greenville telephoned a description of the party and the machine, which was easily recognized.

When the car drew up, the Chinese was not in sight. At the wheel was Ike Young of Greenville and his only visible passenger was the Rev. Aaron Byers of Cleveland, Miss. On the floor of the car, crouching under a rug was the Chinese. He said he was Hang Chung, 19 years old, of Chicago. Beyond that he professed inability to speak English.

Jones declared all he knew was that Hang had paid his boss $10 for a taxi trip to Chicago Sunday morning. The Rev. Mr. Byers related that Hang came to his home and invited him to ride to Chicago. Being blind he said he was unaware Hang had crawled under the rug.

A Greenville Deputy Sheriff is on his way to St. Louis. Authorities there related today that Hang Chung and George Kun, arrived from Cleveland Saturday night and called on Joe Suey, a storekeeper. Joe was found dead in the morning, and George Kun is held.

NORRIS GRANTED CHANGE OF VENUE IN MURDER TRIAL

Member of Church Says Many Expressed Desire to Get on Jury "and Break His Neck."

MAYOR HIRED LAWYERS FOR STATE

Testifies at Change of Venue Hearing That He Acts Out of Loyalty to Man Pastor Killed.

By the Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 2.—A change of venue was granted late this afternoon in the trial of Dr. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist Church, charged with the murder of D. E. Chipps. The application for the change was made by attorneys for Norris, who maintained he could not get an impartial trial in this county.

When Judge Hosey, presiding, announced that he would grant the change, State Attorney Hanger and Attorney McLean for the prosecution protested against granting it upon "uncontested testimony." Before making the announcement the Judge asked veniremen who had formed an opinion to hold up their hands. A majority did so.

Some witnesses said they had heard it remarked frequently that Norris "ought to be hung," that "he ought to have his neck broken," that "he ought to be shot," while just as many said he ought to go free. These witnesses were presented by the defense in an effort to show widespread prejudice.

Churchmen Check Panel.

A meeting of 300 First Baptist church members was held last Sunday at the church to go over the list of 500 veniremen to find out whether any of them was known to be unfavorable to Norris, A. F. Plunkett, furniture salesman, testified. He said Dayton Moses, attorney for the defense, presided and that copies of the venire list were passed out and some took the lists home.

"Did Brother Moses preach to you?" Attorney Sam Sayers for the prosecution asked. "No, he presided."

"If there is a combination it appears to be some place else than on the State's side," Sayers added.

Moses asked the witness if this were not a meeting of church members who are "standing four square behind their pastor who is charged with murder," and if the meeting were not for the purpose of acquainting defense counsel with prospective jurors so counsel could be prepared to exercise their peremptory challenges intelligently. Plunkett replied in the affirmative.

J. B. Davis, a railway mail clerk, a member of Dr. Norris' church, testified he had "heard" men say they would like to get on the jury and break his damn neck."

Davis said he had voluntarily contributed $10 to the pastor's defense.

When the witness said he had heard fixed opinions on the case all the way from Fort Worth to Amarillo, Attorney McLean asked if he didn't think the case, therefore, should be taken to some other State, but an objection to the question was sustained.

"Isn't it a fact that since the shooting, Norris had gone all over this country preaching?" a prosecution attorney asked. "I saw that in the papers," Davis answered.

"And you believe what you see in the papers?" "Yes."

"Have you heard it stated he wanted to disqualify jurors?" "I understand he was on a religious campaign."

"You mean he was conducting a religious campaign just before going on trial for murder?" "Well, yes, it was before his trial."

Didn't Pay Much Attention.

When Davis said he had heard some say they'd like to get on the jury and make a "trade" with the State, Judge George Hosey, presiding, took him in hand.

"You mean to say you heard a man say they would accept a bribe from the prosecution and did not report?" the Judge asked. "Well, I didn't pay much attention to it, I just passed it up," Davis said.

Davis said Dr. Norris' church members were very militant in the pastor's behalf.

"Do you mean they are so strong for him that they would try to find out how prospective jurors stood?" Attorney McLean asked. "Have you heard they called up members of jurors' families?"

Davis answered that he did not know.

P. M. Dean, member of Norris' church, said he had not contributed a dime to "the lawyers' funds," but had given some "extra money which went through the regular budget."

Judge Rebukes Defense Counsel.

"You didn't put in $15,000, did you?" Attorney Marvin Simpson for the defense asked. Mayor H. C. Meacham yesterday testified he was paying special prosecutors a $15,000 fee in this case. When Simpson asked this question again later, the Judge instructed him to desist and, when Simpson rose to explain the Judge commanded him to sit down. Simpson persisted and Judge Rebukes Defense Counsel.

"You didn't put in $15,000, did you?" Attorney Marvin Simpson for the defense asked. Mayor H. C. Meacham yesterday testified he was paying special prosecutors a $18,000 fee in this case. When Simpson asked this question again later, the Judge instructed him to desist and, when Simpson rose to explain the Judge commanded him to sit down. Simpson persisted and the Judge said: "If you want me to be hard on you, just keep on."

Simpson sat down with the remark that he was trying to do his duty regardless of consequences.

Dean testified he had not heard anybody say Norris ought to have his neck broken.

L. R. Barton, a member of the First Baptist Church, said he had contributed $250 to the defense. State's Attorney Robert Hanger asked if the whole church membership had contributed to "the lawyers' fund," but when Attorney Simpson asked if the church had given as much as $15,000 to the lawyers' fund, Judge Hosey sustained an objection.

Norris Smiles.

Norris sat through this phase of the case with hands folded over his head, his chair tilted back, but with his eyes fixed on the witnesses, as they told of strong opinions which they said exist here on the pastor's guilt or innocence. He smiled at the "neck-breaking" remark.

Clay Cooke, an attorney, said the newspapers had been full of propaganda almost every day since Chipps was killed last July 17.

"I have discussed the case with a man on this jury panel, but that was before he was summoned for this trial," he said. "Norris has made some of the staunchest friends here a man ever had and he has made some of the bitterest enemies."

Earnest Thielman, a traveling salesman, said he had heard many say Norris "ought to be hung," and others that he ought to go free.

L. M. Boatwright of Johnson Station, Tex., said in his cummunity "some say he ought to be shot, others he ought to be run out. He absolutely could not get a fair trial."

Sterling P. Clark, former Sheriff, said practically every person "who can read and write" had made up his mind on the case.

Mayor's Testimony.

A friendship that did not end with death has been revealed at the trial.

The story was told yesterday by Mayor H. C. Meacham, in whose behalf Chipps visited Dr. Norris in his study last July to protest against attacks in the church publication on the Mayor. On this visit Chipps was shot.

The Mayor, called by the defense to testify on the change of venue application, explained that he had retained a firm of lawyers to prosecute Norris and had obligated himself to pay a fee of $15,000 for this service. When asked why he had done this, he said:

"Because Chipps was my friend. I considered it my duty to him. He would have done as much for me."

Mayor Hired Prosecutors.

It had been announced previously that the special prosecutors had been retained by Mrs. E. D. Chipps, divorced wife of the man for whose slaying Norris has been indicted, but Meacham said he alone had hired the special prosecutors out of a sense of obligation to his dead friend.

The Mayor, who is a principal witness for the State on events leading up to the shooting of Chipps, was the first witness called by the defense to substantiate their allegation that Norris cannot obtain a fair trial in Tarrant County because of prejudice against him.

In his application for the transfer, Norris charged that Meacham had attempted to poison public opinion against him and had entered into a "combination" with Catholics and "other enemies" of the Baptist pastor to prosecute him.

Feelings "Not Friendly."

Meacham was questioned concerning a meeting of citizens held some time prior to Chipps' death and admitted that Norris' attitude toward the administration had been discussed there, but said the purpose of the meeting was to discuss a proposed tax survey.

The Mayor said that his feelings toward Norris "certainly were not friendly," and that sometimes he doubted whether Norris was "perfectly sane."

Meacham was asked if he had read City Manager Carr's statement that the latter would offer a "$1000 reward to anyone who would prove that Chipps was not murdered in cold blood." The witness said the statement had been generally discussed and that he had heard it, although he was out of the city at the time the statement was published.

The defense has summoned more witnesses to testify as to whether they believe it would be possible to get a jury from Tarrant County residents to try Norris fairly.

Dr. Webb Walker, a physician, said he had heard so many fixed opinions about the guilt or innocence of the defendant that he had come to the conclusion that a jury of 12 could not be found in this county.

Joe B. Wills, a contractor, testified to a similar effect.

In his trial on a charge of perjury in conection with threatening letters written to himself and to the chairman of his church board in 1912 and again in his trial on a charge of arson in connection with the burning of his church and parsonage a few months later, Norris asked for change of venue. The motions were denied in both cases.

FOUR CHILDREN SERIOUSLY ILL OF PTOMAINE POISONING

Four children became seriously ill of ptomaine poisoning today, after they had eaten custard pie for breakfast. They are Bernard, 7; Genevieve, 6, and Lydia, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Davis, 4578 St. Louis avenue, and Laura Calvert, 12, sister of Mrs. Davis, and living with her.

The children were preparing to go to school this morning when they became ill. A neighborhood physician diagnosed their condition as ptomaine poisoning. The children were taken to City Hospital where the diagnosis was confirmed, and their condition pronounced serious.

Mrs. Davis told police she sent to a confectionery at St. Louis and Cora avenues for a custard pie this morning. The pie was cut into six parts, and each child had one. The remaining slices were put aside, and will be sent to the city chemist for analysis.

FIRE DOORS PREVENT SPREAD OF FLAMES IN GLUE PLANT

Heavy Damage, However, in Area to Which Blaze Is Confined; 15 False Alarms.

Fire, starting above a grease vat in the glue room of the Missouri Glue Co., 5310 North Second street, at 9:5 p. m. yesterday, caused heavy damage, the amount of which the officers of the company declined to estimate. It was covered by insurance.

Automatic fire doors prevented spread of the fire to other parts of the building. The roof of the glue room collapsed 45 minutes after the fire was discovered. Eight men who were working in the building escaped injury.

Other fires yesterday included one in a condemned building at 2626 Olive street, at which Capt. John Gavin of Engine Co. No. 4 was cut on the forehead by flying glass, and in a two-story frame dwelling at 8634 Park Lane, where damage of $3650 to building and contents was caused. Fifteen false alarms were answered during the day.

SMITH CONFIDENT OF WINNING

PONTIAC, Ill., Nov. 2.—Frank L. Smith came to the home folks last night to close his campaign for the United States Senate. "Confident of what the verdict will be, I make to you, my home people, this pledge in behalf of the people of Illinois," the Republican nominee said. "In return for your faith in me, I will in the United States Senate and out of it carry on for the common welfare, make the best fight I can to promote your happiness and your prosperity, and return to you at the end of of my term, your commission of service unstained by any act unworthy of an honest servant." He then went to Dwight, his home town, where he will receive election returns.

Slayer of Husband Sentenced

By the Associated Press

CADIZ, O., Nov. 2.—Mrs. Harry Webster of Columbus, convicted of manslaughter for the killing of her husband, was sentenced today to one to 20 years' imprisonment in the Marysville women's prison. Her attorney, backed by women's organizations, filed notice of an appeal to Circuit Court. At the trial Mrs. Webster claimed her husband was killed by the accidental discharge of a pistol during a quarrel.

PUT SHELTONS OUT OF HOTEL, SO GANG IS OUT TO GET HIM

This Is Story of Art Newman, Bootlegger, Formerly of East St. Louis, Under Arrest Here.

The violent antipathy toward Art Newman, bootlegger and former East St. Louis hotel proprietor, by the Shelton gang, one of the warring factions in the Williamson County whisky feud, was explained today by Newman, who was arrested here last night with two other gunmen and his wife.

Newman and the men with him are avowed supporters of Charley Birger, Williamson County gambler, bootlegger and gunman. Less than a month ago Newman and his wife were fired upon near Harrisburg, Ill., Birger's home town, by Shelton machine gunners who wounded Mrs. Newman.

"I have left East St. Louis permanently," Newman explained to reporters this morning after giving his residence as Memphis, Tenn., "but I got mixed up in this Birger-Shelton fight when I came back a month ago with my wife to visit her mother, who was dying."

Gang Swore to Kill Newman.

Newman, who freely stated that he was now a Memphis bootlegger, declared that his enmity to the Shelton boys, Carl, Earl and Bernie, dated back many months, and asserted they had sworn to kill him for a slight upon them.

"All the fight between the Sheltons and me, and between the Sheltons and Charley Birger, grows out of whisky," Newman said. "I met the Sheltons four years ago. They had some up from Williamson County flat broke. S. Glenn Young was raiding with his klansmen down there then and a friend who introduced the Sheltons said they were down and out and asked me to help them.

"I was running the Arlington Hotel in East St. Louis then and dealing in booze, too. So I took the Sheltons, gave them a little money and put them on their feet. One of them owes me $1800 right now.

"Well, anyhow, after a while they got pretty chesty, carrying automatics and strutting around my hotel as if they owned it. I didn't mind that so much, but it worried Mrs. Newman, and finally I told th boys they'd better leave. They were dealing in whisky at the time and making money at it.

"I guess they got sore when I told them to get out. Anyhow they tried to frame me more than a year ago by calling me up and telling me to see a man in East St. Louis who had some good liquor at rock bottom prices. It was Charlie Gordon. As I talked to him, he pulled out his automatic and put it on me.

Shoots Way Out of Frameup.

"I saw the frame right away, grabbed the pistol and killed him. Later I was acquitted of the killing, but I know that the whole thing was a frameup to kill me.

"With the Sheltons acting like they were, I decided to go to Memphis. Their crowd is pretty hot. One of them has eight notches on his pistol and another six and I don't want to be mixed up with them. But even at Memphis I was threatened with death. They have taken on a bunch of Cuckoo gangsters to help them against Birger and they're pretty strong."

Newman said that after his mother-in-law's funeral in East St. Louis about three weeks ago he and his wife visited the Birger home at Harrisburg and it was near there that they were fired on by gangsters. The Newman car was riddled with machine gun bullets, one of which struck Mrs. Newman in the leg.

"Birger is my friend," Newman concluded as he told of that shooting. "He means business and he'll show the Sheltons where to head in. The whole story down there is that the Sheltons want to be kings of the Williamson County whisky and roadhouse business, and Charley Birger isn't going to let them."

Newman and those with him gave fictitious names when arrested last night in an automobile at Broadway and Franklin avenue. Two pistols were found in the car. One of the men gave the Bray Hotel, 3535½ Olive street, as his address, however, and a search of rooms there disclosed a letter from a Vincennes (Ind.) man to Birger, and other papers which convinced police that one of their prisoners was Newman.

Later Newman admitted his identity and that of his wife. The others said they were Rado Millich of Duquoin, Ill., and Freddie Wooten of St. Louis. Both are well known in Williamson County as adherents of Birger. They had been living at the Bray Hotel for a week, as had the Newmans. All were held under the law which permits the police to detain suspects for 20 hours.

Millich refused this morning to discuss his activities in the gang feud, but Wooten was ready to declare his dislike for the Shelton gang, a member of which, he related, had sold him a stolen car on the representation that it was a bona fide transaction, and then had caused his arrest in Columbus, Ga., by Federal officers.

Wooten denied that he was a Birger gunman, declaring he was engaged in running whisky from Florida. He said he was here to get affidavits to show that he bought the automobile without knowing it was stolen and was carrying a pistol because the Shelton gang had threatened to kill him.

Incidentally, he said, the Cuckoo Gang and their conferees of the "East Side Mob" had been aroused against Newman and Birger, by a report given them by one of the Shelton crowd that Newman had raided a still of the gang near Maryville. Wooten declared that as a matter of fact the Shelton gang had held up the still tenders and taken their alcohol.

During today's morning "showup," when the prisoners passed before the assembled detectives on a lighted stage in a darkened room, Chief Gerk ordered his men to arrest any participants in the Williamson County war any time they saw them here.

"That includes these three," Gerk said, pointing to the three prisoners. "If I had my way I'd keep them here until their beards grew to their knees."

Riverman Re-exploring Mississippi in a Skiff

Most Interesting of Streams, More Picturesque Than Hudson, Says Lewis R. Freeman—St. Louis More Romantic Than New Orleans.

RIVER ADVENTURER

LEWIS R. FREEMAN.

"A very fine trip," he remarked, "if you'll accept a river rat's opinion."

Which was quite modest of Lewis R. Freeman, writer, explorer, adventurer. He had shortly before tied up his small skiff at the river front, following a 1200-mile trip down the Mississippi from Itasca Park, Minn. He is by no means a river rat, except that he has the habit of thinking of himself as a river rat when on rivers, a mountaineer when in the mountains and a salty gob when sailing the seas. He has roughed it around the world.

Looking from the window of his room at the Missouri Athletic Association—it was open because he dislikes the smell of steam heat—he saw the Mississippi at St. Louis, pronounced it a splendid sight, and added, "Do you folks here appreciate your river?"

More Beautiful Than Hudson.

"I enjoyed myself coming down. History all the way—Joliet, Marquette, Hennepin, La Salle—and scenically it has the Hudson beat a mile."

Freeman is an authority on rivers. He has shot the upper rapids of the Colorado and written a book about it. He has boated the Irrawaddy and the Yangtze-Kiang. He crossed the Rhine as a newspaper correspondent in the war and later as official historian of the Allied Naval Armistice Commission to Germany. He knows white water and muddy yellow water.

"You know," he continued, "I should think this river would be exploited more. It is the most interesting of any I know. I should imagine that a steamboat company could advertise feature tourist trips down the Mississippi, charge first-class passenger rates and make a success of it. Of course, I understand the river traffic in freight is being revived, but it seems to me passenger travel would return if properly developed."

Will Speak Here Friday.

Freeman left Itasca Park early in October to boat the length of the Mississippi, gathering material and photographs for one of his series of articles in the National Geographic Magazine. It will take him another month to complete the trip. He is to speak before the Missouri Historical Society at Jefferson Memorial Friday evening on "Explorations of the Upper Colorado by William Ashley, Famous St. Louis Fur Trader."

"Well, he'd find a great deal of material in New Orleans, wouldn't he?

"New Orleans? Oh, yes, but St. Louis is far more interesting," he said. "There is more significant history here. This city was the supply post for all the great Northwest. The route northwestward really started at St. Louis. The traders and trappers who opened up the country outfitted at St. Louis. I'm here to speak on William Ashley. There was a character. He wrote a journal about shooting the rapids of the upper Colorado. I went over his route in a better boat than he had, and I appreciate how modestly he told of his experiences."

Finds Romance in St. Louis.

The visitor watched King George shoot tigers after the Indian durbar in 1911. He had been a correspondent in the Russo-Japanese war. He personally has inspected the Columbia icefield beyond the continental divide, many islands in the South Seas. As correspondent of the London Times he went with the United States fleet to Australia. During the World War he was attached to the British Navy, writing descriptions of the war on the sea for English and American papers. But for all that, Freeman spoke with enthusiasm of the romance which lies at the door of St. Louis.

"I stopped at Hannibal on my way down," he said. "That's a great old river town. I went through Mark Twain's cave and say—have you ever been through? Some of the names on the walls date back to the '50s. I saw Becky Thatcher's real name scribbled on the cave and Admiral Coontz when a boy wrote his name in some sort of paint. I spent a delightful two hours in the cave.

"Another sight I had always wanted to see was Pike County. What makes Pike County so famous? No matter where you go in the world some one is sure to ask you about Pike County. I pulled up at Louisiana for a night. Slept in a shanty boat on the bank. Slept darn well, too. I walked about the town—friendly people, Pike countians are. They nod to you on the street. Damn charming. Louisiana is a fine old town. It has flavor."

The reporter explained that Pike County is famous for Champ Clark, Stark's delicious apples, the song, "I Come From Old Missouri, All the Way From Pike," and the fable that this county produced the first typical Missourian. Freeman said he was charmed with these bits of local history.

Got Kick Out of Rapids.

His trip down the river was without unusual happenings, he said, except: "I tried to shoot the old rapids at Rock Island. I got quite a kick out of it. My skiff has an outboard motor, and isn't built especially for work in rough water. There was a swell from a steamboat and these waves crossed the current of the rapids. The water was quite hard to read. I shipped quite a lot in the boat and several times I thought I was gone. All my things were loose in the boat. I couldn't have saved any of the stuff."

His purpose in visiting towns on the way down the river is to gather material for a book. He thinks he will give St. Louis a chapter, because of its historical interest.

Talk rambled from the battle of Jutland to the British Secret Service in the war, to the American Navy and then he asked: "Are you a Kipling fan?". He produced a private edition of "The Feet of Young Men," autographed by Kipling. He had illustrated every line of the book with photographs, and that task took him into some far corners and many times there were no Ten Commandments.

"But when you come to history and scenic beauty," he finished, "it's hard to beat the Mississippi River. You folks realize that, don't you? The Mississippi is romantic Very."

OLDEST BRITON DIES AT 125

Four Centenarians in Ireland Pass in Last Two Months.

By the Associated Press.

BELFAST, Ireland, Nov. 2.—William Smith, born Jan. 8, 1801, and reputed to be the oldest man in the British Empire, died today at his home in Bromara, County Down.

Ireland lost three centenarians within a week in October. They were Pierce Grace, a farmer of Clogarett, and John Rogers, a fisherman of Tory Island, each 102 years old, and John Tierney, a laborer, of Nenagh, Tipperary, 100 years old.

DOWNTOWN PARKING ORDINANCE UPHELD

Appellate Court Holds Mayor's Error in Dating Signature Doesn't Affect Law.

The St. Louis Court of Appeals, in a decision by Judge Daues today, upheld the validity of an ordinance forbidding automobile parking in the downtown section bounded by Carr, Market and Fourth streets, and Twelfth boulevard between 7 and 9:30 a. m., and 4:30 and 6 p. m.

The decision resulted from an appeal on habeas corpus proceedings by John E. Corvey, an attorney, of 7169 Manchester avenue, arrested last May 15 for parking on Market street, near the Old Courthouse. Corvey was fined $5 and costs by Police Judge Rosecan last July 8 for the violation. After refusing to pay the fine, he was technically placed in the custody of the City Marshal, then brought the habeas corpus proceedings to test the ordinance.

In his petition to the Court of Appeals, Corvey contended the law was unconstitutional and bore an erroneous date of approval under the signature of Mayor Miller, in that it was signed by the Mayor Jan. 23, 1926, while the date reads Jan. 23, 1925.

Judge Daues ruled that, even if the error in dates could destroy the Mayor's approval of the ordinance, it automatically became a law within 20 days, since there had been no veto.

MANY INJURED AS JEWS RIOT

WARSAW, Nov. 2.—The bitter disputes which for the last two years have strained relations between the orthodox Polish Jews and the Reformed Lithuanian Jews developed into a riot here yesterday. The trouble began when the 9-year-old son of the late reputed miracle-working chief rabbi of Warsaw held an open-air meeting. His followers and the Lithuanian Jews joined in a melee.

Mounted police separated the factions with great difficulty. Several persons were wounded, and many were arrested.

JUDGE DECLARES BONDSMAN MADE FALSE AFFIDAVIT

Frey Requests Circuit Attorney to Present Case of Louis Rose to Grand Jury for Action.

HE SAYS SIDENER KNOWS THE FACTS

Investigation by Court Disclosed Surety Swore to Owning Property When in Fact He Didn't.

Circuit Judge Frey today sent a written request to Circuit Attorney Sidener, that the evidence against Louis Rose, professional bondsman, on a charge of falsifying an affidavit as to his qualifications, be presented to the grand jury.

The Judge explained that when he gathered the evidence against Rose last February and reported the case to Circuit Attorney Sidener, Rose promised to cease his activities as a professional bondsman. Recent disclosures by the Post-Dispatch of Rose's action in transferring all his property to escape paying a $30,000 bond forfeiture, has convinced Judge Frey that no further leniency should be shown Rose.

Accordingly he has asked the Circuit Attorney to co-operate with him in laying the facts before the grand jury. Judge Frey considers that as Sidener was present when he confronted Rose with the evidence, the Circuit Attorney is a competent witness in the case and should testify.

Was Warned to Be Careful.

The false affidavit was made by Rose Feb. 2, last, after Judge Frey had warned him in Sidener's presence to be careful and not misstate the facts. Rose had applied to Judge Frey for permission to sign a $10,000 bond for Tony Guarino, robbery suspect.

In his sworn statement to the Court, Rose listed four pieces of property which he claimed to own. These were a flat building at 2800-02-04 Texas avenue; residence at 2834 Washington avenue; lot at 7002 Olive Street Terrace, St. Louis County, and the Orpheum Hotel, 106 North Ninth street. Rose swore that the Texas avenue property was unencumbered, that his equity in the Orpheum Hotel was $15,000, and that he was worth above his liabilities $45,000.

Judge Frey accepted Rose on the Guarino bond, but began a personal checkup of his statements as to qualifications. He discovered Rose's first misstatement of fact to be his assertion that the Texas avenue property was unencumbered. There were deeds of trust amounting to $5400 against this property.

Transferred Lot to Sister.

Then, Judge Frey found that Rose had transferred the Olive Street terrace lot to his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Rosenstein, Feb. 28, 1925, and did not own this property on Feb. 2, 1926, when he swore to the affidavit. Further investigation disclosed that the Washington avenue property also was in Mrs. Rosestein's name and that the Orpheum Hotel was owned by the Stanley Epstein Syndicate, not Rose.

Swearing falsely to an affidavit is a misdemeanor punishable by a year in jail, and is properly the subject of grand jury investigation and indictment.

With the evidence in hand, Judge Grey last February summoned Rose to his court, reprimanded him and told him the bond he had given in the Guarino case was no good. Rose's bond became void and Guarino had to furnish another bondsman. Having barred Rose from signing any more bonds in his court, Judge Frey took him to the Circuit Attorney's office and laid the case before Sidener. Rose explained his false statements by saying, "I made a mistake." Then, he promised to stop signing bonds.

Judge Frey today said he did not press the charges at that time because Sidener seemed unwilling to go into the case and he felt it beyond his judicial province to initiate prosecution. So he accepted Rose's promise about retiring as a bondsman and let the matter drop. But he kept the evidence in his files and when the Post-Dispatch disclosed recently that Rose had signed $42,900 worth of bonds in the Court of Criminal Correction and that $30,000 of the sum was now forfeited, Judge Frey awaited developments. Then, a Post-Dispatch reporter discovered that on Aug. 23, the same day the $30,000 forfeitures were declared, Rose transferred his Texas avenue property to another man.

"I felt," said the Judge, "that Rose was playing fast and loose with the courts and that his activities should be stopped."

Sanitarium Cuts Force of Employes

The tuberculosis sanitarium of Madison County opened today with a reduced force of workers, due to a decision of the board to cut expenses. There are now 30 on the payroll, nine having been dismissed. There are 38 patients at present. Work on repairing the sanitarium is proceeding and practically all the outside work has been finished.

Mexican Bandits Sack Town.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Mexican bandits yesterday attacked the town of Rosario, Sinaloa, released inmates of the jail, imprisoned the local authorities and placed a forced loan of 2000 pesos on the Tajos mine, an American-owned property. Reports received today at the State Department from Consul William P. Blocker at Mazatlan said the bandits sacked the town and made their escape. No one was killed or injured.

RECEIVER NAMED FOR ALLEGED FRAUDULENT LAND CONCERN

350 Persons Swindled of $2,000,000 by Sale of Stock, New Jersey Prosecutor Charges.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 2.—Characterizing a stock selling scheme of the Barnes Finance Co., Inc., as very close to a swindle, Federal Judge Clark has made permanent a temporary receivership granted Oct. 8.

John Milton, prosecutor of Hudson County, as temporary receiver, alleged that the concern had fleeced at least 350 would-be investors of about $2,000,000 by selling them its stock and the securities of its subsidiaries and that its boasted assets of $3,000,000 were found to be worthless.

The company was organized in 1922 and chartered to finance Western farm lands. Its principal place of business was in Newark and a branch office was maintained in Minneapolis, Minn.

The concern was the holding company for the Montana Mineral Agricultural Corporation, the Barnes Brothers' Corporation, the Utah Western Petroleum Co., the Northwest Farming Corporation and the South Idaho Land Development Co.

INQUIRY IN ARIZONA TURNS TO G. O. P. FUNDS

No Trace of Democratic Pool—Cameron Says He Has Spent $1500.

By the Associated Press.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 2.—Investigation of Republican expenditures in the Arizona senatorial campaign continued today before Senator King (Dem.) of Utah, who has announced he will try to conclude the hearing here tonight to permit adjournament to Los Angeles where several witnesses have been summoned to testify about the Arizona situation.

The hearing swung into testimony on Republican expenditures after two days of fruitless effort to uncover large contributions to a Democratic fund which Senator Ralph H. Cameron (Rep.) charged were made by Eastern copper interests to defeat him for re-election.

Newspapermen were among those to testify yesterday. Cleve W. Van Dyke, publisher of Miami, Ariz., declartd he did not know the cost of approximately 5000 circulars distributed by his paper in support of Cameron.

Cameron Says He Spent $1500.

Cameron testified that he knew of no individual who had contributed to his campaign and that he himself had spent less than $1500 prior to Oct. 21. He denied knowledge of the source of funds used to distribute the 52,000 circuted to his campaign and that he received, so far as he knows, was $5000 from the Republican National Committee.

Raymond W. Still, postmaster at Tempe, testified that he had been asked by Hoval A. Smith, campaign manager for Cameron, to contribute money to Cameron's campaign. Still identified a letter as being a copy of one he received from Smith. The letter, it was shown was a general request for contributions to Cameron's campaign fund. Still said he "took it for granted" that he had Cameron's support in getting the postmastership at Tempe. Asked if he had contributed anything to Cameron's fund, Still replied that he had not.

"Slush Fund News" Rakes King.

An impromptu publication appeared on the streets late yesterday, bearing the caption, "Slush Fund News." It contained an article attacking King for the manner in which he was conducting the investigation. The article quoted Cameron as charging King with "one-sided questioning." King said no action would be taken until he discovered who authorized the publication.

King last night telegraphed Cornelius Kelly, president of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. of New York, asking him to submit by telegraph any testimony he might desire concerning Cameron's charges. Kelly was among those whom Cameron suggested as witnesses to Senator Reed of Missouri, chairman of the Senate campaign fund investigating committee, in requesting the hearing.

CIRCUS OWNERS ATTACK FILM; CHARGE IT IS DEGRADING

Ringling Brothers Obtain Injunction Against Minneapolis Theater and Booking Office.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 2.—The Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus has obtained a temporary restraining order against the showing here of a motion picture film, which circus officers say is "damaging, degrading and harmful to the circus as an institution."

M. J. Frisch, manager of the Federated Booking offices, a producing company, which he represents, and Finkelstein & Ruben, Twin City theater owners, are defendants in the suits. The picture is under contract to be shown here in December.

The picture is said to show a tragedy within a circus and a fire, "the very things that a high-class circus always had continuously, cautiously and zealously guarded against," the complaint sets forth. "The picture itself is misleading, in that as a portrayal of circus life, it is inferior in quality and disparaging in its influence on the public," it is charged.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN FOUND DEAD ON RAILROAD TRACKS

He Apparently Had Been Struck by a Missouri Pacific Train in Kirkwood.

The body of a man, who apparently had been struck and killed by a train, was found on the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks at Holmes avenue, Kirkwood, at 5 p. m. yesterday. He was about 30 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighed about 150 pounds, with dark hair. He was wearing overalls. On his right arm the nickname "Kid Texas" was tattooed. In his pocket was a card bearing the name and address of a woman in Little Rock, Ark.

Missouri Pacific officials at Little Rock declared that the man was found to be no relation of this woman and said they were informed his name was Waller and his home was Albuquerque, N. M.

Two Children Perish in Flames.

125 WITNESSES SUMMONED IN HALL-MILLS CASE

Mrs. Hall and Her Brothers William and Henry Stevens Go to Trial at Somerville, N. J. Tomorrow.

STATE CONFIDENT OF ITS EVIDENCE

Witness Who Quoted Hall as Telling of Threats Is Missing—Autopsies Fail to Establish Mutilitation.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—After weeks of speculation concerning the identity of the witness described as "No. 3," who was alleged to have witnessed the Hall-Mills murders, Inspector Underwood of the Jersey City detectives disclosed yesterday that "No. 3" was Ralph V. M. Gorsline, vestryman, who was in De Russey's lane with Miss Catherine Rastall when the murders were committed.

His complete story, which, it is said, never has been made public, will be told at the trial scheduled to open tomorrow in the Somerset County Courthouse in Somerville, N. J., before Supreme Court Justice Charles W. Parker, County Judge Frank L. Cleary and a struck jury.

Only three of the four defendants indicted for the murders of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills will go to trial at that time. They are Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the clergyman, and her brothers, William and Henry Stevens. Their cousin, Henry de la Bruyere Carpender, will be tried later.

More than 125 witnesses have been summoned by the prosecution.

Gorsline Repeats Denial.

Gorsline is expected to confront today the private detective who gave Special Prosecutor Simpson an affidavit quoting Gorsline as saying he had met Henry Stevens near the scene of the crime on the night of the murders. As has been told, the affidavit relates that Stevens fired two shots into the ground and said to Gorsline, "Ralph, what the hell are you doing here? This is our affair. Get out of here."

Gorsline repeated to reporters his previous denial of the statements in the affidavit.

"I did not see Henry Stevens on the Phillips' farm the night of the murder, or anywhere else near where the crime was committed," he said. "There will be a day of reckoning after the trial."

"Pig Woman" in Seclusion.

A report that Mrs. Jane Gibson, the "pig woman," was missing developed that she was in seclusion at a place known only to the prosecution until she appear for the trial tomorrow morning.

Simpson confirmed a report that the Rev. Paul Hamborzky, a Hungarian clergyman of New Brunswick, was missing. When investigators for the State went to his home in Astoria, L. I., to subpena him as a witness they were informed he was in Florida. Hamborzky, now in the real estate business, has made affidavit that Hall told him about a year before his murder that he had been threatened by Henry Stevens because of his relations with Mrs. Mills. Hamborzky testified before the grand jury that indicted Henry Stevens and the other defendants. Simpson said in the absence of Hamborzky he could not introduce his affidavit as evidence in the trial.

Both Simpson and Inspector Underwood expressed today the utmost confidence in the sufficiency of the evidence they will offer.

Simpson in discussing the report that Mrs. Gibson was missing, said: "While she is a very important witness, I could try my entire case without her."

Underwood, when asked about Gorsline's denial that he saw Henry Stevens at the scene of the crime, said: "We have got some others who will tell who was at the scene of the crime."

Report of Autopsies.

Dr. Otto H. Schultze, New York medical expert who performed autopsies on the bodies of Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills, submitted a detailed report yesterday. Simpson said Dr. Schultze told him the three bullet-holes of entrance in Mrs. Mills' head were within a very small radius, indicating, in the openion of of the doctor' very fine marksmanship. Dr. Schultze also found that Mrs. Mills' throat had been cut with one continuous stroke of some sharp instrument instead of with two strokes of an instrument, as formerly deduced. Dr. Schultze found it impossible, after so long a time, to state whether Mrs. Mills' tongue had been cut out or had disintegrated. His report that neither body was mutilated beyond the cutting of Mrs. Mills' throat indicated, however, that he did not think there was much possibility that Mrs. Mills' tongue had been cut out.

Dr. Schultze also told Simpson he had heard Dr. E. I. Cronk, New Brunswick health officer, had visited the undertaking establishment to which Mrs. Mills' body was taken and had opened the wound which Dr. Long had made in the abdomen in the course of an examination the day before. Simpson said Dr. Schultze's information was that Dr. Cronk had acted at the request of somebody, and said he was interested in finding out who had made the request and why.

"A Barber Pulls a Tooth"

Our forebears of the 18th century went to the barber to have a tooth pulled, or operation performed. The "barber-chirugeon" of those good old days were barbers, dentists, surgeons, etc., and the mortality rate was high. Our hardy ancestors died early and often.

No doubt the barber was a good all-around workman according to his lights, a sort of Jack-of-all-trades, who did not have time to master any one. But, when people began to demand better service, the specialists came along and took away most of his trade, and so he too had to become a specialist.

And he became a better barber, or surgeon, or whatever mission he was best qualified to fill. It is the mission of this business to serve women with their apparel requirements. All of its resources are devoted directly and entirely to this tremendous problem.

20 PER CENT ADVANCE IN PAY INSUFFICIENT, TRAINMAN SAYS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The 20 per cent wage increase asked by conductors and trainmen of Eastern railroads is not sufficient, the railroad arbitration board hearing evidence on the trainmen's demands was told yesterday. U. D. Hartman, a switchman, employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad testified the productivity of railroad yard employes had increased according to reliable information more than half during the last 10 years and in view of this he thought the unions had not asked a sufficient increase.

Jones Powers, chairman of the Grievance Committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and a brakeman on the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad told the board some brakemen are earning less than $20 a week. On his division, he said, brakemen work an average, four-day week.

That yard work has been sped up to the point where the 20-minute rest period formerly given switchmen has been eliminated was testified by Leon Clark, a Pennsylvania Railroad conductor.

LAVISH PROMISES OF PROFITS CAUSE CHARGE OF FRAUD

Promoters of "Citrus Center," Florida Indicted for Realty Scheme That "Couldn't Lose."

The magic name of Henry Ford, a guaranty of 50 per cent profit and a bargain-rate excursion for prospects were used to sell "Citrus Center, the Prairie City of Florida" to hundreds of Missourians and Illinoisans.

The excursion was an excursion all right, but Ford's name and the 50 per cent profit were misrepresented, according to Postoffice Inspectors who gathered the information which resulted in the indictment at Chicago yesterday of 10 St. Louis and Chicago real estate men on charges of using the mails to defraud. The St. Louisans are George E. Strevey, Deweese Seewir and Arthur Sadler.

"FIFTY PER CENT PROFIT GUARANTEED," advertised George E. Strevey & Co.

"Big Profits Guaranteed."

"Make big and sure profits—without risk. To every purchaser, large or small, in Citrus Center, Florida, we give a written guaranty, backed by International Lloyds, Ltd., assuring a 50 per cent profit. The actual profits should be many times more.

"You can't lose—this is the soundest and biggest realty offer ever made."

"International Lloyds" sounded big, and many who read the advertisements assumed the famous Lloyds of London was meant. As a matter of fact, "International Lloyds" was an unincorporated association of Chicago, with little financial backing. Their policies were embellished with an illustration of a six-story office building with the legend: "International Lloyds Building." Again, as a matter of fact, the association occupied only one floor in a small Chicago building.

The 50 per cent profit was guaranteed at the end of five years. Unfortunately, International Lloyds went into receivership before its first year of business was ended, and its officers were indicted for fraud.

The Henry Ford Angle.

As to Henry Ford, it appears that he had foreclosed on some acreage across the Caloosahatchee River from Citrus Center and had planted thereon some rubber trees for experimental purposes. Immediately the mails became heavy with literature about "Henry Ford's new rubber development" which, it was predicted, would make Citrus Center one of the leading industrial cities of the country.

"Tree-to-tire" became a sales slogan. Ford's rubber plantation and tire factory would send realty prices sky-high. Henry Ford was the man of the hour. His photographs were on every sales sheet—"Rustic scene at Henry Ford's Fort Meyers Winter Home," "Ford, Edison and Burroughs Vacationing at Fort Meyers," "Henry Ford's Hotel at La Belle," were some of the captions.

Ford himself punctured this publicity by announcing that, while he was interested in Florida realty, he did not intend to become a tire maker at Citrus Center.

Excursionists Well Pleased.

There was nothing phoney about the excursion trips from St. Louis and other points to Citrus Center. Strevey and his associates got up one party in November, 1925, and they toured Florida at "reasonable rates." When the excursionists returned to St. Louis, Bernard Laven, one of the seven Chicagoans indicted, announced the tourists were so impressed with Citrus Center they had purchased more than $100,000 worth of lots there. The tourists even adopted this resolution:

"Whereas, we have found everything in and about Citrus Center generally much grander than they (the salesmen) have represented.

"Therefore, be it resolved by the members of the First Citrus Center Excursion Party, that we are faithfully and eternally under lasting obligations to our friends, Messrs. Laven & Co. and Strevey & Co., for the courtesies and unbounded hospitality shown us, and we are bound by all faithful bonds of unstinted fidelity to boost and push our city, Citrus Center, 'The Prairie City of Florida,' to a rapid development.'"

Edwardsville Men Investors.

Fred F. Pfeiffer, retired hotel operator of Edwardsville, who invested $2000, drove to Florida last summer to see for himself. He asked a native where Citrus Center was and the fellow answered, "You're in it." He asked where the main road was and the answer was "you're on it." Pfeiffer reported back that the only improvements were a deserted hotel, a deserted school house and a filling station built of old boxes. The main street was a lane. None of the advertised improvements, including 50 houses, was visible.

Other Edwardsville business and professional men who invested in Citrus Center lots were Dr. Howard E. Wharff, physician; S. A. Bleich, attorney; Percy Lusk, real estate dealer; Dr. J. A. Hirsch, physician, and Dr. Leroy Fink, dentist, their investments ranging between $325 and $2000. Dr. Wharff was called before the Chicago grand jury two weeks ago, and documentary evidence was obtained from the others. Dr. Wharff says he was chiefly influenced to buy by the mention of "Lloyds," which he thought was Lloyds of London.

Among others in this vicinity who invested and had similar experiences were Mrs. Bessie G. Moore, milliner, of 310 North Euclid avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Tharks, 5025 Rosa avenue; Kate Van Zandt of East St. Louis, and A. P. Schuck of Overland, St. Louis County.

George E. Strevey & Co. formerly had offices in the Title Guaranty Building. Deweese Sewir of 523 Hamilton avenue, one of the company's salesmen, formerly sold stock in St. Louis for William Christy Cabanne, movie producer, whose $200,000 project, financed here a few years ago, went on the rocks.

BRITISH SOCIALISTS GAIN 139 SEATS IN BOROUGH COUNCILS

Conservatives Lose 69, Liberals 49, and Independents 21 Places. Early Returns Show.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Sweeping Socialist gains were recorded this morning in incomplete returns from the country-wide elections to the borough councils. The Socialists have gained 139 seats on reports so far; the Conservatives dropped 69, the Liberals 49 and Independents 21.

Wright's Companion Bound Over.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 2.—Olga Milanoff, arrested here recently with Frank Lloyd Wright, the Chicago architect, has been bound over to the Federal grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Mann act. Her attorney waived preliminary examination, saying that she is in a serious condition, and will not leave here until her health improved. Bonds were set at $5000. Wright is held in $7500 bonds on a similar charge.

The Non Plus Ultra of Confidence

—that lasting and absolute Confidence that has been accorded us by the people of St. Louis, is not lightly given nor lightly accepted. It is a thing of which we are justly proud and for which we will fight to the proverbial "last ditch."

And here is what gained it—fair play to our customers and the community, truthful representation in advertising, authentic and dependable styles and prices as low or lower than elsewhere, quality considered.

HEAD OF BANKRUPT HAT COMPANY QUESTIONED

Ordered to Appear Later and Explain Disposal of $837.35 Check He Cashed.

Henry G. Latal, president of the bankrupt Dorothy Lee Manufacturing Co., 615 North Ninth street, who recently attributed the $30,000 failure of his concern to fickle fashions in women's hats, drew a reprimand from Referee in Bankruptcy Coles yesterday when he declared he was unable to account for a check for $837.35, which he cashed at the Mound City Trust Co. subsequent to the filing of bankruptcy proceedings Aug. 4, last.

Latal has made a claim for $837.35 back salary, at the rate of $600 a month, and the coincidence of the sum of the salary claim and the check attracted the attention of Referee Coles, who grilled Latal on his handling of Dorothy Lee funds between Aug. 4 and Aug. 25, when the company was adjudged bankrupt. The $837.35 item was discovered in the bank records of the Dorothy Lee company under the date of Aug. 18.

Latal admitted that he cashed the check and another for $175 on the same day, but declared he was unable to recall what he did with the money.

"My mind is a blank because of all the trouble I have had recently," he declared. "I may have paid some of the firm's bills with the money and I may have used some myself. I don't remember. I will do my best to help straighten things out, but I will require some time to look up personal records."

Questioned concerning collections approximating $400 received after Aug. 4, Latal admitted that he had cashed the checks through Felix Frank, a money lender, and pocketed the money. "I needed it for living expenses," he said. "I am willing to have the amount deducted from my salary claim. I was advised by some of my friends in the millinery business to keep the money, since I had back salary due."

Latal said that Frank also "refinanced" his Hudson automobile for $800 at about the same time. Frank accepted a mortgage on the car and paid off garage and mechanics' bills, which were being pressed, Latal testified. He was ordered to return to the Referee's office next Thursday and make an accounting of his expenditure of the $400 he appropriated from collections and to also account for the $837.35 check and the $175 check if he can.

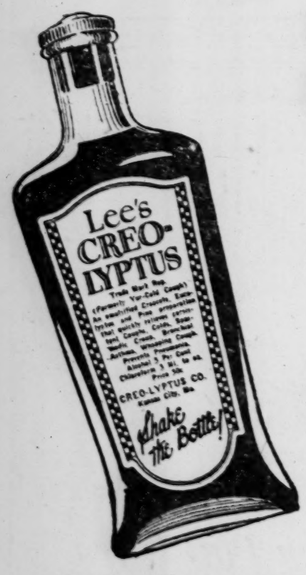

At a previous hearing Latal testified he invested $11,500 in the Dorothy Lee concern in September, 1925, and that two associates added $1000 each. They later borrowed $6500 for the business, repaying $3500 of the sum. Last May Latal issued a credit statement showing the assets of the concern to be $26,000 and liabilities $12,000. When the concern was placed in bankruptcy three months later, assets had shrunk to $3000 while liabilities had mounted to $18,878, mostly for merchandise purchased on credit.

COST OF TURNING OUT A DENTIST IS $16,000

And Operating Expenses Run $1.77 an Hour, St. Louis Practitioners Are Told.

"Maintain a good front and don't have last year's magazines on your reception room table," Dr. C. W. Digges, a former member of the Missouri State Dental Board, told 100 members of the St. Louis Dental Society during an address on "Dental Economies" at the New Medical Society Building, McPherson and Vandeventer avenues, last night.

Digges, a practitioner at Columbia, Mo., stressed the matter of appearances in the operation of a dental office.

"Not only should the dentist keep himself immaculate, but he should have a neat waiting room with comfortable chairs and current magazines, not coverless relics from last year," said the speaker. "His operating rooms should be spotless and, if possible, a white-uniformed young woman assistant should be in attendance. The successful dentist devotes all his office time to the treatment of patients, uninterrupted by the telephone and other annoyances."

Says Earnings Are Inadequate.

The cost of "turning out" a dentist was placed at $16,000 by Dr. Digges. He based this on the cost of five years' education, $6000; lost earnings during the period of education, $7500, and $2500 to establish an office.

"The average professional life of a dentist is 15 years, I am told by statisticians," Dr. Digges said. "Therefore if you want to keep an accurate record of your annual business expense you must add approximately $1000 to other expenses, including rent, materials and incidentals. I have found that it costs the average dentist $3950 a year to do business. Reduce this to an hourly cost on the basis of 293 working days of eight hours each and you find that it costs you $1.77 an hour to operate. The average charge for an amalgam filling is $2.50. A dentist can put in three amalgam fillings in two hours. Compared to the wages of building mechanics you readily see that the $7.50 earned by a dentist in two hours is an inadequate return on his investment."

Scaling Up Profit Leaks.

Dr. Digges also stressed the necessity of obtaining references or credit ratings from patients. "I have lost only one patient through this practice," he declared, "and I have saved many dollars."

Dr. Digges also advocated the sending of notices to regular patients every six months requesting them to have their teeth examined and the issuance of appointment cards to patients notifying them that a charge will be made for appointments broken without due notice.

Following Dr. Digges address the meeting indorsed Drs. H. F. Hagtmann, E. B. Owen, Edgar H. Keys and James F. Austin as candidates for the vacancy on the State Dental Board caused by the recent death of Dr. Willard A. Roddy. The indorsements will be sent to Gov. Baker.

FORMER IMMIGRANT BUYS $11,000,000 OFFICE BUILDING

Joseph Caplan, 42, Arrived in Philadelphia From England Penniless in 1896.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Joseph Caplan, 42 years old, a penniless immigrant from England in 1890, has become one of the largest individual holders of real estate in Philadelphia. He yesterday accepted conveyance of the Widener Building, held at a sale price of $11,000,000.

Built in 1912, the building, an 18-story structure in the Italian Renaissance style, cost the late P. A. B. Widener, traction magnate, in excess of $8,000,000, of which one half represented the purchase price of the site. The ground, which formerly was occupied by a mint, cost the government $31,666 in 1829.

Of the sale price, $4,000,000 is said to have been set aside with a trust company as an endowment fund for the Widener Home for Crippled Children.

$40,000 FIRE IN THE COUNTY

Fire of undetermined origin, starting at 10:30 p. m. yesterday in the Woodson Planing Mill, St. Charles and Woodson roads, St. Louis County, caused damage estimated at $30,000 to the planing mill and $10,000 to the Rose Auto Co., adjacent to the mill.

The University City Fire Department, five miles from the scene of the fire, answered the alarm. The automobile company building was recently built. In addition to the damage of $10,000 to the garage building, four automobiles stored there were damaged.

Reading To Join Chemical Combine

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Marquis of Reading, former Viceroy of India, will join the directorate of the great combine of the chemical, dye stuffs, explosives and allied industries now in process of formation. This combine, which includes the Brunner Mond Co., the Nobel Industries, the British Dyestuffs Corporation and the United Alkali Co., will be known as the Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd. Shareholders of the merged companies will be invited to exchange their holdings for shares in the new combine, which will be the holding company, allowing the component companies to operate independently under supervision of the merger board.

$10 Cash $79.50 $5 a Month

FULFILLING the popular demand in a very complete way, this Radio Highboy, containing a genuine Victrola, makes an important feature of the Anniversary Sale. It is a creation exclusively Vandervoort's in design and manufacture. It embodies that high standard of quality that St. Louisans have learned to expect of Vandervoort merchandise.

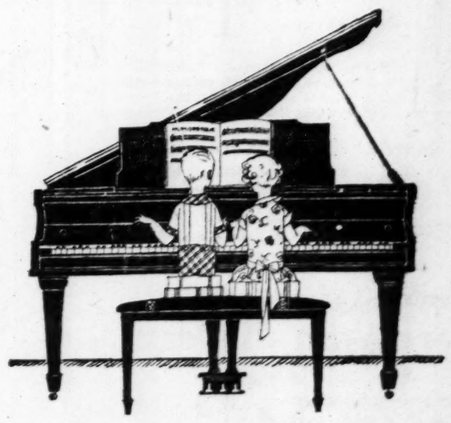

The cabinet is cut walnut of ample proportions, being 47 inches high, 37 inches wide and 21 inches deep. Its beauty of design and thoroughness of finish makes it welcome to any home interior.

But it is designed for convenience as well as beauty. Behind the right-hand door is a genuine Victrola with the amplifier underneath. Below the cabinet is a shelf that slides forward to hold records.

As a piece of furniture alone, it is a great value at the Anniversary price, but with a genuine Victrola inside, its value is unprecedented.

This great saving will be available only during the Anniversary Sale. $10.00 Cash Payment brings it to your home, the balance in small monthly payments.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

DEPUTY SHOT WHEN SERVING WARRANT TELLS OF INCIDENT

Missourian Has Fair Chance of Recovery, But Probably Will Lose Sight of One Eye.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DES MOINES, Nov. 2.—Three hundred dollars, posted as a reward by Sheriff Findley of Des Moines spurred on the search today for William Boyd, quadroon, who shot and killed Dewey Marshall, Findley's deputy, and seriously wounded Deputy Sheriff Grover Brent of Sedalia, Mo., Saturday.

Brent has a fair chance of recovery. Little hope is held of saving the sight of his left eye.

Brent said he and Marshall went to the farm on which Boyd lived to serve a warrant charging him with hog stealing at Sedalia. County Attorney Seeburger had agreed not to press Iowa charges against Boyd, but to turn him over to Missouri officers.

"We drove directly to the Boyd farm and parked the car in front of Boyd's home," Brent said. "Marshall went to the front door while I stood off a few feet so that I could spot Boyd if he should run out of the back door. Marshall rapped two or three times and got no response, then he went to the back door and I stepped nearer the front door so that I could see both it and Marshall.

"When he knocked, someone, asked, 'Who's there?' Marshall's answer brought no response. Finally Marshall kicked the door. The force shattered the glass in the upper part of it. As it fell I heard the gun go off. Marshall fell.

"I drew my gun and crept toward the back of the house. Suddenly, the shotgun was rammed through a window. It went off as I started to duck, and I felt a sharp pain in my right elbow. I groped on the ground for my gun, which my limp right fingers had dropped, when another shot hit me. I made a final lunge for the road, and was hit again."

U. S. SUFFERS FROM UNDUE LAW PROCESS, HUGHES SAYS

Lack of Training of Those Who Administer Justice Causes Defects, He Asserts.
By the Associated Press.

BOSTON, Nov. 2. — Defects in the administration of justice throughout the country are due largely to the lack of equipment and training of those who administer it, Charles Evans Hughes, former Secretary of State, said last night at a dinner at the Harvard Club, opening a campaign to raise an endowment of $5,000,000 for the Harvard Law School.

"The multiplication of laws, unnecessary delays in vindicating rights, unpunished crimes, the lack of adaptation of the law and its machinery to new conditions, seriously reflect upon our capacity for self-government," Hughes said.

"When we consider the thousands of bills introduced, probably most of them introduced by lawyers, at each session of our legislatures, the plethora of new statutes turned out by our law factories, the crowded calendars of courts, the increasing volume of law reports which has made thin paper the only salvation of our libraries, it would seem that we are suffering from what may be called undue process of law. And when we reflect upon the lawlessness in great communities and the unwholesome spectacles afforded by sensational criminal trials, we cannot escape the conclusion that we are lamentably remiss in our primary social duty."

BRITAIN'S BETTING TAX LAW NEARLY ENDS BOOKMAKING

Only a Few Commissioners Do Business on First Day Under New Regulations.
Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos. (New York World and Post-Dispatch).

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The first day of the new tax on race track betting virtually put an end to the bookmakers' business. Some of the older bookmakers gloomily predict an end of racing also, declaring they would rather quit completely than submit to the tax regulations.

Others attended the races at Birmingham and Wye as spectators to learn if possible how the tax worked in practice.

A few turned up with signs, "Business as Usual," each being provided with a small board on which were affixed tickets of bright colors. Each person making a bet received a ticket, showing the bet had been made and furnishing a record that a tax was due to the Government from the bookmaker. Those who really tried out the scheme said it would work except that "we've all got to become certified public accountants to keep the books the Government requires."

The bookmakers' resentment against the tax is shared by the professional bettors, who boycotted the races yesterday. Amateurs, especially women, made a fair number of small bets.

Rickenbacker Co. Receivers Named
By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Nov. 2.—The Security Trust Co. of Detroit and R. F. Everitt, president of the Rickenbacker Motor Co., were appointed receivers for the Rickenbacker company in a friendly action brought by the Columbia Axle Co. of Cleveland, in Federal Court here yesterday. Everitt, in a statement issued in connection with the proceedings, said the axle company brought the action at the behest of the motor company to prevent the case being taken to the State courts. The statement said the liabilities of the Rickenbacker company are less than $1,500,000, while the assets are more than $7,000,000. The statement said the company wished to conserve its reserve at this time.

DEATH DEMANDED FOR ALL ENEMIES OF MUSSOLINI

"Nothing Short of That Will Satisfy Us," Says Secretary General of Fascist Party.

"HANG ALL OF THEM," ANSWERS MULTITUDE

Youth Who Was Killed After Shooting at Premier Was Member of Fascist Organization.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Nov. 2.—"Nothing short of death to all enemies of Benito Mussolini will satisfy us," is the official edict of the Fascist party, announced by its Secretary-General, Signor Turati.

A demand is to be made of the Council of the Fascist party Friday for putting to death not only future assailants of the Premier, but the three men, Zaniboni, Capello and Lucetti, now under arrest in connection with past plots to assassinate "Il Duce."

Three persons have been killed in the disturbances throughout the country following the attempt on Mussolini's life. Two were killed in Genoa. At Cagliari, a Fascist who climbed to the top of a house occupied by an anti-Fascist, named Lussa, to harangue a crowd, was killed. Lussa was arrested.

Signor Turati thundered the Fascist party's demand for the death of Mussolini's enemies to a crowd estimated at 50,000 under Mussolini's window in Colonna Square last night. Mussolini was at home at the time. Black Shirts in procession in every city and town in Italy repeated it, and it was printed in large black type upon the front pages of the newspapers.

"Yes, death! Hang all of them!" was shouted back at Turati by the multitude.

Believe in Invulnerability.

The sixth escape of the Premier from death is increasing the belief among the people of his invulnerability.

"This is a new sign that Mussolini has God's full protection," commented Pope Pius.

Nevertheless it is the idea of the authorities that Italian exiles outside Italy will continuey efforts to assassinate the Premier as the only means of ridding Italy of Fascism.

Mussolini has given the sash of the Order of Saint Maurice and Saint Lazarus, which was pierced by the assassin's bullet Sunday as it was draped across his breast, to the city of Bologna to be conserved among the souvenirs of Bologna's Fascism.

"The Duce" Turati declared to the throng last night, "must be protected despite himself, if he refuses to heed the sentiment of the Italian people.

"Not only those who lift their hands against our duce, but also every single person who indirectly or directly acts as instigators or accomplice must meet a similar fate—not only those who dare endanger Italy again, but those who have already done so.

"The ring of responsibility, the center of infection, exists at home and abroad, and it must be destroyed ruthlessly. It is all right to entrust the punishment of those responsible to the courts, but Fascism accepts the laws and the judges only on condition that their sentence be death.

"Moreover the hour has arrived when Fascism must look within its ranks for traitors; the time has come for an inspection of the virtue of every one of us."

It is the Duce's expressed wish that the Black Shirts maintain calm and discipline until the meeting of the Fascist grand council—the supreme organ of the Fascist regime.

Demand for Capital Punishment.

"At the meeting of the council of the Fascist party," Turati said, "there will be a demand for capital punishment, not only for future offenders but for Zaniboni, Capello and Lucetti. "We await serenely, but confidently the council's decision.

"Today as yesterday we are willing to obey the Duce, but we must be 'willing to obey' provided his decision does not offend the nation's right to justice.

"But if the Duce's decision means renunciation of our passionate desire for justice, we on that day will be uncertain in choosing between rugged, painful, dangerous useless disciplines and our inner discipline of passion, faith and arms."

Simultaneously with Turati's pronouncement, a group of deputies officially requested the immediate convocation of the Chamber of Deputies for "approval of measures indispensable for national security."

The former Socialist Deputy Zaniboni was arrested on Nov. 5.

"Today as yesterday we are willing to obey the Duce, but we must add 'willing to obey' provided his decision does not offend the nation's right to justice.

"But if the Duce's decision means renunciation of our passionate desire for justice, we on that day will be uncertain in choosing between rugged, painful, dangerous disciplines and our impulse of passion, faith and ardor."

Simultaneously with Turati's pronouncement, a group of deputies officially requested the immediate convocation of the Chamber of Deputies for "approval of measures indispensable for national security."

The former Socialist Deputy Zaniboni was arrested on Nov. 5.

GERMAN COLONIAL DESIRES GRAVE PROBLEM BEFORE LEAGUE

Berlin Hopes to Recover One or More Colonies Through Negotiations With Powers.

By the Associated Press.

GENEVA, Nov. 2.—Germany's known desire to get back at least one of the many colonies which she lost as a result of the World War is a grave problem which is now confronting the League of Nations. The problem is felt here to be all the more grave because no light is seen as to how the question is to be solved.

Germany is known to be desirous of getting back one or more colonies, but apparently is approaching this matter with great caution. She hopes that perhaps she will be able to get satisfaction through private conversations with representatives of the other Powers.

Recent developments at Geneva indicate a tendency on the part of the countries that inherited Germany's colonies under the form of mandates, to regard their position in these countries as more or less sovereign.

Both Great Britain and France have protested against a questionnaire drawn up by the mandates commission of the League on the extent of commercial equality which obtains in the mandated districts and whether the economic development of the districts is not imposing too great a burden upon the native races.

SAYS WAR MINISTER KNEW OF SECRET BATTALIONS

Witness in German Trial Repeats Accusation Against Gessler in Connection With Thwarted Revolt.

Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos. (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The trial of the so-called "Feme murderers" at Landsberg yesterday was marked by two incidents—renewed accusation that War Minister Gessler approved of the alleged operation in 1923 of disguising an illegal increase of the reichswehr in the Keustrin district as labor battalions (the "black reichswehr"); and secondly, the assertion by the same witness that although he had no knowledge that those on trial committed the murders he could understand how men in authority might desire to kill any member of the labor battalions who revealed the secrets of the organization.

The Feme was the "black reichswehr's" secret machine of vengeance. Gessler already has denied the charge.

The witness was Major Buchrucker, who was the organizer of the "Keusterin putsch" three years ago, a revolt which failed to develop because it was discovered by the Prussian government.

At the time of the Feme murders in 1922, Buchrucker was a leader of the labor battalion at Keustrin and a close associate of the men accused.

He repeated the previous charges of the defendant, Lieut. Schultz, that Gessler authorized the disguise of illegal reichswehr forces as labor battalions.

The charge that Gessler was responsible for the alleged illegal army may result in a government crisis, or at least in his forced resignation.

It has been stated that the victims of the Feme murders revealed to the allies the secrets of the illegal labor battalions.

CHARGES UNDER CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT DROPPED

Editor at Madison, Wis., Not to Be Prosecuted for Article About U. S. Senate Candidate.

By the Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 2.—Charges of violating the corrupt practices act against William T. Evjue, Madison newspaper editor, were dropped yesterday when Judge O. A. Stolen, reversed his previous decision and announced a warrant would not be issued.

Judge Stolen held that the editorial in the Capital-Times, cited by H. W. Adams, campaign manager for Charles D. Rosa, independent candidate for United States Senator, did not constitute sufficient basis for a warrant for Evjue's arrest. The editorial which Adams presented as the basis for his request declared that Adams had been trying for six years to get on the State payroll. The campaign manager asserted that Evjue sought through the editorial to destroy the candidacy of Rosa.

NON-VOTERS IN DRY OFFICE

Learning that many of the employes of his office were not registered and consequently will not vote at today's election, Alroy S. Phillips, prohibition administrator, yesterday declared he would in future require everyone employed in the office to register and vote.

"People drawing salaries from the United States Government ought to vote," he said. "I don't care how they vote, that's none of my business but in future I shall require all employes of this office to cast a ballot."

Phillips formerly was in Senator Williams' law office and owes his appointment to the Senator.

Panama Tolls Record Expected.

PANAMA, Nov. 2.—Panama canal traffic aggregated 445 commercial ships during October. These vessels paid tolls aggregating $1,989,338. Canal officials anticipate a record year in tolls. The monthly averages for the 10 months of the calendar year slightly exceed ed $2,000,000.

UPHOLDS DOUBLE PROSECUTION OF WET OFFENDERS

Supreme Court Says Government and State Both May Impose Penalties for a Single Act.

DOUBLE JEOPARDY PLEA RULED OUT

No Dissent Made From Decision by Justice Van Devanter in Case From Louisiana.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The Supreme Court of the United States holds that both the Federal Government and a state may lawfully prosecute a person in their respective courts for violations of their prohibition laws growing out of the same act.

This point was decided yesterday in ruling on a case from Louisiana in which Doras Hebert and others sought to have their conviction in the State court sset aside because the Federal Government had indicted them for the same offense.

Discussing the plea of double jeopardy, the Court, in an opinion by Justice Van Devanter, to which no disent was announced, held that "the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution contemplated that the manufacture of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes may be denounced as a criminal offense boh by the Federal law and by the State law; and that these laws may not only coexist, but be given full operation, each independently of the other.

"Only offenses against the laws of the United States are cognizable under its authority. Those against state laws are cognizable only under the authority of the State. And this is true where the same act is an offense against both a law of the United States and a law of a state."

The Court pointed out that the states had the right to enact prohibition laws without regard to the Federal Government or the eighteenth amendment, and emphasized that, in attacks upon the construction of state laws, the final decision rests with the courts of the states.

The fourteenth amendment did not authorize the Supreme Court, the opinion declared, to revise the decision of state courts on questions of state law. When the Federal Government enters no obection to a state proceeding with the trial of persons under Federal indictment in prohibition cases, it must be assumed, the decision added, that the United States has acquiesced.

WOMEN BEING DRIVEN MAD BY MODERN PACE, SAYS PASTOR

Yale Divinity School Dean Urges Religion as Cure for High Speed and Strain.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 2.—The speed and strain of modern life are bringing on nervous breakdowns, insomnia, hysteria and insanity, hence many women lose self-control and end with mental collapse, it was declared by Dean Charles R. Brown of the Yale divinity school in an address on "Health and Religion" yesterday.

"We have learned much in 50 years about the potency of mental and spiritual forces in overcoming functional troubles and gaining sound health," he said. "The church has a duty in this matter. We are learning more about the utilization of certain mysterious forces within this human personality as we undertake to work out our well being. Man's habits of thought, his freedom from fear and worry, malice and hatred, his exercise of faith and hope and love, will all register in certain definite physical results. The sound mind and the Christian heart contribute steadily to better health."

STALIN DECIDES ON CHANGE IN SOVIET FOREIGN POLICY

Slowing Down of Propaganda in U. S. Included in Communist Leader's Plan.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Joseph Stalin, head of the Central Executive committee of the Communist party, who has seized the reins of power in Russia, has resolved, says the diplomatic correspondent of the Westminster Gazette, on a change in the foreign policy of the soviet Government. The plan includes the slowing down of communist propaganda abroad, obtaining de jure recognition of Russia by the United States and other countries, the settlement of Russia's debts to foreign countries and obtaining foreign loans for development.

Stalin, it is asserted, considers the use of foreign loans a better way of industrializing Russia than estranging the peasantry by increased taxation. Therefore, he wants to limit the activities of the communist international abroad.

AMERICANS PAY DEAR FOR SERVICE, EXPERT ASSERTS

"We're a Pampered Lot," Prof. Lippincott Tells Women Voters' League Discussing Waste.

URGES SAVING AND BARGAINING

Says Storekeeper Charges All the Traffic Will Bear Without Reference to Values.

We're a pampered lot, we Americans. We demand 57 varieties of service with every purchase we make and we pay for it—plenty.

This, said Isaac Lippincott, professor of economics in Washington University, in a lecture yesterday at the headquarters of the League of Women Voters, was the real key to the "Elimination of Waste in the Necessities of Life," the subject for this year's course of the living costs study group.

With reference to thrifty New Englanders of a few years ago, he remarked, "Many of them did not have money to buy what we now call 'the necessities of life.'"

The disappearance of hash, the passing of bread pudding and the demise of the darning needle were regretfully noted as contributory causes. Saving, Dr. Lippincott remarked, was all a matter of resolution. It all depended upon how resolutely one wanted to save, and how saving balanced in one's scale of values against food, select neighborhood, fine clothes and the like. For inducement to save he stated:

"The basis for all personal strength is being ahead. Nobody who is not ahead can have independence and the power which comes with it."

Paying for Service.

"The first thing you ask in your grocery shopping is that the store be near," he said. "You are buying proximity. There are about 4500 grocery stores in St. Louis—a tremendous duplication of service in scores of ways beyond duplication of rentals.

"You expect one delivery a day at least, credit, the right to pick over and select. In the downtown stores you expect display and advertising, the right to pick over and return, rest rooms and hospitals, that you will be waited on without unreasonable delay, and style. These are all expenses with the storekeeper justly, I believe, passes on to the consumer.

"You may reply that modern life is a busy life and these services are necessary to existence in it. Then I think of the Colonial woman, surely the busiest on earth. Thrift was her right hand servant. She was her own druggist and doctor, spinner and clothing manufacturer, baker and confectioner and candle maker.

Cost vs. Price.

"You have no reason to know it if you are not an economist, but the price system is literally one of charging what the traffic will bear. The prices you see marked on goods have no particular reference to the cost of making the goods, plus distributing cost and a reasonable margin, but they do have particular reference to what the storekeeper thinks you will pay.

"This is due largely to the fact that we are free spenders. That system would not prevail if we shopped around and refused to buy where prices were higher than elsewhere. It does not prevail in Europe. It is a 'system typically American, but one that wastes income."

Meredith Nicholson Declares Order Has Given State Name as "Land of the Boobs."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 2.—The Ku Klux Klan and its politicians have cost Indiana at least $1,000,000,000 in good will and have earned for the State the title "The Land of the Boobs," Meredith Nicholson, Indiana novelist, said in a statement published here today.

"Isn't it strange," he asks, "that with all our educational advantages 200,000 Indiana people can be induced to pay $10 a head for the privilege of hating their neighbors and wearing a sheet."

MEXICAN PRIESTS HELD FOR SAYING MASS

Services Were Held in Private Homes—Bishops Deny Authorizing Rebellion.

By the Associated Press.

MERIDA, Yucatan, Nov. 2.—Several priests and a number of prominent men of the community were arrested yesterday, the police reporting that they found them saying mass in private houses in commemoration of the dead.

With chalices, candles and vestments, the priests were taken to the department police station and held for action by the Federal Attorney.

Numerous Catholic residences were decorated Sunday with drapery and flowers, and placards which bore the legend, "long live Christ, the King." Yesterday other placards appeared beside the original mottoes, reading: "Long live Plutarco Elias Calles."

Bishops Deny That They Authorized Rebellion.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2.—The Roman Catholic Episcopate never has authorized any rebellion or attempt at rebellion in Mexico, the Episcopate declares in a statement issued in reply to a pronouncement from the presidential office that the Episcopate was involved in revolutionary activity.

The controversy arose in connection with the extermination of a band of rebels in Durango headed by Gen. Rodolfo Gallegos, when, according to the presidential statement, "one flag and other insignia were captured, furnishing evidence that a revolution was being organized by the Episcopate."

"This is false and calumnious," says the Episcopate's statement, which reviewed its repeated instructions against revolution, counselling only lawful and pacific conduct on the part of Catholics.

"There are cases in which Catholic divines authorize, not rebellion, but a united defense against unjust aggression and tyrannical power after exhausting pacific means," adds the statement, "but that time has not arrived in Mexico. The Episcopate has not indicated in any way that such a time has arrived. Any individual Catholics who believe that such a time has arrived do so without the Episcopate's instructions or authority, either officially or unofficially."

ONTARIO PREMIER PROPOSES TO FORBID OPEN SALE OF BEER

Ferguson Changes Program to Permit Disposal in Bottles Only by Government.

TORONTO, Nov. 2.—Premier Ferguson has changed his proposed liquor legislation, on which he is appealing to the voters, so that the open sale of beer will be forbidden, the Toronto Telegram says.

"Beer will be classed along with all other beverages of alcoholic content," the Telegram says, "and will be disposed of in bottles only by Government vendors.

"Objection has been taken that the open sale of beer would contribute to the possibility that spirituous liquors might also be sold, illegally, of course, in hotels; and the Premier has accordingly concluded that only bottled beer through Government vendors may be purchased.

ORILLA, Ont., Nov. 2.—Commenting on a statement that the open sale of beer will not be legalized and that beer will be sold only through Government vendors, Premier Ferguson said:

"necessary to present clearly to the people the principle of Government control and to see that it has due consideration. I will require that all liquor, beer, as well as spirits, be sold through Government stores, but will arrange to protect the poor man's rights by seeing that he is able to secure a bottle of beer at actual cost through a Government agency."

NEW RELICS FOUND IN KING TUT'S TOMB

These Include Boats Intended for Transport of Body From Earth to Heaven.

By the Associated Press.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 2.—Funeral relics of great historical importance have been found in the third chamber of the valley of Tutankhamen in the valley of the kings, the newspaper Siassah has learned.

Work was recently renewed on the task of exploring the famous Egyptian tomb and the finds, although not so rich as those found nithe first two chambers, are considered of great value because they represent everything used at ancient Egyptian funeral ceremonies.

Thirty small boats of two kinds were found, one type representing those used for transporting funeral cortages from Luxor across the Nile to the tombs, while the other was for the transport of the body from earth to Heaven.

A box containing small statues also was found. These statues had the head of the youthful king Tutankhamen, but the body of a bird or animal, giving the Egyptian conception of after life.

Two chariots also were found. These differed from the one previously discovered in that they did not contain the lavish ornamentation of the first one. It is believed that they were used for hunting. They are the first of their kind to be discovered.

Work on the tomb of Tutankhamen, which has been in progress for several years under the direction of Howard Carter, has added extensively to modern knowledge of the customs and history of ancient Egypt. The body of the young King was found within a magnificent sarcophagus which contained two inner coffins. The inner coffin was of solid gold, magnificently engraved both inside and out and embellished with precious stones. Carter expressed the opinion that it was among the world's finest works of art.

Mumtaz has married an Amritzar merchant, Abdul Rehman, and her mother, Vazir Begum, is bringing suit to keep from the new husband the money left to Mumtaz by Bawla. The suit is filed in behalf of Mumtaz' baby daughter, Sadat Begum, for $30,000.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Like many shy persons, Sir James Barrie dreads being called on the telephone. But despite his dislike, the author feels that he should have a telephone in his home.

The name of Sir James, however, does not appear in the telephone directory. Nor is it registered in the secret files of the telephone department. Instead, the 'phone is listed under the name of Sir James' butler, and by this system the writter is accessible by wire only to those intimate friends who know him well enough to also be aware of the name of his butler.

PRINCESS ASTRID TRIES ON HER WEDDING GOWN

Then Belgian Prince Leopold's Bride-Elect Bakes a Cake for Dinner.

By the Associated Press.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Nov. 2.—Princess Astrid tried on her wedding gown today and found it a perfect fit. Later she went to the kitchen of the family apartment and baked a chocolate frosted cake for the Belgian Crown Prince, Leopold, to whom she will be married Thursday.

The cake will be served at a dinner tomorrow, at which two Kings, two Queens, two Crown Princes and eight Princesses will be the guests. Tomorrow is Leopold's twenty-fifth birthday, and extensive preparations have been made for its celebration. The Princess is 20 years old.

Astrid, although niece of the King of Swkeden, will virtually move from an apartment to a palace by her marriage to Leopold. The home of her parents, the Duke and Duchess of Vastergotland, in which she and her sisters have lived since childhood, is although luxurious, in reality an apartment of the type familiar to Americans.

Both Astrid and Leopold have been avciding the public gaze as much as possible, leaving the apartment only for short walks or to attend informal functions.

Through reading the newspapers Astrid has begun to realize the interest the world is taking in the event which at first appeared to her to be a very private affair. What it means to Sweden, she can judge by merely looking out the window. Flagpoles are going up everywhere; buildings, private or public, are blossoming into fancy dress, and even the ancient bridges are decorated in her honor.

Detectives are guarding the gifts at th royal palace, where the wedding ceremony is to be held. Among the gifts are 10 dozen silver plates, topped with gold, given by the city of Stockholm; silver trays from the officers of the navy, and an array of silver objects from the regiment of Vastergotland, whence Astrid's father received his title. The gifts occupy one of the largest rooms in the palace, but only those given through official Swedish sources will be shown publicly.

The King and Queen of the Belgians and Leopold's brother and sister, Prince Charles and Princess Marie Jose, arrived in Stockholm this forenoon and received a rousing greeting. King Gustav and Princess Astrid met them at the station. Leopold rode into the city with his family, having boarded the train at a way station 15 miles from the capital. The royal guests passed to the palace through cheering crowds.

IRELAND FILES EIGHT PACTS WITH LEAGUE, DEFIES BRITAIN

Action Taken Despite Chamberlain's Denial That Geneva Body Has Jurisdiction.

Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos. (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 2.—Registration by Ireland of eight treaties, several of which are "interse se" (among themselves) agreements with other dominions, while the Imperial conference is debating the Empire's unity in London, give indication of Dublin's unalterable opposition to Sir Austen Chamberlain's tesis that disputes within the Empire as not subject to the jurisdiction of the League of Nations.

Following Ireland's defiance of England at the recent Assembly by becoming a candidate for Council membership, the action of depositing the treaties places Dublin in the role of defender of the treaty-making powers of the Dominions.

Among the agreements deposited are postal agreements with the United States and Germany.

SESSION THURSDAY TO ARRANGE TRIAL OF JUDGE ENGLISH

Managers of Prosecution of Impeachment to Meet in Washington to Lay Their Plans.

CASE IS SET FOR HEARING NOV. 10

Precedents Point to Dropping of Charges Where Accused Officials Have Resigned Before Trial.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Nine members of the House of Representatives, who have been appointed as managers of the prosecution in the impeachment trial of Federal Judge George Washington English of East St. Louis, will assemble here Thursday to lay their plans for the trial, which is to begin before the Senate a week from tomorrow.

Since last week, when it became known that William F. Zumbrunn, general counsel for the Ku Klux Klan, had withdrawn as associate counsel for Judge English, there has been speculation here as to the probability that Judge English would resign rather than face trial. E. C. Kramer of East St. Louis, chief counsel for Judge English, has stated, as is known, that so far as he knows Judge English will be ready for trial Nov. 10. Judge English has declined to discuss any phase of the case.

Resignation Might Close Case.

The consensus among those qualified to speak upon the subject is that voluntary retirement of Judge English would cause the trial to be dropped. This course is clearly indicated by the precedents. It has been followed in each of the five cases in which an accused officials resigned his commission to escape trial after impeachment resolutions had been reported to, or adopted by the House.

These cases were those of Judge P. K. Lawrence of Louisiana, 1839; Judge John C. Watrous of Texas, 1860; Judge Mark H. Delahay of Kansas, 1872; Judge Edward Durell of Louisiana, 1874, and Judge Richard Busteed of Alabama, 1874.

In the Delahay case, the House had gone so far as to exhibit its articles of impeachment to the Senate and appoint managers to conduct the prosecution. After the Judge resigned, however, no date was ever set for the trial.

The charges against Judge Durell bore a remarkable similarity to the second article of the English impeachment charges, which accuses the Judge of fostering a "bankruptcy ring," in collusion with his former referee in bankruptcy, Charles B. Thomas. The principal charges in the Durell case were partiality to the official assignee in bankruptcy, extortionate charges by the assignee which generally absorbed the bankruptcy assets, and collusion by the assignee with auctioneers who sold bankrupt property.

Though the judiciary committee in this case was unable to show that Judge Durell had direct knowledge of the offenses he decided that discretion was the better part of valor and resigned before the case could be brought to trial.

Case of Secretary Belknap.

There was one other instance of a resignation by an accused official after impeachment had reached an advanced stage. This was in the case of Secretary of War Belknap, who was charged with accepting part of the profits of an army post tradership from a trader whom he had appointed. The impeachment resolution of the House was voted unanimously at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of March 2, 1876. Later it developed that Belknap's resignation to the Cabinet had been accepted by the President at 10 o'clock that morning.

The Senate proceeded with the trial. Belknap was acquitted by a vote of 37 for conviction and 29 for acquittal. A two-thirds majority being required to convict, he was saved by 21 senators who stated that they voted for acquittal because they were convinced that the Senate had lost jurisdiction.

It should be noted that the Belknap case, in which the resignation took place before the voting of articles of impeachment by the House, is not exactly on all fours with the case of an official who is impeached during his tenure of office and resigns while awaiting trial. The Belknap case is supposed to have established the proposition that a private citizen cannot be impeached for offenses committed during his previous tenure of public office.

There is nothing in the Belknap precedent which would prevent the

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Essenism Repudiated.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

REFERRING to your Saturday editorial, "The Anti-Essen Campaign," let me call your attention to the fact that the reform element in St. Louis County in voting for the same thing that Fred Essen stood for, in Tuesday's election, furnishes no paradox. Politics does, in emergencies, make strange bed fellows and men of unlike faiths frequently join hands and, like the lion and the lamb, lie down together. Thus we find Hay and Hawes, although sharply divided upon the prohibition issue "are made friends" that the common purpose of electing a Democrat to the United States might be served.

Thus Senator Borah, a strong prohibitionist, comes from Idaho to make speeches in Missouri to help elect Senator Williams—not a dry candidate. Likewise we find Senator Norris, Republican Senator from Nebraska, stumping the State of Pennsylvania to help in the election of Wilson, Democratic candidate for Governor.

Our good county people did not "line up" with Essen, much less were they "led by the nose." Neither was the movement to reject an unworthy proposition, as set by the City of St. Louis, led by the Essen forces as such. It was a case of a common cause taken up and fought out by those whose interests were to be jeopardized.

The fact that Fred Essen worked and voted for it condemned neither the cause nor those who espoused it.

Please have no fear that these same men and women will fail to "turn and rend" the gang in any issue where a moral or political principle is involved. What you term "Essenism and Foleyism" have their counterparts—many fold in St. Louis politics in the bonding situation existing in the criminal courts, as described in recent issues of the Post-Dispatch, which conditions are largely responsible for many of the crimes committed in the county as well as in St. Louis. GEORGE R. ROBINSON.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IN ITS issue of the 27th, the Post-Dispatch courteously welcomes the residents of the county, though "not of us," to continue the use of the St. Louis pavements and amusement facilities, "partly at our expense." Thank you very much! But permit us to remark that this invitation does not impress us as much as it would if we were not aware that very many of us own property and do business in St. Louis, paying taxes there that help to create and maintain these same pavements; and that we are liberal cash patrons of the Symphony Orchestra, ball clubs, etc. Not to be outdone in generosity, however, we cordially invite the St. Louisans to continue the use of the county's hundreds of miles of good roads and streets, although, as they do not pay taxes here, entirely "at our expense." If St. Louis has learned the lesson that the county cities will never give up their honest, devoted local governments and entrust their vital interests to a government which, to them, is almost foreign, the late campaign will not have been in vain. Not Enough Schools.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

UPON moving into the district of the Shenandoah School I was amazed to discover that it contained only six grades and that the nearest junior high school is the McKinley at Russell and Missouri avenues, 14 blocks from the Shenandoah school as the crow flies, 30 by street car without transferring and 18 by bus, necessitating transferring, which is the most expensive and most dangerous way for these 11 and 12 year old children to take. Our next choice is to have our children transferred to the Sherman School for the seventh and eighth grades, a distance of from eight to 10 blocks and over, depending on where the child lives, and having them crowded into already overcrowded seventh and eighth grade rooms at that school. We did not have to put up with such inconvenience as this 30 years ago when I went to school, and I do not understand why the seventh and eighth grades were not included in the Shenandoah school.

I am for progress, but I can't see how the school system is improved by adding the junior high schools instead of sticking to the old eight grade schools and building enough old style high school to insure them being within walking distance of the children who must attend them. It is easier to build two schools within walking distance of a community than it is to build three.

Symphony Orchestra Campaign.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE women of St. Louis anxious to further the life of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, and preserve it to our city cannot be too grateful to the press for their fine co-operation.

On behalf of the Symphony Mass Meeting Committee let me especially thank the Post-Dispatch for their splendid championing of the cause.

We fully realize what a big part this support played in the success our women were able to achieve.

MRS. LON HOCKER, Chairman.

DOUBLE JEOPARDY.

There can be no plea of double jeopardy when both state and Federal governments prosecute a prohibition violator for the same offense, says the United States Supreme Court in upholding a decision by Justice Vandevanter.

The Constitution expressly forbids double jeopardy, but in the opinion of the Supreme Court this safeguard is meaningless where one violates both a Federal law and the law of a state. That is, however much it may be against the spirit of the Constitution or even the traditional custom of courts, which usually have not practiced double jeopardy, this sinister departure from American fairness becomes a terrible reality when the chief tribunal of the land is forced to construe the meaning of concurrent jurisdiction.

Thus prohibition destroys not only the written but the unwritten law of the land as well. It is a solvent in which the letter and the spirit alike are blended into the current cure-all of reform. How many corollary evils will sweep down upon us now that this barrier has been swept aside we cannot foresee, but we may be sure that such an unholy precedent will have its evil spawn. There are other concurrent Federal and state laws, each one subject to this same interpretation, each one certain to drag its unhappy victims back and forth across the street—from one court to another.

It was this intolerable condition that the makers of the Constitution had in mind when double jeopardy was forbidden. They knew very well that the zealot would never get done persecuting those who opposed him. Yet the United States Supreme Court, finding itself unable to set aside either the sovereignty of the Federal Government or that of the state, sets the Constitution aside at one point to sustain it at another.

The people have only one defense against such an outrage, and that is to repeal one of the laws placing them in double jeopardy. In the case of prohibition, since the voters of a state cannot repeal the Federal law, they will be compelled to repeal the state law. This is what they are already doing in some of the states, and they will do it in others. Prohibition is driving them to it.

No free people can tolerate a medievalism like double jeopardy.

MR. COOLIDGE WASHES HIS HANDS.

Mr. Coolidge in decisive manner washed his hands of Illinois. The rumor that he had expressed disapproval of the Smith campaign methods was scotched in this sharp and swift rebuke from the White House:

> He (the President) has given no interview, made no statement, taken no position and expressed no attitude—for the purpose of influencing the choice of United States Senator in Illinois.

We wonder what Theodore Roosevelt or Cleveland or Wilson would have done in like circumstances. Would they have remained belligerently silent and aloof in the face of the polluted Smith candidacy and the Pennsylvania saturnalia?

It is not unreasonable to expect the President of the United States to have a word to say in defense of political morality and decency, even when his own party is steeped in guilt. We can imagine Roosevelt doing so in burning invective, or a scorching denunciation from Cleveland or Wilson.

Mr. Coolidge, however, has "taken no position" and "expressed no attitude." The purchase of voters by wholesale, the prostitution of the ballot, the degradation of a democratic institution into a Babylonian orgy of spending—on these things he has "taken no position" and "expressed no attitude."

We do not mean, by implication or innuendo, that he approves these things. But he has not raised his voice, powerful as the Chief Magistrate's, against them. What a fine thing it would be if he did and, incidentally, what a magnificent political gesture!

THE MAGIC OF HOUDINI.

There was more than sleight-of-hand magic in Houdini, the magician. He was a master of illusion, but no less a master of disillusion. He fooled our physical senses with adroit trickery, but he insisted that our minds should not believe in legerdemain. All his life he tried to prevent our brains from being fooled. The magician's art to Houdini was that of the showman, and it became supernatural only in the glare of the footlights. Houdini never wanted us to take any belief in magic home, after the curtain had fallen.

He attacked all forms of mental magic with a zealot's ardor. He seemed to delight in reducing that which we had accepted as phenomena to the merest puppetry. The Hindu fakir's sealed casket trick he explained as simple conservation of oxygen. To prove his theory he remained in such a casket longer than the fakir had. He attacked spiritualism not through any wish to destroy the belief in life after death, but because many so-called mediums were fooling the public with the tawdriest hokum. Spirit writing, levitations, ectoplasm, verbal messages—Houdini had logical explanations for them all.

Magician tip to this magician was an honorable calling, but not to be imposed upon the public as prophecy or superstition. For that we honor Houdini. Honesty was his finest magic.

COMMUNICATING WITH MARS.

Many have been amused at the report from London that a British "psychic expert" paid for and had transmitted a radio message for the planet Mars, consisting of the meaningless words: "Opesti niptia secomba." No reply came over the wireless, but the sender claims that he has received messages from the planet while in a trance, and understands the Martian language.

What one gets in a trance no one else can dispute. But several years ago two books appeared purporting to be descriptions of Mars, its inhabitants, language and customs. One was published in Vienna, Austria. The other, by a St. Louis woman, was published here, and had a considerable sale. The strange thing—and yet not so strange—was that the two authors disagreed entirely as to the people of Mars, their habitations, and their language. Both books were written through the trance or automatic writing methods, and it is probable that both authors believed in their own revelations.

H. G. Wells also had a revelation, but it was the revelation of romantic authorship. In his "War of the Worlds" he not only tells us what the Martians are like, but brings them on to this planet, much to the horror of earth's inhabitants, whose existence is threatened by the visit. Undoubtedly Wells knew as much about it as the other investigators, and that was nothing.

NO COERCION FOR CITY EMPLOYES.

Mayor Miller in a measure corrects the blunder of sending out dictatorial orders to city employes, including the firemen, to vote and work for the Republican ticket today by assuring the employes and the public that there will be no coercion. He says every employe is free to vote as he pleases, and that no one will be dismissed on account of his vote.

The Mayor's statement mitigates the worst offense in the effort to line up all employes, including the firemen, as election workers for the Republican City Committee. It frees the effort of coercion through threats of dismissal. The order should not have gone out in the first place, but the situation is greatly improved by the Mayor's utterance.

GOLF BALLS INTO HIGHBALLS.

Somewhere in Nebraska the game of golf is functioning like a contrivance of the adversary. Beside this particular course—grim commentary on the inequality of things—stands that last refuge of the baffled, a poorhouse. Now, Nebraska golfers, it seems, are as faultily human as the breed elsewhere. They frequently shoot them wild. And these erratic hooks and tangential curves have become as manna to the beaten warriors in life's battle. The luckless indigents have learned that golf balls are coin of the realm, readily exchangeable for Nebraska moonshine.

This strange sequence of events is distressing to some of Nebraska's best people. The morals of their impecunious charges are being corrupted. The laws of God and man are cracking under the strain. The commandment against stealing is in shreds and the Constitution in tatters. That is the side of the picture they see.

There is another side to the picture, we submit. Though the means be devious, some gjints of gayety have been introduced into drab and dreary lives. Morally and legally it may all be heinous, but the dispensation by which Nebraska's unfortunate have been enabled to convert golf balls into highballs adds a jocund note to the music of the spheres.

BACK TO NATURE.

It is somewhat disquieting to consider the untoward results that may accrue from the story of Horace Kephart, who has lived two lives, as interestingly narrated in the Post-Dispatch Sunday Magazine. This man, as the story runs, turned midway in the life that he had been living and went away into the wilds and began all over again, finding in his second adventure greater satisfactions than his first had afforded. It is disquieting because the world is filled with men who, at midway, are dissatisfied with life as they have lived it and long for something different, something with solitudes and campfires in it.

Held in leash by devotion to duty and the exigencies of the hour, they have dulled their ears to the call, doubtful after all whether the thing could be done, whether they really could throw off the burden of the here and now and go back to the Land of Beginning Again.

Now, shown by the example of Horace Kephart, that new life can be won at the poor price of the old, an exodus of middle-aged men from the busy places to the wide spaces and high places may be looked for. Presently, it may be imagined, the mahogany desks that have known them will know them no more. With "Back to Nature" pennants flying they will vanish in a cloud of dust on the horizon in the general direction of outdoors.

It is a catastrophe not to be lightly regarded, for the world cannot well carry on without the services of its experienced middle-aged men. The world's distress, however, will be less than Horace Kephart's consternation, for he hates to be crowded and there will be nothing for him but to move farther back and begin all over for the third time.

The double-jeopardy decision was a one-two punch at the rights of American citizens.

WE, TOO, HAVE A CLUB.

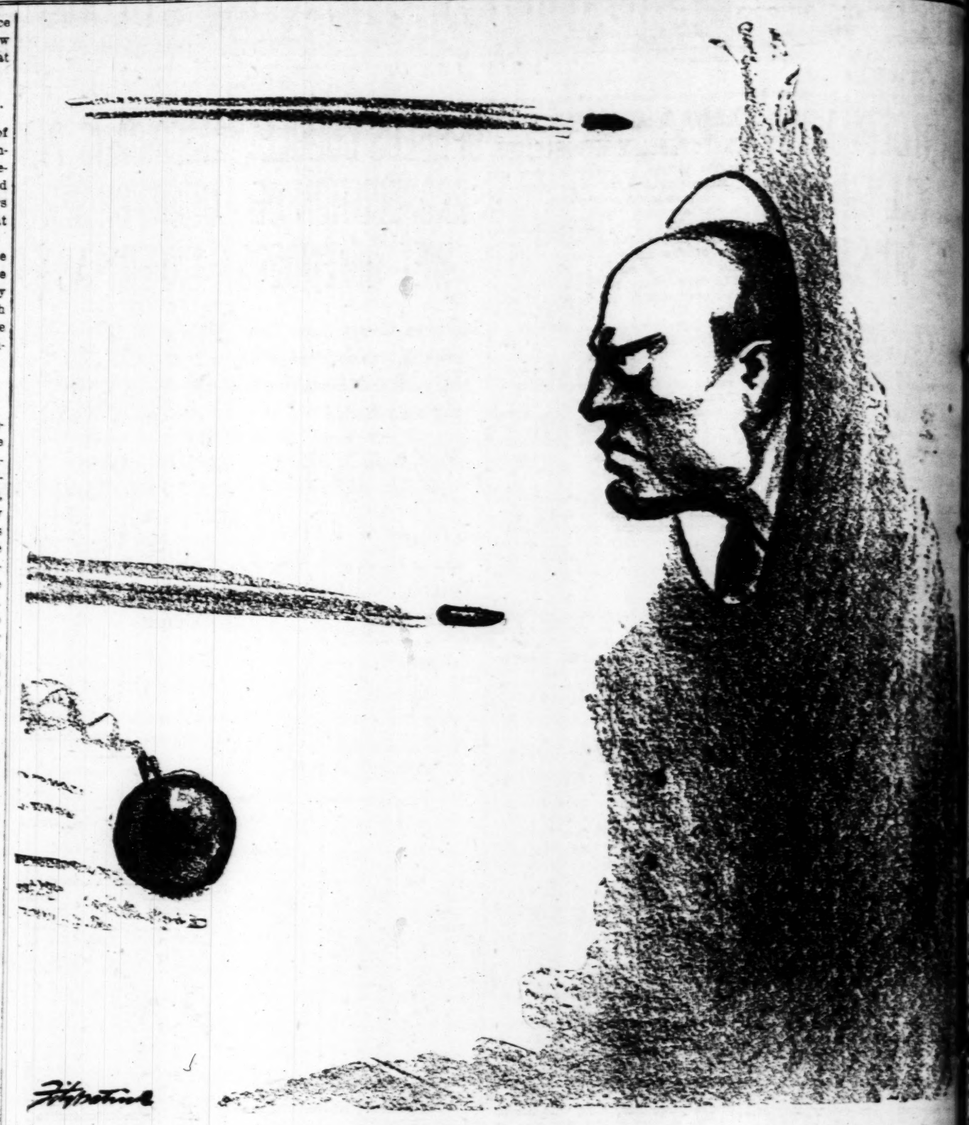

There are nine essential commodities which we do not grow or produce at home, over which foreign Governments have set up export restrictions for the purpose of sustaining an excessive sales price. They are long-staple cotton, rubber, coffee, nitrates, potash, sisal, iodine, camphor and mercury. It took more than $1,600,000,000 out of our pocketbook last year to pay our bill for these commodities, and the profits which accrued to the foreign vendors through the transactions make our former war profiteers look like a bunch of pikers.

Protests made to foreign Governments by our State Department against their monopolistic control systems, which are preventing the operation of the natural law of supply and demand, have so far fallen on deaf ears. Incidentally, we failed in these controversies to call their attention to our own high-tariff wall, which discriminates against them.

It may not have occurred to the foreign powers who are setting up these price-control monopolies and forcing us to pay through the nose for certain vital necessities that the United States possesses a high-powered weapon of reprisal in its home-grown cotton. The world's cotton mills, exclusive of the United States, absorb annually 17,000,000 bales of cotton, and the world's raw cotton supply exclusive of the United States is less than 11,000,000 bales. Foreign countries need, then, as a minimum, 6,000,000 bales annually of United States cotton. As a matter of fact they will use this year 9,000,000 bales of our short-staple cotton, because much cotton grown abroad still finds it way to the family hand loom, and not into the commercial market.

If Congress could or should see fit to control cotton exportation by buying and warehousing 6,000,000 or more bales, paying the grower—mind you, not the middle man or speculator—5 cents a pound for it, and issuing to him a nontransferable certificate, which promises to pay later the full sales price received abroad by the Government, the grower would assuredly obtain a high price for his crop through this retaliatory squeeze of the foreign markets. To insure continued stabilization in prices the certificate holders would pledge themselves to abide by short-crop planting regulations issued by the Government.

If you have any grievances, you may air them by voting today.

BYRON REVAMPED.

A still was discovered in New Jersey because the camouflage painted to simulate the leaves, failed to turn color in autumn—News Item.

The dry agents came down on the hunt for a still,
And the cohorts of Andrews made search with a will;
But the fruit of their labors was not yet to be,
Though they searched high and low, not a still could they see.

Like the leaves of the forest when summer is green
That big still had been painted and could not be seen:
But the leaves of the forest when autumn hath blown?
It was then like a ruby-red nose the still shone.

For the leaves of the forest, when summer has passed,
All too quickly turn color; the green does not last;
And the eyes of the agents were given a thrill,
By the verdure of summer, they spotted the still.

And there lay the worm with its copper all bright,
But through it there flowed not the bootlegger's delight;
And the mash of their making was spilled on the ground,
And the agents rejoiced in the still they had found.

And the makers of whisky are loud in their wail,
And the makers of whisky are safely in jail;
For the green of the forest is likely to turn,
That's a thing the distiller's of whisky should learn.

WHAT CAUSES CRIME?

Books have been written on this subject; sermons have been preached; much thought has been devoted to the whys and wherefores of criminality. Yet no satisfactory solution of the problem has been reached. We believe that those who hitherto have conducted the investigations have failed because of their interest in a solution. Chiefs of police, lawyers and ministers are interested in either the suppression or the solution of crime. What is needed is a disinterested view on the matter. The prime necessity in an investigator is a total lack of even academic interest in crime. We qualify and nominate ourselves for the investigation. When the Chief of Detectives laid crime at the door of ladies' cigarettes we decided to push the investigation. All the ladies we know who smoke cigarettes smoke ours. Could it be that we were, albeit unwillingly, contributing to crime? The problem had to be solved. The solution took 30 minutes, personally fabricated cigarettes, two sheets of paper and a not inconsiderable amount of thought. Our survey includes all forms of crime, major and minor, masculine and feminine, and is so thorough in its scope that it embraces playing the saxophone, dancing the Charleston and saying: "So's your old man." We disagree emphatically with the Rev. John Roach Straton and with the Chief of Detectives. The criminal is a criminal because he wants something belonging to somebody else, and proceeds to get it feloniously. To abolish crime, abolish private property, including cigarettes. But that's communism? Well then, we'll shut up. But we still insist that

Have nothing to do with crime."

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reprint without bias the latest comment by leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

THOSE WHITE CROSSES.

From the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

COMING to town this morning a motorist picked up a stranger who asked: "What are those white crosses for, the ones painted on the pavement?" He was informed that they indicated places where fatal automobile accidents had occurred. "How depressing!" was his comment. "To quite spoil the pleasure of one's ride." The grim reminders ought to be depressing. Even the feeling they must engender in the minds of all thoughtful persons will be of little use unless it leads to action, to a determination by all automobile owners and drivers to do their share toward reducing the number of these distressing tragedies. The New York police official remarked the other day that he remembered the first motor fatality in the metropolis and the excitement it caused. It was made the text for numerous editorials, one observing that the time might come when there would be a similar fatal accident every week in the year. Now less strict regulation of the new vehicle were enforced. Now motor fatalities average three a day in New York. There has more than two a week. These white crosses do depress. They should also depress us all with the increasing perils of the streets and the responsibility that rests upon every motorist, every pedestrian, every official, to curb this recklessness which takes such terrible toll of human lives.

PROTECTION FOR THE MAHA.

From the Washington Star.

THE Marines have again answered the call to arms in defense of the United States mail. From the Marine base at Quantico more than 1200 sturdy "leathernecks" were dispatched to strategic points throughout the country, there to stand guard against the banditry which has reached such proportions that drastic measures on the part of the Government have become necessary. It will be a brave and foolhardy gang of criminals, indeed, that will attempt now to rob the mails. The Marines are quick on the trigger, and will stand no nonsense from persons bent on crime. Through faithfulness to duty and a rare degree of courage and coolheadedness the Marines have made for themselves an enviable reputation in the fighting forces of the United States, and the mere fact that they are now on guard to protect the mails is sufficient guarantee that henceforth banditry will plan other lines of activity for the "easy money" that is their means of livelihood.

COOKING A LOST ART.

From the Pathfinder.

FRENCH cookery is on the decline, according to Paul Descamps, noted French epicure. The famous dishes of a generation back have been supplanted in restaurants, inns and homes by hurriedly prepared food which bears no distinction. Quantity, not quality, is now the chief concern of the French cook, he says. There is not much hurry and bustle in the average woman's life for her to take the necessary time to study and practice the culinary art. The restaurant, with its standard products, says Descamps, is gradually taking the place of the home in respect to cooking.

ALFRED J. SIEGEL LUMBER MILL MAN, DIES AT HIS HOME

President of Huttig Sash & Door Co., Succumbs to Heart Trouble, at the Age of 55.

WAS PROMINENT IN OTHER INDUSTRIES

Headed Manchester Bank and Mound City Box Co. and Was Active in Civic and Masonic Circles.

Alfred J. Siegel, president of the Huttig Sash and Door Co., the Manchester Bank and also of the Mound City BoxCo., died of heart trouble last night at his home, 5565 Lindell boulevard. He had been in poor health for four months, but was able to visit his office Saturday.

Born in Waterloo, Ill., 55 years ago, and educated in the public schools, Mr. Siegel started commercial life in a bank there as a clerk, in 1886. Two years later he came here to work for the Huttig company, and rose steadily in its employ.

In 1898 he was elected secretary and general manager. Fifteen years after that, in 1913, he became its president and dominating figure. The company is one of the largest planing mill concerns in this section and has an extensive plant at 1200 South Vandeventer avenue.

Mr. Siegel was interested in numerous other business enterprises and in 1923 was made president of the Manchester Bank, which is near the mill.

During the World War the entire Huttig plant was placed at the Government's disposal, through Siegel's instrumentality. Siegel was active in numerous civic, fraternal and social organizations and was a large contributor to the fund for the new Masonic Temple.

In the antitrust suit brought by former Attorney-General Barrett against the members of the St. Louis Millmen's Association five years ago and ended last year by the acquittal of the defendant companies, Siegel was prominent. Testifying, he denied statements attributed to him at a restaurant conference by Barrett or was unable to recall details. Barrett had counted on him as a star witness to reveal workings of the association. Following the conference Siegel had caused withdrawal of his company from the association.

Mr. Siegel's wife, whom he married in 1894, and their sons, Ralph W. and Roy R., survive.

The funeral will be at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow from the Lindell boulevard residence. Active pallbearers will be P. J. Freyermuth, J. Bockstette, J. C. Coburn, G. A. Husmann, L. G. Barnard, L. E. Clark, Charles L. McLean, C. L. Timm, A. C. Gorbet and J. F. Watson.

HEIRESS TO WED GRAND DUKE AT BIARRITZ ABOUT NOV. 21

Miss Audrey Emery Hesitated Because of Dmitri's Part in Murder of Rasputin.

Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Publishing Co. (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

PARIS, Nov. 2.—Miss Audrey Emery of New York will be married to the Grand Duke Dmitri Pavlovitch of Russia in Biarritz about Nov. 21, she said over the telephone from Biarritz last night.

The engagement came as a surprise, as Dmitri's chances of winning the heiress had seemed hopeless. She hesitated, it was said, on account of his connection with the assassination of the Monk Rasputin. Although Dmitri did not do the actual killing, to which Prince Youssoupoff proudly confesses, he was a party to the plot.

MOZART'S LOVE OPERA SUNG

First Production in America of "Abduction of the Seraglio."

By the Associated Press.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 2.—"The Abduction of the Seraglio," an opera by Mozart, was given its first presentation in America by the Rochester American Opera company here last night. It was produced at the Eastman School of Music and was sung in English.

The story concerns the love of Belmonte for Constanza, a Spanish maiden held captive by the Turkish Pasha Selim. The opera first was presented at Vienna in 1782, at the command of Joseph II, shortly after it had been written by Mozart, from a libretto by Bretzner. It was written at a time when Mozart had aroused the ire of his father because of his love for Constanza Webber. Mozart married the girl and a short time later completed the opera, the reason for belief that it was inspired by his love for his bride.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

THE afternoon reception seems to be proving the popular party for the debutantes this season. Another bud who has chosen that form of entertainment at which to make her bow is Miss Helen Martha Woods, daughter of Parker H. Woods of Washington boulevard.

The affair will be given tomorrow afternoon at the Bellerive Country Club from 4 to 6 o'clock. Mrs. Walter Medart and Mrs. Randolph Smith Lyon, the latter a sister of the debutante, will receive with her. Miss Woods will wear a silver-beaded gown over a flesh-tinted slip, and will carry an arm bouquet of pink roses.

The elaborate Halloween decorations at the club have been left intact for the affair and in addition the mantels will be banked with ferns and roses, and cut flowers will form a background for the receiving party. One of the tea tables is to be decorated in pink roses and the other will have autumn colors.

The debutantes invited to serve are Miss Dorothy Maxwell, Miss Kathleen Ryan, Miss Roccena Baldwin, Miss Julia Klipstein, Miss Margaret and Miss Jane Mahler, Miss Margart Rumsey, Miss June Morgens, Miss Helen Frampton, Miss Edith Peters and Miss Florence Brooks.

A group of matrons who will assist without hats includes Mrs. Leonard R. Woods, Mrs. R. E. Woods, Mrs. E. E. Haverstick, Mrs. Frederick E. Gardner, Mrs. Christian Stocke, Mrs. Walter Warren, Mrs. M. W. Warren, Mrs. Ernst C. Klipstein, Mrs. S. S. Eagle, Mrs. Louis Mahler and Mrs. Reynolds C. Frampton.

Mrs. Eagle will give a luncheon for the debutante later, and Mrs. Medart will be hostess at a theater party for her. Mr. Woods is planning a dance for the debutante in December. Miss Woods will accompany her father to the Army-Navy football game in Chicago Nov. 27.

Two debutante luncheons will keep a large group of the buds interested this afternoon. The larger will be given by Mrs. William H. Thomson of 4905 Argyle place, in honor of her granddaughter, Miss Anne Coxe, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Alexander B. Coxe of Washington, D. C., who is making her debut here this winter. A similar smaller affair will be given by Mrs. William N. Bemis of Hotel Chase in honor of Miss Roccena Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Warrington Baldwin. The affair will be given at the St. Louis Woman's Club and the luncheon table will be adorned with Ward roses.

Next Sunday evening Miss Coxe and Miss Dorothy Maxwell, daughter of Harold Maxwell of the Kingsbury apartments, will share honors at an informal tea to be given by Mrs. Charles Cummings Collins, an aunt of Miss Coxe, at her apartment, 4392 Lindell boulevard.

Miss Dorothy Bemis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bemis of Hotel Chase, will go to New York for the week-end Saturday, Nov. 13, to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Battle, and will be their guest at the Yale-Princeton football game to be played that day at Princeton.

St. Louis friends will regret the serious illness of Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt of Los Angeles, Cal., at her apartment in the Darby Hotel. Mrs. Sloan-Orcutt, a prominent clubwoman and philanthropist, is a sister of Mrs. John Leigh Green of 12 Kingsbury place, and has visited her at various times. She was in St. Louis last spring, and accompanied Mrs. Green East for the graduation of her daughter, Miss Marian, from Vassar College. Last summer she entertained extensively for Mrs. Green and her daughters during their stay in Los Angeles before sailing for Honolulu.

Mrs. Lee A. Harris of 6 Beverly place, will be hostess at a tea this afternoon to be given at her home, complimentary to Mrs. Foster Holmes, who before her marriage in June was Miss Gertrude Walther, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lambert E. Walther of 5344 Cabanne avenue. The home will be decorated in pink and yellow roses. Mrs. Harris will be assisted in receiving by her sister, Mrs. David L. Ewing.

Miss Trimble Hoblietzelle, daughter of Mrs. George K. Hoblitzelle of 6450 Ellenwood avenue, returned yesterday from a visit in New York. Miss Hoblitzelle will accompany her mother on a trip to Africa. They plan to depart some time in January.

Miss Lydia Chichester duPont, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Felix duPont of Wilmington, Del., who was the guest of Miss Maud Miller Streett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark Streett of 4218 Lindell boulevard, several weeks ago, will make her debut Saturday. Miss duPont will share honors with Miss

To Address Clubwomen.

Dr. Nancy M. Hain of Sedalia, State president and national vice-president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, is in St. Louis for the purpose of inducing women's clubs to affiliate with the national organization. A general meeting is planned for later in the week, at which the question will be discussed.

Episcopal Women to Meet.

Women of all Episcopal Church parishes of the city will attend the quarterly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary tomorrow in the Church of the Holy Communion, 2801 Washington University, when Mrs. C. R. Pancoast of Philadelphia, Dean William Scarlett of Christ Church Cathedral and Rev. Dr. Karl Block of St. Michael and All Angels' Episcopal Church and Mrs. Robert Burkham will be the speakers. The meeting opens at 10 a. m.

TO MAKE HER DEBUT

Miss Helen Martha Woods.

MISS WOOD, daughter of Parker Woods, of 6248 Washington boulevard, will make her debut at a tea tomorrow afternoon at Bellerive Country Club. The debutante will receive with her sister, Mrs. Randolph S. Lyon, and Mrs. Walter Medart.

Hope Randolph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Randolph of Philadelphia at the tea. Mr. and Mrs. duPont also will give a ball Friday, Nov. 26, at the Bellevue-Stratford for their daughter and Miss Randolph. Among the guests will be Miss Josephine Salorgne Scullin, daughter of Mrs. Josephine S. Scullin of the St. Regis Apartments, who is attending the Great Barrington School in Massachusetts.

An innovation in theatricals is the Mushroom Theater, in which the characters are puppets, which will be brought to St. Louis by Alfred and Dorothy Kreymborg, who will give two puppet plays Friday, Nov. 12, at 3 o'clock, at Founder's Hall at Mary Institute. The performances will be under the auspices of the Mary Institute Alumnae Association. Mr. and Mrs. Kreymborg are stopping in St. Louis on a transcontinental tour with their theater, for which Mr. Kreymborg writes the plays an plays the mandolute, a musical instrument which he designed. Mrs. A. R. Smyth is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Edward K. Love, Mrs. Erastus Wells, Mrs. Waller Edwards and Mrs. Ingram Boyd. Mrs. W. C. Bitting Jr. is president of the Mary Institute Alumnae Association.

BOBBED HAIR APPARENTLY LOSING CASTE AMONG "400"

Wavy Locks in Diamond Horseshoe at Opening of Metropolitan Opera Season.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Bobbed hair apparently has lost caste in the Four Hundred. Long, wavy locks on the heads of debutantes and matrons in the diamond horseshoe were noted at the opening of the Metropolitan Opera season last night.

A profusion of feathers, in brilliant colors, waved in the fans of the diamond horseshoe as well as from the dresses and cloaks. Brocade cloaks of black and gold, and ermine coats predominated, while velvet coats lent color to the array. One wrap, of copper velvet, had a heavily beaded collar that hung, monklike, behind, and was used as a close-fitting cowl when the wearer left. Another wrap, of cloth-of-gold, was horizontally banded with ermine stripes. Occasional diamond ear-drops flashed among the sedate crowd.

In rainbow-hued frocks, which contrasted with their rouged cheeks, debutantes filled the corridors during intermission. Metal cloth and moire were much in evidence in their costumes, which were featured by the popular bolero jackets and uneven skirt lines, trimmed with rows of swishing bead fringe.

The opera was "The Vestal," composed 121 years ago by Spontini, Italian. Rosa Ponselle, for the second consecutive year, sang the leading role in an opening night's opera.

WILLIAM A. TIPTON DIES AT 64

William A. Tipton, 64 years old, president of the Tipton Furnace Manufacturing Co., died yesterday afternoon from pneumonia at his home, 4948 Easton avenue. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral chapel at 2707 North Grand boulevard. The funeral will be conducted by the Masonic Lodge of which he was a member. Burial will be in Valhalla Cemetery.

Surviving him are his widow and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Bishop and Mrs. D. R. Klingsmith. Mr. Tipton came here 40 years ago from Indiana to found the National Warm Air Furnace Co., which later became the Tipton Co.

McKendree College Homecoming.

The fourth annual homecoming celebration will be held at McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., next Saturday, the feature of which will be the football game between McKendree and Shurtleff College of Alton. The day's program will consist of a reunion of the alumni in the chapel in the morning, a parade of novel floats in the afternoon, and a dinner in the evening.

Arnold Daly, Actor, in Hospital.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Arnold Daly's role in "Juarez and Maximilian" was filled by his understudy last night while Daly was in a hospital with a fractured skull suffered in a fall.

FUNERAL OF EDWIN TICKNOR, PIONEER ST. LOUIS MERCHANT

He Was 91 Years Old and Came to This City From Vermont in 1857.

The funeral of Edwin Ticknor, 91 years old, pioneer merchant of St. Louis, who died Saturday at his home, 35 South Gore avenue, Webster Groves, took place yesterday with services at Webster Groves Presbyterian Church and burial in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Before the Civil War, Mr. Ticknor with a brother established the clothing house of Ticknor & Co. at Fourth street and Washington avenue. They came to St. Louis from Vermont in 1857.

At that time the city was mostly east of Broadway, fur traders were frequent visitors to the city, slaves were sold on the Courthouse steps, there were no bridges over the river and the water front was a thriving place. A few years ago Mr. Ticknor recalled the St. Louis of that day in an article, "Looking Back on Seventy Years of Life in St. Louis."

His long life Mr. Ticknor attributed to consistency in habits, moderate eating and abstinence from stimulants, especially coffee, which he said he never drank. He was married three times, being survived by his widow, Mrs. Lillie A. Ticknor, and a daughter, Mrs. J. T. Stockton, of Lansing, Mich.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Dr. William A. Mann, superintendent of the National Zoological Park here, who recently returned from a wild animal Hunt in East Africa, and Miss Lucille Quarry of New York, a member of the editorial staff of Woman's Home Companion, were married here Saturday.

NEW PLAY IS PRESENTED BY MRS. SAMUEL INSULL

Wife of Utilities Magnate Makes Debut in Own Opera Company in Her Chicago Theater.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—A play in manuscript by a new American writer was the choice of Mrs. Samuel Insull, who, before her marriage to the utilities magnate, was the Gladys Wallis of the stage, for her debut at the head of her own company of play folk.

Society and theater lovers interested in the venture thronged the Studebaker last night to see "The Runaway Road," three-act comedy by Mrs. Gretchen Damrosch Finletter, daughter of Walter Damrosch, musical conductor.

Critiques said the performance was "good, light popular theater, done with taste and skill," and "put on with care and taste." Although the written version is "unsteady, halting, spotty" it is "human and genuinely humorous."

The theater and company are the gift of Insull to his wife, who returned to the stage a year ago in a revival of "The School for Scandal."

Discoverer of Minnesota Iron Dies.

By the Associated Press.

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 2.—Alfred Merritt, 79 years old, co-discoverer with his brother, Leonidas Merritt, of vast iron deposits in the Mesabe Range of Northern Minnesota, is dead here.

NEW MEXICAN VICE CONSUL

Romulo Vargas Succeeds Manuel O. Ruiz Sandoval Here.

Romulo Vargas, Mexican Vice Consul, today took charge of the Mexican Consulate here, succeeding Manuel O. Ruiz Sandoval, Consul here for the last 13 months. Sandoval will return to Mexico City.

The St. Louis Chamber of Commerce has been advised by the Foreign Minister of Mexico that Angel Casarin, now Mexican Consul in Norfolk, Va., will take charge of the St. Louis Consulate Nov. 15, indicating that Vargas' appointment is only temporary.

1925, in a hotel where a telescopic rifle had been set up in a window facing Chigi Palace from the balcony of which Mussolini was to speak. Zaniboni is charged by the authorities with being responsible for the preparations of that attempt on the Premier.

Gen. Luigi Capello was arrested about the same time at Turin. He is said to have been a supporter of Zaniboni in the plot.

Gina Lucetti, anarchist, hurled a bomb at Mussolini last September. He confessed to hatching the plan while in exile in France.

Cardinal Urges Prayers for Safety of Mussolini.

NAPLES, Italy, Nov. 2.—Prayers for the safety of Premier Mussolini were urged by Cardinal Ascalesi, Archbishop of Benevento, in an address to a crowd which gathered here to give thanks for the escape of Il Duce from assassination.

"Thank God because he again has saved Italy by protecting the life of Mussolini," the Cardinal said. "Humbly entreat him to continue his divine protection. Providence has again saved the Premier's life; therefore there is a destiny watching him that he may accomplish good for Italy and perhaps for the whole world. It is our duty to cooperate so that the will of providence may be accomplished. For this not reprisals, but prayers are necessary."

Youth Who Tried to Kill Mussolini Was a Fascist.

Copyright, 1926, by the Press and Publisher Publishing Co. (New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

ROME, Nov. 20.—The youth who fired a revolver at Premier Mussolini Sunday was identified yesterday as Anteo Zamboni, son of a Bologna printer. It was difficult to identify him, for there were no papers in his pockets and his body had been savagely treated by the crowd which lynched him. His black shirt was torn to shreds.

By the Associated Press.

BOLOGNA, Nov. 2.—Announcement was made at the Prefecture of Police today that Anteo Zamboni belonged to "Fascist Youth," but that he had not attended the organization's meetings for more than a year.

It was added that Mammolo Zamboni, father of Anteo, at one time was connected with anarchist circles in Bologna, but apparently had dissociated himself from any subversive activities for years. Anteo was a pale boy of 15. The father used to discourse lengthily to his three sons on the injustice of all governments. He abandoned his revolutionary ideas some time ago, but not until they had penetrated the mind of Anteo, the youngest son.

The two other boys followed their father's example, one entered the Facist Militia and the other serving in the army, while Anteo nursed his ideas by the clandestine reading of propagandist literature. Knowing of the father's change of heart and fearing his wrath, since the elder Zamboni was a strict disciplinarian, Anteo worked chiefly as an assistant in the print shop, not voicing his ideas, which, however, the father suspected.

Anti-French Demonstration at Nice by Anti-Fascists.

By the Associated Press.

NICE, France, Nov. 2.—A Fascist manifestation in connection with the attack on Mussolini developed into a violent anti-French demonstration at Ventimiglia, a border town of Italy, yesterday says a dispatch from that place to the L'Eclaireur.

A French railroad employe's failure to remove his hat while the band was playing the Fascist hymn near the station, was the cause of the trouble. The Fascists beat him and several of his comrades and then held a demonstration in front of the French Consulate.

Mussolini, at Home Playing Violin, Talking With Children.

By the Associated Press.

FORLI, Italy, Nov. 2.—Playing old melodies to himself on the violin and talking with his children regarding their school affairs, Premier Mussolini is quietly enjoying domestic life while the rest of Italy seethes with indignation over the latest attempt to kill him.

SESSION THURSDAY TO ARRANGE TRIAL OF JUDGE ENGLISH

Senate from taking cognizance of the English charges if he should resign between now and Nov. 10. Nor would any of the other precedents debar the Senate from proceeding with the trial. This fact is clearly established by the power which the Constitution gives the Senate not only to remove an impeached official from office but to impose the additional penalty of perpetual disqualification for holding any office of trust or profit under the United States.

Judge English, in the event of his resignation, might still be brought to trial with a view to imposing this penalty. In two of the three successful cases of impeachment against Federal Judges, the Senate has added this stigma to that of removal from office.

Since, however, the main end of an impeachment trial is to get rid of an undesirable official, there has been a uniform disposition to drop cases against Federal Judges when this end has been attained by resignation. There is no reason to believe that a different precedent would be created in the English case. A trial after resignation could only serve the purposes of adding the disbarment penalty if the Judge should be found guilty.

Judge Lindley Presides at Federal Court in East St. Louis.

The November term of the Federal Court, at East St. Louis, was convened yesterday with Judge Walter C. Lindley of Danville, presiding in place of Federal Judge English, whose impeachment trial before the Senate, on charges of misdemeanors, is scheduled to begin Nov. 10.

District Attorney Harold Baker appeared as prosecutor for the Government for the first time in East St. Louis. The following fines and sentences were imposed to pleas of guilty of violations of the prohibition law: Mrs. Louisa Boehm, $200 and admitted to probation for six months; Richard Sholays and George Lebors, 30 days, and $200 fine, and Mike Lukitch, a year and a day at Leavenworth and $500 fine. Lukitch is a second offender.

SEEKS $6500 COUNTY SCHOOL FUND LOAN

Hugo Essen in Arrears in Interest on $5000 He Obtained in 1921.

Hugo Essen, a Clayton real estate dealer and brother of Fred Essen, Republican boss of St. Louis County, has requested the County Court, or administrative body, for a loan of $6500 from the county school fund, in order to be able to pay back a $5000 loan he obtained from the fund five years ago and to meet $750 interest due on the earlier transaction, for which he is in default.

The court has not acted on his request, but at his suggestion expects to examine the land on which he gave the county a mortgage as security. The court has authority to make loans from the school fund with real estate as collateral.

Essen obtained the original $5000 loan on Sept. 21, 1921, from a former Republican personnel of the County Court. Members of the court then were John Wiethaupt, Fred C. Stille and J. William Shields. The loan, at 5 per cent annual interest, was to Hugo Essen and his wife, with Fred Essen and the late D. C. Taylor, attorney, as indorsers.

The first interest payment, in 1922, was made by Hugo Essen, and he made the payment due in 1923

SEEKS $6500 COUNTY SCHOOL FUND LOAN

Hugo Essen in Arrears in Interest on $5000 He Obtained in 1921.

Hugo Essen, a Clayton real estate dealer and brother of Fred Essen, Republican boss of St. Louis County, has requested the County Court, or administrative body, for a loan of $6500 from the county school fund, in order to be able to pay back a $5000 loan he obtained from the fund five years ago and to meet $750 interest due on the earlier transaction, for which he is in default.

The court has not acted on his request, but at his suggestion expects to examine the land on which he gave the county a mortgage as security. The court has autnority to make loans from the school fund with real estate as collateral.

Essen obtained the original $5000 loan on Sept. 31, 1921, from a former Republican personnel of the County Court. Members of the court then were John Wiethaupt, Fred C. Stille and J. William Shields. The loan, at 5 per cent annual interest, was to Hugo Essen and his wife, with Fred Essen and the late D. C. Taylor, attorney, as indorsers.

The first interest payment, in 1922, was made by Hugo Essen, and he made the payment due in 1923 on July 30, 1924. Since then he has not paid the interest, amounting to $250 a year.

Presiding Judge Smiley of the County Court, Democratic candidate to succeed himself at today's election, said he directed County Clerk Tiffin a number of weeks ago to check over loans from the school fund, in order to find delinquencies and to weed out those bearing less than 6 per cent interest, and thus the Essen loan was found. Smiley declared it was the duty of the County Clerk, and not the court, to see that loans and interest were paid. Essen's security, Smiley said, was about 60 acres of unimproved land near the Hog Hollow road, the value of which the Judge did not know. Smiley said the court might grant Essen the new loan or demand payment of the old one and seize the land if it was not made.

Attitude of County Clerk.

Clerk Tiffin, also a Democratic candidate to succeed himself today, said he had called the court's attention to the Essen and other loans two months ago and at various times previously, but that where there was good security, as in Essen's case, it was not the custom to press for payment. The county has not lost a penny on school fund loans since he has been in office, Tiffin declared.

Hugo Essen said today he had been buying land in recent years and was unable to "straighten up" the loan and interest. He asserted he would not press the request for a new loan, but would pay off the old one.

Smiley's colleagues in the court, Judges Bobring and Preiss, are Republicans who have been adherents of the Essen faction.

STATE TAX LAW FOUGHT BY UNION ELECTRIC CO.

Supreme Court Asked to Invalidate Equalization Board Assessment Act.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 2.—A test of the State law taking from local communities and placing with the State Board of Equalization the tax assessment of the 104 electric light companies of the State was instituted in the Supreme Court here today by the Union Electric Light and Power Co. of St. Louis.

By an application for a writ of certiorari, the electric company sought to have the law passed in 1923 and effective last year declared illegal, alleging that it is not specific as to what property of electric companies shall be assessed locally and what by the State. The law sought by reference only to make the method of assessing railroads applicable to electric companies. Land, buildings and materials continue to be assessed locally under the law, while the larger item of plant is assessed by the State.

In 1924, the first year of application of the law, the assessments of electric companies were increased an average of 50 per cent. The assessment of the Union company was increased $6,287,986 to $17,451,000, and this year there has been an additional increase to $21,227,785. The company declares that the average tax rate of the counties in which it operates, including the city of St. Louis, is $2.35, and that hence the present increase represents an increase of $496,000 in its taxes. The company in 1925 paid 43 per cent of all taxes paid by electric companies in the State.

Two Children Burned to Death.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Perry and Sophie Warnecka, two months and 18 months old, respectively, were burned to death when their home was set afire by an overheated stove. They had been left at home under the care of a 5-year-old brother, while the mother went to a grocery store.

Three Children Die in Fire.

By the Associated Press.

BEREA, Ky., Nov. 2. — Three children were burned to death at their home near here when the eldest, 11 years old, threw coal oil on an open fire to revive dying embers. They were Nellie Harrison, 11, and Susan Harrison, 17 months, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Deland Harrison, and Ella Lake, 6 months, grandchild of the Harrisons.

Five Pennsylvania Hunters Killed.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Five persons lost their lives in hunting accidents yesterday, the first day of the open season for rabbits, pheasants, quail and other small game in Pennsylvania. More than a score were injured, some seriously. Most of the victims were shot by accidental discharge of a companion's gun.

COOLIDGE INDORSES COMMUNITY FUND

President's Letter Received by Chairman Childress Says Plan Is Best Yet Devised.

President Coolidge indorsed the Community Fund plan of financing charitable work in a letter received yesterday by L. Wade Childress, general chairman of the St. Louis Community Fund. The President's letter follows:

"I believe that the Community Fund Plan of providing for local benevolences is the best which has been devised. By eliminating much of the cost of collection it increases the amount actually available for charitable purposes and makes for a wiser and more equitable division of funds in accordance with the needs and opportunities of each.

"The very fact that the American people stand ready at all times to aid a worthy cause tends in itself to increase the number of benevolences dependent for their existence upon annual contributions, so that there is a real danger that the fine objects of each may be obscured by the problem of maintenance and the true spirit of benevolence chilled by an endless succession of pressing demands.

"The Community Fund idea makes possible the inclusion of a definite sum for charitable contributions in the family budget and by a concentration of effort focuses the thought of each community at one time on the duty and the privilege which is theirs to aid the deserving and to relieve suffering and misfortune."

College Students Attack Policeman.

By the Associated Press.

ALFRED, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Motor Cycle Officer Harry Burley of Almond, this town's police "force," resigned and left town last night, after 200 college students had attacked him with rotten eggs and tomatoes. He had been here for three months. Witnesses said someone let the air out of the tires of Burley's motor cycle and he spoke his mind. The college boys pursued the officer and forced him to abandon his machine, after which they took it apart.

Do Women Age More Rapidly than Men?

Younger Looking Husband

Older Looking Wife

"Why should my Wife age so rapidly? Why should she look so old and feel so badly? Is it just because women are supposed to age more rapidly than men?"

ABOUT the only excuse for this situation today is lack of knowledge. Until recently not only women but men also became old faster than they should, and the cause very often is found to be Intestinal Putrefaction — a more common condition than has generally been recognized. Intestinal Putrefaction, according to scientific medical authorities, is constantly undermining the health, youth and strength of civilized mankind. Intestinal Putrefaction is caused by the activity of the ordinary decay germs which are taken into the stomach along with most of our food. These common germs, often held dormant in food, usually commence their activity after eating, in the incubating warmth and moisture of our stomachs and intestines. They decay the waste and undigested food material within us and turn it into a putrefied substance, which, partly absorbed, floods the blood stream with vicious poisons. Not a single cell, muscle, nerve or vital organ escapes the effects of this insidious health and youth-destroying poison.

Thus it may be seen that the effects of intestinal putrefaction are far reaching. It often causes headaches, aching limbs, loss of physical vigor, constipation, intestinal gas, abdominal pains, mental depression, dizzy spells, sallow, pasty complexion, skin eruptions and often premature old age. Long ago it was found that ordinary treatment with drugs, medicines, laxatives, etc., only served to aggravate this condition, to such an extent that science was reconciled, until recently, to take its presence for granted and to assume that there was no real way to correct inevitable Intestinal Putrefaction.

Fortunately the discoveries of "the great" Pasteur of France indicated a simple and easy way to triumph over harmful germs and disease. With his discoveries came the successful anti-toxins and more recently the Moyer's Intestinal Putrefaction Anti-toxic—"Moyer's Acid-O-Phil Tablets" which destroy the contaminating Intestinal germs of decay and thus banish Intestinal Putrefaction. They are easy and economical to take with either plain milk or water, results are quick and they do not form gas or upset the system or stomach in any way. One cannot take too many of these decidedly beneficial Moyer's Acid-O-Phil Tablets because the more you take the better and younger you'll feel and look. They are neither a drug, medicine or laxative. They are simply genuine Bacillus Acidophilus Health Tablets and they destroy the harmful and dangerous germs of putrefaction and leave you feeling like you'd taken a "new lease on life."

AS A TEST Just try taking two Moyer's Acid-O-Phil Tablets after every meal and at bedtime, regularly, for four short weeks. If you don't look and feel 100 per cent better—if you haven't more strength, "pep" and energy we will gladly refund your money upon request without a single question. There is nothing like it, so do not accept imitations or substitutes.

NEWTON D. BAKER TESTIFIES FOR DEFENSE IN U. S. SUIT

Former War Secretary Upholds Contractors in Action to Recover $3,634,000.

By the Associated Press.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 2.—Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War in the Wilson administration, was among the witnesses called by the defense in the United States District Court here to offer evidence in refutation of the Government's charges that Rhinehart G Dennis, Inc., of Charlottesville, Va., were guilty of negligence and the waste of time and labor in building Camp Lee, near Petersburg, Va., in 1917. The suit seeks to recover $3,634,000.

Baker told yesterday of the emergency conditions prevailing in the early period of America's entrance into the war and of the necessity of rushing to completion the mammoth army cantonments. His testimony concerned in particular the "cost plus" contract under which all cantonments were built. He said he gave much of his personal attention to the framing of this contract, which he termed the most effective and equitable possible under the emergency at that time.

Six witnesses took the stand for the defendants today. It is understood they will call nearly 200 witnesses before resting their case. The Government's side has been heard.

NEW $2,750,000 CORPORATION TO FINANCE HOLDING OF COTTON

Company Organized at Memphis by Bankers and Growers of Central States.

By the Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 2.—The Central Agricultural Finance Corporation, with a proposed capitalization of $2,750,000, was organized here yesterday as a step in the plan to retire the surplus bales of this year's cotton crop.

Bankers representing five states in the Memphis territory elected L. K. Salsbury, Memphis cotton grower and banker, to head the company, which is designed to provide a huge pool for lending to cotton growers in an effort to store 600,000 bales for a period of 18 to 20 months.

A committee on subscription of capital stock will seek pledges from bankers and financial institutions of the territory. The conference was attended by approximately 100 bankers and planters of West Tennessee, West Kentucky, North Mississippi, East Arkansas and South Missouri.

Under the plan sponsored by Eugene Meyer, chairman of the Federal Cotton Commission, the stock of the corporation will be used as a basis of borrowing from the intermediate credit banks of the Federal Farm Loan Board. Execution of the plan will make available $27,500,000 for the retirement pool. Cotton growers who store their bales will be loaned 9 cents a pound on their products, by giving warehouse receipts for security.

INDICTED AUDITOR DISAPPEARS

By the Associated Press.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 2.—John C. Bond, recently removed as State Auditor and now under indictment on 62 counts of embezzlement and forgery, in connection with alleged irregularities in the conduct of the state department, has disappeared.

Accepting reports that Bond had gone hunting, officials had taken no action to apprehend the former auditor until he failed to appear yesterday to answer to the indictments. An investigation failed to disclose the slightest clue to his whereabouts. His wife said he went to a neighboring county to hunt last Wednesday, but inquiry revealed he had not been seen there. Last Tuesday Bond filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in which he placed his liabilities at $81,413 and his assets at $63,000.

COAL PRICE BOOSTED; SHORTAGE IS FORECAST

50 Cents a Ton Added by St. Louis Dealers — Further Increases Likely.

Following announcement of a 50-cents-a-ton increase in the price of soft coal in St. Louis today, E. J. Wallace, coal operator and adviser to the United States Fuel Administrator for Missouri during the World War, predicted an acute shortage of coal in the St. Louis district within the next month if cold weather sets in.

A strong foreign demand for coal mined in Illinois and Western Kentucky fields, which supply the St. Louis territory, has resulted from the prolonged strike of coal miners in Great Britain, and is responsible for present conditions, Wallace said.

Coal was selling on the St. Louis retail market today for from $5.50 to $8 a ton, dependent upon its quality. Coal operators predict further increases of 50 cents to $1 a ton within a short time.

Wallace estimated that 200,000 tons of Illinois and Western Kentucky coal has been contracted for by foreign buyers recently and he stated that coal is now being moved in trainload lots to Gulf points for export.

Many Illinois coal mines have not been operating during the last few years, because of adverse conditions in the industry, and thousands of union miners in Illinois have entered other lines of work, making it impossible for an immediate increase in production to meet the present demand, Wallace pointed out.

Even though it were possible to increase production the carriers would be unable to transport the coal, much of their equipment being used in long hauls.

Wallace said the Government might be forced to declare an embargo to prevent exporting coal in order to insure sufficient coal for use in this country.

MAIL ROBBERS ESCAPE AFTER RUNNING FIGHT FOR 20 MILES

Vanish in New Orleans after Getting Rural Pouch and Exchanging Shots With Police.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—Two unmasked men held up a rural mail carrier at St. Rose, near here, today and escaped with a mail pouch after a running fight for more than 20 miles. The carrier telephoned Harahan, La., and police accosted the men as they drove through that place. They fired a volley at the police and drove past at terrific speed. A hastily assembled posse gave chase, firing as they went.

New Orleans police sent to guard roads failed to stop the robbers, who disappeared in the city streets.

MAN, 64, AND CHILD INJURED WHEN HIT BY MOTOR VEHICLES

Albert Schulte Struck by Auto When Crossing Grand Boulevard; Driver Arrested.

Albert Schulte, 64 years old, of 1213 North Spring avenue, suffered concussion of the brain and internal injuries when struck by an automobile when he was crossing Grand boulevard, at Finney avenue, at 1 a. m. today. The driver of the machine, Earl L. Miller, of 6214 Dardanella avenue, St. Louis County, was arrested.

Running across the street near his home yesterday, Charles Guimbraida, 6, of 329 Hickory street, was knocked down by an automobile truck driven by Vernon Crowder of 1214 South Eleventh street. The child was pronounced suffering from a skull fracture at City Hospital.

A. F. L. HEAD ASSAILS BRENNAN

Quotes Illinois Nominee as Refusing Union a Political Favor.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Republican state headquarters made public a letter from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, recounting details of unsuccessful efforts on the part of labor leaders to persuade George E. Brennan, Democratic Senatorial candidate, to nominate George L. Berry, president of the Pressmen's International Union for vice-president in the Democratic national convention at Madison Square Garden. In a letter addressed to John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, Green quotes Brennan as follows:

"Organized labor never was with me in all my fights. I won in spite of them. My delegation won't vote for Berry unless I say so, and I am not going to say so. Organized labor won't get very far in this convention."

SEVERANCE IN MORSE TRIAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The number of defendants in the Morse stock fraud trial was decreased from 17 to 16 when a mistrial was declared, so far as Glenbard S. Foster is concerned, and his trial was ordered severed from the rest.

Foster, who, with three sons of Charles W. Morse and 13 other men, have been on trial three weeks on a charge of sending false financial statements of the Morse steamship companies through the mails to prospective stock purchasers, collapsed in a taxicab Friday while on his way to court from his home in East Orange, N. J. Because of his illness, the trial was adjourned and yesterday another adjournment was taken to permit medical examination of Foster. When physicians reported that his condition was such as to make his further attendance at the trial dangerous to him, the Court granted a motion for severance.

CHICAGO LIQUOR GANGSTER IS IN PRISON IN ITALY

Vincenzo Genna Convicted There of Theft of Jewels of Madonna Di Trapani.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Chicago's liquor gangsters learned today that Vincenzo (Jim) Genna, who fled to his native Sicily after the third of his five wealthy brothers fell in reprisal warfare, and of whom little or nothing has been heard since, is fighting to cut short a prison sentence he is serving in Italy for a jewelry robbery.

Genna is appealing his sentence of several years' hard labor for the theft of the jewels of the famous Madonna Di Trapani, in which he denies complicity, said a cable to the Chicago Tribune from Palermo, Italy.

The newspaper's correspondent said Genna was arrested at Rome in January at the instance of the Prefect of Police at Palermo, who is credited with wiping out the Mafia gang. It was charged he planned the theft of the holy jewels shortly after he returned to Sicily in 1925, spending money lavishly.

Jim Genna was the oldest of the six brothers who in 15 years rose from the status of immigrant laborers to the chieftains of a powerful bootleg clique. The family fortune was put at $5,000,000.

INDICTMENT DROPPED IN 2 POISON DEATHS

Ambassador Hotel Proprietor Cleared of Blame for Fumigation Fatalities.

An indictment charging Joseph N. Chiswell, proprietor of the Ambassador Hotel, 707 North Sixth street, with manslaughter, in connection with the deaths in a room there, May 7 last, of Miss Nellie Pensoneau, 24 years old, and Christopher W. Rohm, 57, both of East St. Louis, after the room had been fumigated with a poison, was dismissed yesterday by Assistant Circuit Attorney Lemon after four State witnesses had testified at Chiswell's trial before a jury in Circuit Judge Landwehr's Court.

Similar indictments are pending against Leonard Lyons, day clerk of the hotel, and William G. Fender and William P. Barrita, partners in the Guarantee Insect Exterminator Co., 1710 Olive street, which fumigated the hotel. It is expected these indictments will be dropped when they come up for trial.

Cyanide Found in Viscera.

A Coroner's jury found that Miss Pensoneau and Rohm died of "hydrocyanic acid gas poisoning" suffered while they were occupying room 116. Analysis of the viscera of each showed the presence of cyanide, Dr. R. B. H. Gradwohl, Coroner's poison expert, reported.

Dr. Gradwohl testified to finding cyanide in the viscera, but under cross-examination by Chiswell's attorney, admitted he could not tell whether the poison had been inhaled as fumigation fumes or had been taken in powder form. He said the poison does not burn the mouth.

Hydrocyanic acid was used for fumigation purposes in the navy when he served in it, the witness recalled. The fumes cling tenaciously to bed clothing and navy regulations require exposure of bed clothing for 24 hours before use, after fumigation.

Other witnesses were Edward McGivney, night clerk, who found the bodies, and Oliver Harrison and Paul Williamson, fumigators for the Guarantee Co. Harrison testified that room 110 had been closed for the fumigation, but that the windows were opened and tape removed from the other openings at noon, May 6. He spent 30 minutes in the room without ill effect. Leaving the hotel at 1 p. m., he said, he instructed Chiswell that it would be safe to occupy the room an hour later.

5000 Fumigations Harmless.

Testimony at the inquest was that Miss Pensoneau and Rohm did not go to the room until after 3 p. m. Their bodies were found the following morning. Fender quoted a Department of Agriculture bulletin as authority for the statement that rooms fumigated with this gas could be safely occupied after two hours' ventilation. He said his firm had fumigated 5000 rooms in St. Louis last year with the gas without harm to anyone.

Assistant Attorney Lemon, explaining his action in dismissing the prosecution before the defense had presented its witnesses, said the Court undoubtedly would have sustained a demurrer because of insufficency of evidence. He said the fact that Miss Pensoneau and Rohm might have been poisoned in either of two ways as indicated by the testimony of Dr. Gradwohl, and the fact that Chiswell apparently had carried out instructions regarding ventilation of the room, would have justified a demurrer.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS WARNING

Dr. East Says Children's Disease Is Prevalent in Illinois.

By the Associated Press.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 2.—There is far more infantile paralysis in the State than generally is known, according to Dr. C. W. East, medical director of the Illinois Crippled Children's Society, who is conducting a clinic.

Dr. East said that the mortality rate in infantile paralysis is not high, but that the disease almost always leaves the victim with a crippled body. This condition can be relieved and in many cases altogether cured, he asserted, if proper treatment is given in the early stages of the disease.

TRUSTEE CHOSEN BY CREDITORS

Orville Livingston to Act in P. C. Murphy Trunk Co. Case.

Orville Livingston, secretary of the St. Louis Association of Credit Men, was elected trustee of the bankrupt P. C. Murphy Trunk Co. at a meeting of creditors before Referee Coles yesterday. Bond was fixed at $50,000 by the referee.

The Murphy company, which operated factories at 500 North Third street and 211 Vine street and a retail store at 707 Washington avenue, was placed in bankruptcy last August by creditors, who hold claims totaling $97,891. All assets have been reduced to cash by Receiver Harry Gleick, who obtained $53,000 for distribution to creditors.

New Text For Beethoven Cantata.

By the Associated Press.

MUNICH, Nov. 2.—A new text for Beethoven's cantata, "The Ruins of Athens," based on the original one of Kotzebue, has been written by Johannes Urzidil. It is now planned to revive in its new setting this cantata which Beethoven composed for the inauguration of the Budapest Theater in 1812, but which since then has remained comparatively unknown.

MRS. KRESGE FILES CROSSBILL

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 2.—Mrs. Doris Mercer Kresge has filed an answer and cross bill here to her millionaire husband's divorce suit. It was filed several days ago and efforts were made to keep it secret.

S. S. Kresge is understood to be in New York.

Reports are current that attorneys for Mr. and Mrs. Kresge have been trying for weeks to reach an agreement by which the divorce suit may go through with a brief hearing, on nominal charges, with as little publicity as possible.

Prince's Uncle Is a Dressmaker.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—The Prince of Wales now boasts a cousin who is a successful Berkeley street dressmaker. He is George Fitz-George, grandson of the Duke of Cambridge. In partnership with Miss Rose Taylor, he last year made £3000 ($14,550). "This year we are doing even better, which is not bad considering what we started with a few hundred pounds as capital," he said.

"I WAS SICKLY AND COULDN'T EAT"

Then Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought permanent relief

Constipation takes its toll in health and happiness — but read what Mr. Jessup has to say:

"I was always sickly and could not eat—but last May I was told about Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN I have not lost a day's work. In May I weighed 109 pounds. I now weigh 135 pounds, and it's all due to eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN."

J. E. Jessup, East St. Louis, Ill.

Don't let constipation sap your health, undermine your strength. It can cause over forty serious ailments! Blotchy skin, sick headaches, nervousness, anemia — are but a few of the symptoms. Beware!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve the most chronic constipation if eaten regularly. Because Kellogg's is ALL BRAN — a 100% bran product — 100% effective.

Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk, cream and fruit. Use it in cooking too. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan, and sold by all grocers. Served in all restaurants.

Gas Spoiled Sleep, Made Her Dizzy

"For years I suffered from gas on the stomach, bloating and constipation. Used to get headaches and dizzy spells. The first dose of Adlerika gave me relief. Now, I rest well and the gas is gone."—Mrs. Blanche Brinkley.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Adlerika is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloating, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Doctors Praise Adlerika

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. A. C. Curl: "I prescribe Adlerika with highly satisfactory results."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system."

Dr. F. M. P. (name withheld by request): "I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose."

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In St. Louis at Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores, Johnson Bros. Drug Co.

Neuritis Rheumatism Sciatica Aching Joints

Instant Neuritis relief! Magic! A moment after applying "Heet" to the Neuritis area you will feel a tingling glow; a soothing, penetrating warmth; then the Neuritis pain, torture, aching is gone—Yes, Gone! Neuritis in the leg, knee, ankle, elbow, arm, shoulder or body vanishes and it is often weeks before you again feel a twinge of pain.

"Heet" is a clean, colorless liquid discovered by the Edward Wesley Co., chemists, Cincinnati. It doesn't burn or blister—isn't smelly or greasy.

"Heet" acts just as positively in Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica and on sore, aching joints and muscles.

"Heet" costs 60 cents a bottle, including handy applicator, at all drug stores.

The BILLIONAREA

~ the GREATER ST. LOUIS MARKET

Summing It All Up:-

A Review of The Billionarea Story

A new understanding of the importance and prosperity of the Greater St. Louis Market has been received by manufacturers and advertisers as a result of more than a score of full page advertisements on The Billionarea published in this and other newspapers in the last few months.

This unprecedented campaign has been a complete presentation of facts about this market and the unusual selling and advertising opportunities it offers.

The chapters of The Billionarea story, as they have been covered by full page advertisements were independent of each other, but combined, they give the most complete and accurate description of this market ever presented.

Because of the importance and interest of the series to advertisers and manufacturers in the consideration of the Greater St. Louis Market, it is our purpose to review the important features of The Billionarea story.

I

What The Billionarea Means to Advertisers

The Billionarea is not a mythical market zone arbitrarily drawn on the map, but a name given to the existing, true, recognized trading area of St. Louis—which is the Greater St. Louis Market as designated by the United States Government, Audit Bureau of Circulations, and other unprejudiced authorities.

II

A Market Name and a Market Condition

The Greater St. Louis Market is entitled to be called The Billionarea because of two unusual conditions: First; trade statistics show that it has an annual purchasing power of more than a Billion Dollars—[one of the highest average purchasing powers of any city in America]; second, the tremendous building development and business activity now in this market provide a condition of prosperity that makes it most opportune for profitable advertising and selling.

III

P+D+C—The Micrometer of a Newspaper

The P+D+C rating is the advertiser's micrometer for measuring both market and medium. "P" is population, people, families, number of purchasing units; "D" is dollars, annual wealth production or per capita buying power; "C" is coverage or concentrated circulation, the ability of a medium to saturate its market with sufficient circulation to move goods in volume.

The P+D+C method of weighing the value of markets and medium enables any salesmanager to dig out the true facts for himself, to determine what are real and what are mythical markets, to know where he can and where he can not get effective newspaper coverage. The P+D+C manual, which is sent free on request, explains the method in detail.

IV

The Billionarea is a Big Market at a Big Bargain

The unusual advertising and selling opportunities of The Billionarea are due to the extraordinary conjunction of two factors which occurs in practically no other metropolitan area. These factors are: the high and constantly increasing buying power and prosperity of the people, plus a newspaper which offers a remarkable coverage at low cost. Without duplicating circulation or advertising cost, you may enter the home of practically every family of buying consequence in Greater St. Louis through the St. Louis Post-Dispatch alone!

V

Newspaper Coverage Controls Market Selling

Because of its far greater volume of circulation in The Billionarea, the St. Lous Post-Dispatch makes this market far larger than can be made by any other newspaper. Because of its 30% greater coverage of The Billionarea, its ability to sway this market for your product is far greater than the second newspaper. The Post-Dispatch reaches 160,000 more people [40,000 more families] in The Billionarea than the second newspaper and at no higher cost.

VI

Manufacturers Should Profit By These Facts

As a market, The Billionarea is a definite area recognized and accepted as the Greater St. Louis Market, and a market large enough to be a real factor in any manufacturers total volume of sales. As a condition, The Billionarea offers manufacturers unusually high family purchasing power and prosperity. As an advertising opportunity, The Billionarea offers in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the most effective newspaper coverage at the lowest cost of any market in America.

All these facts combined warrant an advertising appropriation and special selling effort in The Billionarea through its dominant newspaper, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

ARMY AND SYRACUSE ELEVENS BREAK OFF ATHLETIC RELATIONS

Action Results From Game In Which Referee Left the Field With an Armed Escort

Contest Was So Rough That Referee Disqualified Syracuse Quarterback for Kicking Army Man in Head—Offender Later Struck the Official Twice on the Jaw.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The United States Military Academy and Syracuse University yesterday broke off all athletic relations as a result of the bitter and acrimonious battle waged between their football teams at West Point on Oct. 16.

The break in relations was sudden and complete, though officials of both institutions mutually agreed that it be announced as temporary.

The situation aroused by the belligerent players of both teams in that game was much more serious than was generally known, even to the wide-eyed crowd of 20,000 watching in utter amazement a totally unexpected pitched battle on West Point's picturesque gridiron.

It was known that five players were more or less gravely injured in the repeated clashes of the two teams. It was known that a sixth, a sophomore quarterback from Syracuse named Harold Baysinger, ordered from the field for kicking an Army opponent, in anger and resentment struck the referee, Victor A. Schwartz, two blows on the jaw.

However, it was only learned yesterday that the atmosphere engendered by the proceedings on the football field became so tense after the game Referee Schwartz had to be escorted from the field, through smouldering football players, by soldiers with drawn pistols.

The furore aroused by the game was so great that Chancellor Charles Wesley Flint of Syracuse, after bringing about the "resignation" of Baysinger from the football squad, sought a conference with Brigadier-General Merch B. Stewart, superintendent of the military academy. The two met yesterday, quietly and unannounced, in New York.

Athletic Contracts Suspended.

After the conference it was announced that the situation brought about by the Army-Syracuse game "involved no difficulties which could not be satisfactorily adjusted in time, but, without passing judgment on any past event, it is advisable to temporarily suspend athletic contracts until such time as may be mutually agreed upon by them."

Neither Chancellor Flint nor Gen. Stewart, nor any of their representatives would enlarge upon the statement. It was evident that both sides of the controversy were, if not anxious, at least willing, that the memory of the late Army-Syracuse football contest die a quiet and unattended death.

However, it is probable that the final whistle has not yet blown for that game.

It was learned yesterday that the central board of officials, headed by Dr. James A. Babbitt of Haverford, is making a thorough investigation of what happened. The board is already in possession of a long report by Referee Schwartz.

"Until the investigation of the Central Board is concluded," said Mr. Schwartz yesterday, "I should prefer not to discuss the many ramifications of this case. I don't think it would be well to go into them at this time. However, I am perfectly willing to state the facts concerning what happened, particularly as I have never seen them fully stated before.

Baysinger Kicked Army Player.

"This boy Baysinger kicked an Army opponent. I saw him do it and promptly disqualified him. That was my duty, for kicking an opponent is punishable by disqualification. And I did no more than my duty, for Bill Hollenbeck (William M. Hollenbeck of Pennsylvania, who umpired the game) saw the offense committed, too.

"After I disqualified Baysinger, his captain came up to me and asked me what happened. I told him, assuming, of course, that the boy had already left the field, as I had told him to. A referee expects to be obeyed, you know. Then, all of a sudden, this boy comes up and, before I know what's in his mind, he hits me two quick blows on the chin, drawing blood.

"Now, understand, this boy was disqualified not for striking me, though, of course, that would have been enough. He was disqualified and out of the game before he ever struck me. He was put out for kicking an opponent."

Mr. Schwartz was asked about what happened after the game, when he was escorted from the field between two or more soldiers with drawn pistols. He was told that, according to officials at West Point, he had asked for a guard until the Army and Syracuse teams were safely off in the busses provided for them, and he in his dressing room.

"That's the part of the story I do not want to go into at this time. I've made my report to the body I'm responsible to, the Central Board, headed by Dr. Babbitt, and that's enough."

Pro Team May Disband for Lack of Money

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 2.

CLEVELAND'S American League professional football team was prepared to disband today, following charges by players that the club management had failed to meet salaries.

Red Weaver, former star center at Centre College and member of a committee named by the team to look after the players' interests, said members of the team were hopeful that new ownership might be secured. He said the team received only two-thirds pay for the game with the Chicago Bulls recently and nothing for the contest with the Wilson Wildcats. Charles Zimmerman, president of the club, withdrew some time ago.

JACH DELANEY SIGNS FOR BOUT IN CHICAGO; OPPONENT NOT NAMED

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Jack Delaney, light heavyweight champion of the world, has been signed by Promoter Neils Vierup for a 10-round decision match at the Coliseum here Nov. 26, it was announced today. His opponent has not yet been selected.

The fight will be an "added attraction" for visitors here to the Army-Navy football game, the boxing show being staged on the eve of the great service classic.

Johnny Risko of Cleveland looms as the most likely opponent of Delaney. Bud Gorman of St. Paul and Harry Persson of Sweden also are being considered.

WAGERING DECREASES AS BRITISH LEVY TAX UPON BETTING

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—A new era on the English turf was inaugurated yesterday when the tax on betting instituted by Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, went into operation. The immediate effect was a considerable reduction in the volume of wagering.

The bookmakers, who had been licensed and made responsible by the government for the collection of the tax, adopted various methods of charging the tax. Many divided it among themselves and the bettor on credit bets, but others charged the bettors nothing on bets of less than two pounds each way.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN AND CHUCK WIGGINS ARE SUSPENDED 60 DAYS

By the Associated Press.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 2.—Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia and Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis were suspended for 60 days yesterday by the Rhode Island Boxing Commission for alleged stalling in their scheduled 10-round bout here last Friday night.

The purse was ordered forfeited. Loughran was awarded the decision in the fight on a foul, declared to be a low blow in the fifth round after both fighters had been warned.

The Rhode Island Boxing Commission is affiliated with the fight boards of 31 other states.

DENIES LATZO'S ARM IS PARALYZED

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Denial that Pete Latzo, welterweight boxing champion, had suffered paralysis of his right arm and would never fight again was made today by Paddy Mullins, his manager, after a telephone conversation with the Latzo home. Latzo cut his hand six weeks ago and blood poisoning developed.

DEMPSEY LEAVES FOR CALIFORNIA TO TRAIN FOR POSSIBLE COMEBACK

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—While Gene Tunney basks in Bermuda sunshine resting from the round of entertainments that wore him down after Jack Dempsey failed to do so, the former heavyweight king is packing trunks for a jaunt to California and the training siege that is to determine his comeback possibilities. Jack failed to call on the New York commission yesterday for a boxing license as friends said he would. He is visiting in Wilmington, Del.

M'KENDREE TO PLAY SHURTLEFF SATURDAY

The feature event on the McKendree College homecoming program, to be held Saturday at Lebanon, Ill., will be the football game between McKendree and Shurtleff College.

Important Games On Valley Card

Nebraska-Kansas Aggie and Missouri-Oklahoma Contests Take Spotlight.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 2.—With the three of the four undefeated Missouri Valley football teams scheduled for important games Saturday, conference squads entered upon a week of intensive drilling yesterday.

Nebraska, enjoying its first open date of the season, took things easy in preparation for its crucial conference game two weeks hence against the undefeated Kansas Aggies. A defeat by the Aggies will mean virtual elimination of the Cornhuskers from title claims, while elimination of the Aggies will further strengthen the impressive bid by the Huskers for the championship in spite of an early-season Missouri defeat.

The turning point in the remaining Missouri schedule is seen in the game Saturday between the Oklahoma Sooners and the Tigers. If the Sooners can beat Missouri and the Cornhuskers defeat the Kansas Aggies, Valley title claims would be in a chaotic condition without any clear-cut claimant.

The Oklahoma Aggies, with one unimportant win and no defeats, will try to keep their record bright and shining by taking on the tail-end Washington Bears, whom four conference teams have beaten.

Vicentini Wins Bout.

By the Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 2. — Luis Vicentini, Chilean lightweight champion, making his debut in an Argentine ring, easily won a decision from Liberto Corney, Uruguayan champion, in 12 rounds last night.

MISSOURI VALLEY NOTES

GRINNELL, Ia.—The respite from strenuous practices, made possible last week by an open date, ended yesterday for the Grinnell College football team. Having seen the Kansas Jayhawk in action against Drake last Saturday, Coach Hyland began drilling his Pioneers with a definite idea of the offense and defense he must develop to defeat the Kansans at Lawrence this week-end.

LINCOLN, Neb. — Coach Bearg gave his Cornhuskers the lightest drill of the season yesterday. A major portion of the time was devoted to a review of the Iowa State game, in which the Nebraska mentor pointed out the mistakes made. After the skull practice, a short signal drill on new plays was held. While the varsity was taking it easy, Coach Choppy Rhodes gave the freshmen some scrimmage work preparatory for their clash with the Kansas Aggies here Saturday.

LAWRENCE, Kan. — While the varsity backs watched from the sidelines, Coach Cappone experimented with two substitute linemen in the backfield in an effort to bolster his thrice balked Kansas Jayhawks, who must meet the undefeated Grinnell team Saturday. The substitutes were Wilbur and Shannon, end and tackle.

NORMAN, Ok. — Whether or not Capt. Polly Wallace will be able to take the field against the Missouri Tigers in the homecoming football game Nov. 6 was the chief topic on the Sooner campus yesterday.

Wallace watched the Sooner-Washington game from the sidelines. He came home Sunday and announced he intended to play against the Tigers, believing his leg will be sufficiently strong.

STILLWATER, Ok. — Scrimmage against the freshmen was yesterday's work for the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College varsity in preparation for the game this week-end with Washington University of St. Louis here.

The game will be the first home event of the season. Only two regulars, Strack and Shelby, were absent from scrimmage because of injuries.

Ernie Nevers' Duluth Eskimos To Play Here

Oppose St. Louis Blues in Game at Sportsman's Park Saturday.

Ernie Nevers and his Duluth Eskimos will oppose the St. Louis Blues at Sportsman's Park Saturday in a professional football game, according to an announcement today by James W. Yates Jr., manager of the Blues.

Yates departed for Chicago at noon today to meet Nevers and his manager at Chicago to pay over part of the guaranty money and sign a contract.

The negotiations for a game between the Blues and Nevers' team have been going on for about three weeks. When first approached by the Blues' manager for a game, Nevers demanded a guaranty of $10,000, which Yates turned down and made a counter offer which Nevers refused. The sum agreed upon was a compromise, but the amount was not made public.

The Duluth team is a member of the National Professional Football League and has won four games, lost one and tied one. Ernie Nevers, who is a member of the St. Louis Browns' pitching staff in the summer time, is the star of the eleven. During his college days with Leland-Stanford University, Nevers won All-America honors, and Knute Rockne, coach of the Notre Dame team, declared that Nevers was the greatest player he had ever seen.

The St. Louis Blues play independent professional football. They have met and defeated the Benld, Ill., and the Anna (Ill.) teams this year, both of which are strong independent organizations. The Blues played the Pullman Panthers of Chicago to a scoreless tie at St. Louis U. Field last Sunday. The Blues are made up largely of former St. Louis University players, there being nine ex-Billikens on the squad. Jack Thorpe, brother of the famous Indian, Jim Thorpe, plays with the eleven.

KEMPER SHUTS OUT CULVER CADETS, 23-0

BOONVILLE, Mo., Nov. 2.—Kemper Military Academy trounced the football representatives of Culver Military Academy in their sixth annual game, 23 to 0, here yesterday. Two touchdowns by Winberg, one by McClure, a field goal and two points after touchdown by Holmes accounted for the scoring.

Lew Tendler Is Disqualified for Hitting Low Blow

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.

LEW TENDLER, Philadelphia, 148½ pounds, lost to Tommy Jordan, 149 pounds, of Brooklyn, on a foul in the fourth round of the feature 10-round bout at the Broadway arena last night. Tendler was apparently leading up to the time of the disqualification.

Jordan was floored in the second round with a right to the body. Tommy claimed foul, but when he saw his claim was ignored arose at the count of six. He then traded blows with the Philadelphian, but came out second best.

During an exchange in the fourth session Tendler let go a left to the body which the referee ruled a foul blow. The time was two minutes and 20 seconds.

10 HARNESS HORSES BURNED TO DEATH

By the Associated Press.

LIMA, O., Nov. 2.—Ten harness race horses were burned to death last night when a $75,000 fire destroyed the main barn at the Lima Driving Park. The horses were owned by Irvin Ridenour, Orlie Parks, L. G. Lerch and John R. Ashton.

HARRY P[ERSSON]

SCANDINAVIAN HITS GORMAN LOW IN FIFTH

Tex Rickard's Elimination "Hope" Fails to Make as Impressive a Showing as in Previous Contests.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Harry Persson, the Swedish heavyweight, lost the bout with Bud Gorman of Kenosha at Madison Square Garden last night on a foul early in the fifth round. Persson had hit the Kenosha boxer low several times in the previous rounds and had been warned by Referee Jimmy Crowly.

In the fifth, after Persson and Gorman had exchanged left jabs and run together in repeated clinches, Persson started a hard attack on Gorman's body with lefts and rights. When one of these hit so low that Gorman doubled over, Referee Crowley disqualified the Swede and gave the bout to Gorman.

Persson's showing last night was not so promising as his other ring attempts have been. He had an experienced opponent in Gorman, who took several short right hooks on the jaw without wincing. Gorman used a left jab on the Swede's face with telling effect. The Kenosha boxer protested three times to Crowley against Persson's low punching and the Swede had ample warning about it.

Small Crowd Sees Show.

Last night's heavyweight show was not the howling success the other Garden carnivals have been. The spectators did not carry as strong an appeal as the other shows and the bouts were not as good. A crowd of 8500 paid $21,784 to see the show.

Yale Okun, the light heavyweight from the Ghetto, was awarded the decision over "Little Boy" Blue of St. Paul in the 10-round slugging semifinal. Blue had the better of the first rounds, putting Okun down for the count of nine in the first round and staggering him to his knees in the third.

After the sixth Blue tired and Okun battered his face with a left jab in the finishing rounds. Okun's jabs opened cuts over both of Blue's eyes and his mouth was badly cut. Although Okun rallied in the last few rounds, Blue put up a game fight. The crowd did not agree with the decision for Okun and gave Blue a great reception.

Art Weigand, 173, of Buffalo, won from Murray Gittlitz, 177¼, of New Haven, in the opening 10-round melee.

Godfrey Wins Dull Fight.

George Godfrey of Leiperville, Pa., weighing 220¾ pounds, won from Jack Townsend of New York, 197½ pounds, when Referee Crowley disqualified Townsend in the sixth round.

Godfrey, with his big advantage in weight, pondded Townsend hard in the body when they were at close quarters. It was a monotonous, uninteresting grappling match and no one sighed with regret when it was stopped.

BIG TEN GOSSIP

By the Associated Press.

IOWA CITY. — Frigid northern blasts did not check Coach Ingwersen or his Iowa University gridders as they swung into the last week's practice for the homecoming game with Minnesota Saturday. The Iowa mentor drilled the linemen on ways to stop the crushing Gopher offensive, while the backfield men and ends worked on forward pass formation.

EVANSTON.—Although preparing for a week of strenuous practice for their game with Purdue next Saturday, Northwestern yesterday engaged in only a light drill and scrimmage in a heavy snowfall. Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite regards the Purdue game, which will be played before the first homecoming crowd to occupy the nwe Northwestern stadium, as one of the most severe tests the Evanston eleven will be put to this season.

CHICAGO. — Coach Stagg will send a full physically fit Maroon squad into the field for the first time this season against the University of Illinois eleven Saturday unless the jinx which has hovered over the Chicago team since September produces another accident during the hard week of preparatory training. A full squad was sent through a hard scrimmage yesteday. There is little hope, however, of Stagg's outfit taking the scalp of the Illini.

MINNEAPOLIS.—Minnesota will have to play real football and will have to show a great deal more than it did against Wisconsin if it expects to beat Iowa at Iowa City Saturday, Coach Spears told his warriors last night after he had put them through a dummy scrimmage against Iowa plays. The Minnesota mentor declared that a repetition of Saturday's loose playing against the Badgers would prove fatal in this week-end's encounter.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — About all Coach Fielding Yost had to say yesterday was "I told you so," as he returned his Wolverines to their Western stronghold after their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Navy team. Yost seemed relieved that some of the overconfidence against which he had constantly warned has left them. The entire Michigan squad started to perfect an attack with which they hope to retain a leading position in conference standing by defeating Wisconsin next Saturday.

District Basket Stars May Make Up Bears' Quint

Reign of Illinois Talent Appears at an End, as Team Holds First Work

While Washington U. football men ran signals yesterday afternoon until darkness prevented any suspicion as to the whereabouts of the football, indoor sports began the first step of their annual ascendency to the focus of attention. Coach Donald S. White sent a varsity basketball squad through its first scrimmage of the season and Coach A. E. Eilers, new Bear tank instructor, gave his charges the once-over preparatory to instituting the six-months' drive for another Valley championship.

In the varsity basketball melee, it was apparent that for the first time in almost a decade of Pikeway quintets, the Washington court fans are likely to see St. Louis and St. Louis County basketball talent gathered together against the strong teams of the Missouri Valley Conference. The reign of the brilliant group of Illinois stars who have contributed much to Washington basketball in Minner, Wagner, Neiss, Winkler, Seago, Cox and others, appears to have ended, and the graduates of city and county court combinations have come to the fore.

Three Letter Men Out.

The first-string line-up for yesterday's scrimmage contained all three letter-men, Capt. Carl Stanford, Capt. Frank Hutton and Lorraine Eckert, the first two forwards with Eckert at guard. The other members of the quintet were Tompkins at center, Heinrichs at guard, and Whacker, last year reserve, substituting for Hutton at forward. Of these, Stanford and Whacker are former Soldan stars, while Tompkins, a likely appearing prospect for the center berth, hails from Webster, with Lorraine Eckert. Heinrichs is also a local product.

On the second-string eleven which the varsity quintet engaged, Jerry Stanford, forward, younger brother of the captain, and William Haeger, guard, are former Soldan players, with Van Tuyle, forward, a graduate of University City; Adams, guard, a Webster product, and Gutman, center, a Principia graduate. Seeber, former Soldan player, also worked out at guard.

To what extent the reinforcements from the football squad will alter this grouping of local talent is as yet undeterminable, but it appears likely that at least one recruit to the squad will bring Illinois methods of play to Don White for revision. George Duncan, now playing varsity end, who showed up well at center in the spring court practice, will probably have a chance at first-string center.

Kurz a Likely Candidate.

Among other additions from the football followers will be Ralph Kurz, whose guarding stood out on the freshmen quintet. Kurz and Thos Lohrding, another promising sophomore, are also Illinois products, while Chapman Rickert, forward, now playing halfback on the football squad, will constitute an addition from Arkansas. Another Webster graduate, George Senne, who figured as a promising reserve last season, is also looked to for a display of strength.

In Wilson pool, under the overseeing direction of their new coach, Artie Eilers, the most promising group of Washington tankmen in a number of years went through practice paces. The squad which Coach Carl Bauer whipped into championship form last season was led by but two letter men, whereas Coach Eiler will have at his command all but three of the stellar performers of last year.

Captain Lost Through Graduation.

Capt. Karl Ewerhardt, dash man, and Dave Ullman, breast stroker, were lost through graduation, while the recent injury of Austin Kaercher, shot by a St. Louis County deputy, will deprive the squad of his services. The returning letter men are Capt. Roland Baer national A. A. U. dash champion, as well as holder of conference back-stroke records; McCardle, Valley breast-stroke champion; Cohn, dash man; Millstone, diver, and Powers, dash man.

Jerry Specht, former holder of the conference breast-stroke championship, has also re-entered the university and will probably specialize in the crawl strokes during the coming season. Among the promising freshman recruits will be Carl Langenohl, diver, and Homer Heideman, back stroker, while John Jonas, reserve diver from last year, will also return.

CRUSADER CLINCHES 3-YEAR-OLD CROWN IN RIGGS VICTORY

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The mighty Crusader clinched his title as king of the 3-year-olds yesterday by romping away with the Riggs Handicap, mile and a half feature of the opening day at Pimlico. The Man o' War colt packed top weight, 130 pounds, in bringing home the $25,000 stake in 2:32 3-5, two lengths ahead of Mars. Gaffsman was third.

Crusader was a heavy favorite among the seven starters and easily demonstrated his superiority. Montferrat took an early lead to be displaced by Blondin at the mile post. Half way through the back stretch Mars rushed to the front on the outside just as Sande cut Crusader in through the rail position and came on to dispose of Mars in the stretch. Gaffsman was six lengths back in third place. Helen's Babe and Display were the other starters.

No races were schedled at Juarez. Four jockeys, J. Sylvia, C. Trippey, T. Wilson and G. Owen, were suspended for disobedience at the post and Sylvia was fined $50 for unnecessary roughness. The arrival of 44 horses brought the total at the track to 700.

Detroit U. Has Powerful Team, Says Hannegan

Billiken Scout Declares Tigers Outplayed Carnegie Tech; St. L. U. Leaves Thursday.

An indication of what the St. Louis University team will be up against when it attempts to win its first victory over the University of Detroit eleven at Detroit Saturday is found in the report of Scout Bob Hannegan, who says the Tigers outplayed Carnegie Tech last week, although defeated 7 to 0.

Carnegie Tech, it will be recalled, surprised about the middle of last month by beating the University of Pittsburg, its traditional rival and always a strong combination. Pittsburg had previously defeated Colgate and tied Georgetown, losing only to Lafayette, still one of the few undefeated teams.

The Detroit-Carnegie game was played on a muddy field but Detroit showed lots of power, according to Hannegan. Once the Tigers rushed the ball to the visitors' 10-yard line only to lose possession on a forward pass over the goal. Connell, a halfback, is the outstanding star of the team, outshinning his running mate, Maniere, whose long dash defeated St. Louis last season.

Two men are playing their fourth year on the squad, Bachor, a 212-pound tackle, and Flannery, a center. Detroit recently adopted a freshman rule but the regulation was not made retroactive. Hannegan says the team averages 180 pounds, which is about 15 pounds a man better than the Billikens.

Fumbles have robbed Detroit of its share of victories, the bobbles occuring in the scoring zone. St. Louis has been somewhat similarly handicapped, although more frequently held for downs at this stage of the advance.

A full complement of regulars will probably be with the Billikens when they entrain for Detroit. Capt. Kahle and tackle Braechel are temporarily out with leg injuries, but will likely be ready by Saturday. The team will leave Thursday night, arriving in Detroit Friday morning in order to get used to the cold weather prevailing there.

BROOKLYN RECALLS AND PURCHASES 14 MINOR LEAGUERS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The Brooklyn National League club has purchased seven players from minor leagues and recalled seven, the reserve list discloses.

"Jigger" Statz, former Giant and Cub outfielder, was purchased from Los Angeles; Hendricks, an outfielder, once with the New York Yankees, was purchased from New Orleans.

Other newcomers are Barrett, outfielder, and Griffin, pitcher, Memphis, Tenn.; Clarke, pitcher, Terre Haute, Ind.; Nietzke, outfielder, Birmingham, and Rhiel, infielder, Atlanta, Ga. Players recalled include: Elliott, pitcher, Seattle; Partridge, infielder, Nashville; and Strelecki, pitcher, Jackson, Miss.

EIGHTEEN PLAYERS ON GEORGIA U. SQUAD RECEIVE SUSPENSIONS

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 2.—Eighteen members of the University of Georgia's first string football squad were indefinitely suspended from the team yesterday by Coach Woodruff for violation of training rules.

Coach Woodruff said the men broke training rules during homecoming day at the university last Saturday and that he had not yet determined whether he would permit the suspended players to participate in any further games this season.

Among the charges against the players were late hours, incorrigibility and refusal to comply with training rules, Coach Woodruff said. Their suspension is regarded as a serious blow to Georgia's Southern Conference aspirations this season.

Princeton Plays Harvard Saturday In Annual Game

Slagle's Work Expected to Beat Crimson; Penn Meets Penn State.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Jake Slagle, a passing, running, kicking Tiger man from Princeton, is threatening Harvard. He is back in harness after three weeks of idleness due to injuries, and if he lives up to his reputation he will cut loose in the first of the Big Three series Saturday.

Short passes he throws just behind the rush line and his dazzling open-field dashes have aided in Princeton's crushing victories over Harvard in the last two seasons. He has been a terror to Yale also. Harvard so far this season has shown no real defense against a forward-passing attack such as Princeton and Slagle will throw, some critics say.

Yale, with Maryland ahead, has thrown a host of substitutes into the lineup that failed against Army in an effort to develop a winning combination.

Brown, who will oppose Norwich, is letting down the bars for 11 iron men who have played two straight games without a substitution. Dartmouth is resting easily before the game with Boston University.

Light practice is the rule, as many of the major Eastern elevens will engage small opponents to recuperate after strenuous games. Army expects little opposition from Franklin and Marshall. Navy has a few small weaknesses to correct before meeting West Virginia Wesleyan.

Some elevens have tough jobs next Saturday, however. Pennsylvania is recuperating after the Illinois upset before tackling hard work in preparation for Penn State. West Virginia is scrimmaging for Pittsburg. There seem to be no expectations of easy victories in Carnegie Tech vs. New York University, Syracuse vs. Georgetown, Rutgers vs. Lafayette, Lehigh vs. Bucknell.

St. Louis Dogs In Field Trial At Sparta Today

Graham Wilson's Oxford's Dot and Oxford Brooksie Among Many Stars Competing.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SPARTA, Ill., Nov. 2.—Bird dog trainers from all parts of the Southern and Middle States are gathered here for the opening of the Independent field trials which began here today. The two stakes promise to be the largest and best ever held in the 25 years of the club's existence, as practically all of the early eason winners are here and ready to start.

Among the handlers present is George Payton, fresh from his victories in West Virginia and Ohio with the St. Louis dogs, Oxford's Dot and Oxford's Brooksie, owned by S. G. Wilson Jr.

Mack Pritchette from Montgomery, Ala., is on hand with his aggregation of derby winners, among them being Mad Anthony, Proctor's Choice Frank, and Tuero, all of which won in the prairie chicken trials last month.

John C. Campbell from Fitzpatrick, Ala., has champion Mack Pritchette, the dog being named for the well-known handler, and Miss Peggy M., both owned by C. F. Aldrich of St. Paul and looking fine and fit.

M. E. McMichael from Yates Center, Kan., has half a dozen for both the Derby and all-age stakes.

Roy P. Garr, from La Grange, Ky., has four or five and George Kramer has three or four from Ohio and Indiana.

C. B. Black from Brownsville, Tenn., has the setter Jordan's Lady Viol, a winner last week in Ohio; W. H. Warren has among five or six others the setter Unomont Chick, one of the winners in the all-American chicken trial. Warren is from Tennessee.

A CIGARETTE MADE WITH P.A. IS THE MONEY

THAT very first pull will tell you that no other tobacco is like Prince Albert for home-rolled cigarettes. How cool and refreshing it is, like a shower-bath after fast exercise. How sweet and mild it is, without sacrificing that "body" experienced smokers demand.

Never has a home-rolled cigarette tasted like that before, unless it was made with this same wonderful tobacco—good old Prince Albert. You'll like the way P. A. rolls too. It's crimp-cut and stays put in the paper as you roll it—doesn't blow away.

When you open the tidy red tin and drink-in that fragrance of real tobacco, you know in advance you are going to make the finest cigarettes you ever rolled. One right after the other—that's the way you'll roll 'em and smoke 'em with this better tobacco.

Prince Albert is equally delightful in the bowl of a pipe. It doesn't bite the tongue or parch the throat, no matter how often you load up and light up. Home-rolled cigarette, or pipe, or both, P. A. is the money. Get yourself some Prince Albert today and see!

P. A. is sold everywhere. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

MY LIFE AND FIGHTING CAREER —By Gene Tunney, New Heavyweight Champion

Correcting Fist Position Stopped Series of Hurts and Ended Fear of Brittleness

Titleholder Points Out Changes in Conditions of Fighting — Tells of Receiving His First Boxing Lesson in Marines.

By Gene Tunney.
World's Heavyweight Champion.
CHAPTER XI.

SO far, I have made comparatively little money in the ring. It has been said that I have not been as good a business man as other aspirants to the heavyweight title. I do not agree with this view, even though my actual cash income has been relatively small. My plan was to advance myself by seizing opportunities to demonstrate that I was worthy of a chance at the champion.

I figured that the money part of it would follow as a natural sequence, once I had proved my mettle. There were many handicaps confronting me, not the least of which was a feeling that I had brittle hands. I realized that without sound fighting weapons, a man might as well stay out of the ring.

Beginning with my enlistment and overseas boxing, I set out to study this problem of injured knuckles. I solved it by learning that my hands were not really fragile, but that I had been punching incorrectly. I was putting all the drive I could muster in back of my blows, but I had been neglecting my fist positions. I corrected this fault and for some years have not been troubled with cracked hands. A boxer must be as careful of his hands as an opera singer is with the throat.

First Boxing Lesson.

MY first actual boxing lesson was given me by Maj. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, famous Philadelphia sportsman, soldier and athlete. Never shall I forget my association with the Major. I had been sent to Quantico following my acceptance into the ranks of the Marines. At Quantico I was drilled in the art of fighting—not with gloves, but with bayonets, hand grenades and guns.

Maj. Biddle was in charge of the bayonet drills. He also was our athletic instructor. It was in squad drill in boxing that I was told how to execute pugilistic maneuvers. Maj. Biddle was an excellent tutor and a natural boxer. He had absorbed many of the fine points of the game through his long association and training with Philadelphia Jack O'Brien.

When I went to Philadelphia for the Dempsey fight, I met Maj. Biddle for the first time since I left Quantico. It was when I was en route for my Stroudsburg training camp that the Major looked me up. He was as healthy and robust as ever, for he takes excellent care of himself at all times.

I recalled to the Major how he had inspired the boys down at Quantico with his own example of clean living and daily exercise. He used to be up and about long before anyone else was stirring, and would put himself through strenuous exercises.

Meeting the Major now, one feels that he is a singularly unwarlike gentleman, but at the time he was drilling us, he was able to inspire himself with absolute viciousness, a requisite of the business in hand. I think Maj. Biddle could have been champion, had he elected to follow the game professionally.

Fighting "Then and Now."

WHEN John L. Sullivan fought Paddy Ryan, the hot breath of the constable was on his back all the time. What a change since then! When I fought Dempsey for the title, King Albert of Belgium was "rooting" for me and Mayor James J. Walker gave me the freedom of my native city after I had won.

I am told that when Mysterious Billy Smith licked Connie Doyle, Connie went into Billy's dressing room following the fight and grabbed Billy's arm. Then he tried to break it across his knee. Contrast that sort of spirit with the modern day formalities. The day of the Dempsey fight I called on Jack and we had a visit which further cemented our friendship.

Boxing need not be brutalized to make it interesting for the public. The days of eye-gouging, bonebreaking and slaughter have given way to clean, scientific work in the ring and this is due to the encouragement given the sport by the right sort of fans, officials and boxers. When George Bernard Shaw wrote "Cashel Byron's Profession," in which James J. Corbett starred for some time, Shaw was regarded as having idealized the prize fighter too much. But Shaw merely was looking ahead to the time when sports in general would be recognized as a national and international necessity.

Peculiarly enough, it was boxing that brought me friends in high places. Bankers, lawyers, writers, professional men of all walks and artists of ability have permitted me to associate with them and learn about the finer things of life. If boxing has been able to do this great thing for me would I not prove untrue to my trust were I not to try in every way to be an ornament to my profession instead of a mere money grabber?

St. Louis Dog Is Winner of Final Futurity Dash

Actor Boy, Owned by James Corbett, Beats Fine Field and Pays $36.20 for $2.

Actor Boy, owned by James Corbett of St. Louis, was victor last night in the running of the final heat of the futurity elimination series at the Madison Kennel Club, his race being in the nature of an upset as Rex Cantonian and Marshall's Ribbon had been favored to win. As the event turned out, Actor Boy proved much the best dog, for he lead all the way and won handily by half a dozen lengths from Wasteful Girl, the C. R. Sterling Irish entry. Tarrasfoot, holder of the world's record for the distance, was third.

Back of these three, Rex, Marshall's Ribbon, Little John, Motor Speed and Zeff finished closely bunched. The time for the event was 29 seconds flat, considered good as the track, although worked down, was not at its fastest after the recent rains.

With another day to dry, a track as fast as ever is expected for tonight's racing and a program of eight well balanced events is scheduled. The five-sixteenths of a mile race is down as the feature and it will see some good route goers parade to the post. Bee Martin, winner of two starts recently; White Pop, Pride of Kerry, Maid of Honor and Silver Top are among the entries and picking the best dog is greatly a mater of speculation as each has covered the same ground in almost the same time.

A number of the recently imported pups will go back to the boxes in several of the other events. The hurdle race again is omitted and a quarter mile dash substituted in which the new English flash, Glen Apple, will be making his first start with dogs of class. His showing will be watched with interest.

MICKEY WALKER WINS BOUT WITH SIMONICH

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—Mickey Walker of Elizabeth, N. J., former welterweight champion, was awarded the judges' decision over Joe Simonich, Butte, Mont., at the end of a 10-round fight here last night. Simonich scored the only knockdown of the match—in the first round. He was able to hold Walker to almost an even break until the ninth, when Mickey rained a shower of blows to the head and body. Simonich was badly battered but managed to keep his feet until the final bell. Walker weighed 155, his opponent 154½.

Ty Cobb Out as Tiger Manager; Moriarity Is in Dispatches From Detroit Again Report Georgia Peach Has Been Released.

Dispatches from Detroit today reiterate the reports in circulation since the close of the season that Tyrus Raymond Cobb, so long one of the American League's greatest attractions, would give way as manager of the Detroit team. George Moriarty will take his place, it is practically assured.

Moriarty was sought by both the Browns and the Tigers, with the Browns having prior right. The local club stepped aside when Moriarty manifested a preference for handling the Tigers.

Today's Cobb dispatch, published by the Sporting News, is regarded as authoritative because this publication is of a semi-official nature, in matters of big league moment. The dispatch follows:

Cobb Knew of Impending Release.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 2. — Ty Cobb is out as manager of the Detroit Tigers. This much was definitely established today through inside circles, the truth of the matter being that the Georgia Peach was through when the Tigers played the final game of their schedule.

It has been learned that a few days before the season closed President Frank Navin of the Detroit club called Cobb into his office and advised him of his release. He gave as his reason the fact that the Detroit team of 1926 was a badly demoralized organization and that it did not get the results he thought it capable of attaining.

It was an open secret that Cobb had difficulties with several of his players, not only the past season but in seasons before. On more than one occasion last summer his men resented his tactics toward them on the playing field and these incidents, besides causing some interesting scenes, engendered a great deal of ill feeling against the manager.

For several weeks it has been gossiped that George Moriarty, American League umpire, once a Detroit player, would take the management of the team in 1927. However, Navin kept the matter of Cobb's dismissal to himself and naturally made no announcement regarding Moriarty. The latest development indicates more than ever that Moriarty will be the man, for Navin has held a fondness for him ever since he was captain of the Tigers years ago.

Cobb Too Outspoken.

Cobb, with his fiery nature, goes down in baseball history as a martyr to his own temperament as a manager. The great player he was, he expected more from his men than they could give him. When they did not display the proper mental alertness—the mental alertness of Cobb—he let them know about it.

Cobb is a wealthy man. He will probably be happier away from the management of a team. His failure was that he had no Ty Cobbs on his team. It is expected that he will disassociate himself entirely from the American League—the league he made history in for more than 21 years. There is tragedy in his passing, yet his records as a player will live for all time to commemorate his name.

Cobb became a member of the Detroit team in August, 1905, and never played with another big league team. He was made manager in December, 1920, succeeding Hughey Jennings. Aside from this year, when his team finished fifth, he always had the Tigers in first division.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Lost: One Decimal Point.

DOC" KRONE of Chicago, it is announced, today offered $75,000 for a match between Champion Joe Stecher and former Champion Ed Lewis, catch-as-catch-can wrestlers.

Mr. Krone may have done this same thing. But if the match were reduced to financial terms of its actual merits, it would appear that a decimal point has been lost. The proper figure is $750.00, if we recall correctly the many farces that Lewis put upon the American public in this and other cities.

When Lewis was thrown by Big Munn nearly two years ago he put himself in the light of being either a has-been or a staller.

In neither light should he deserve a championship match.

• • •

Here They Come.

JOHN PESEK, still a real wrestler, is with us again. There is nothing of the Renato Gardini or the Vadalfi about Pesek. He is a bold, bad boy on the mat and he CAN wrestle. It is doubtful if some of the other skyline performers at local shows could make good on the last-mentioned count.

Yet Pesek has not quite been classified, either. Like everyone else in the wrestling game, he is rather judged by the company he keeps. But that he is a wrestler of the highest class there is no doubt whatever.

His match tonight is just a sweat and dollar producer. Unless Friberg's record is misleading, he is no match for Pesek other than to enable the "Tiger" to give a good exhibition.

• • •

Time to Laugh.

THE wrestling game has reached the stage where little confidence can be placed in the representations made as to the men or their intent.

Commissioner Strelinger of the California Commission recently was quoted as having said of the situation there (Lewis, Pesek and Stecher all wrestle out on the coast.):

"Wrestling matches are just jokes—the whole situation is a joke."

Perhaps the best thing to be done is to have a good laugh at the joke and let it go at that.

• • •

Mop 'Em Up Gangs.

THAT forward passing has not made a pink tea of modern football seems evident from the Syracuse game at West Point, wherein fights were numerous, where the Syracuse quarterback threw a couple of Dempseys at the referee's chin and where that official was led off the field under escort of soldiers with drawn pistols.

One Syracuse player took a kick at a West Pointer's head, by way of touching off the gunpowder.

• • •

But football is rough in other ways than in foul playing. It is rough normally and legitimately. Lawrence Perry writes that if two teams are putting the proper spirit into their charges and if the "cleaning-up squad" does its work effectively there is no reason to expect any eleven to go through a game without replacements!

We'll say that sounds rough.

• • •

In the old days, when they battered and bruised their way down the field for five yards in three downs, teams put much more physical effort into their play than now. Contacts were rougher, perhaps.

The difference lies in the fact that open-field tackling of a runner results in much more severe hurts than mass play causes. And so today the opening up of the game has perhaps contributed more severity to injuries, even though they may be fewer in number.

However, any game is just what the players make it. It's the spirit and drive the men put into their efforts that count, even more than the style of play.

INDIVIDUAL LEAGUE TO OPEN PIN SEASON HERE ON NOVEMBER 9

The Greater St. Louis Individual League will start the season Tuesday, Nov. 9, at the Washington alleys.

Otto Stein Jr., manager of these alleys, has lined up the cream of the bowlers in the city in this league.

Last year's champion, Hap Vierheller, will again be entered, also the runner-up, Ed Schaefer. Pat Spencer and E. E. Grubb, who finished fourth and fifth, as well as George Muenighaus, Christ Sotreil and Joe Monnig will roll. New members are Charles Hauser, formerly of Detroit, Mich.; Wooster Lambert, L. K. Arthur, Georga Apple fom Highland, Ill., and Syl Hethert, the great southpaw hook ball shooter.

Rickard Inspects Sites in Chicago

Contemplates Building Similar to Madison Square Garden for Athletic Contests.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Tex Rickard, New York promoter, is here to look over prospective building sites for a contemplated structure similar to New York's Madison Square Garden, to hold athletic contests and to cost between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000.

Rickard says he is unable to reveal all his plans at present and that it may be several days before a site is picked. He came here several months ago to inspect building sites and had almost decided on a location, when it was found that all the necessary land could not be obtained.

MACKER AND CAITO WIN BOWLING EVENT

W. Macker and T. Caito outdistanced a large field of starters in the two-man contest for bowlers with averages of 180 and under, held Saturday and Sunday night at the Rogers alleys, and annexed the winning honors with a total of 1143 to their credit.

M. Stanley and R. Holmes, who went to the top on one of the Saturday squads with a 1137 total, were relegated to third place when A. Meyers and R. Fuger chalked up a count of 1138, while fourth place was clinched by O. Friendly and F. Zappala, who showed with a mark of 1130.

Fifth, the last of the place prizes, was gained by E. Viscardi and R. Smith, who collected a count of 1124.

The high team game for bowlers who had not shared in any of the regular place prizes went to J. Winings and P. Broglin with a score of 426, while the high individual game was placed in the hands of A. Davis with a mark of 214.

Next Saturday and Sunday an individual contest will be held for the same class of bowlers.

Pesek to Wrestle Friberg Tonight

Nebraskan's Opponent Has Suffered Defeat on Many Occasions

John Pesek, the Nebraska heavyweight wrestler, who has considerable prestige in the mat sport during the championship tenure of Ed "Strangler" Lewis, for whom he served as "policeman" and protector against dangerous challengers, returns to St. Louis tonight to engage John Friberg, a Swedish heavyweight grappler, in the main event of the mat attractions making up a program to be presented at the Coliseum arena. Friberg has been beaten many times and has a chance to win, in a real contest on form.

Dick Daviscourt, California headlock specialist, meets Jack Reid of Chicago, in the semiwindup to tonight's card. Roller is also an exponent of the headlock. The match will be limited to one fall but no time restrictions have been imposed.

Nick Valcoff, a Bulgarian heavyweight, opposes Joe Zigmund of Brainerd, Neb., in the first preliminary. This event will also be restricted to one fall.

Harry Sharpe has been appointed referee of the main attraction while John C. Meyers and Harry Cook are scheduled to officiate in the preliminaries. Election returns will be announced from the ring according to an announcement by Promoter Packs.

ILLINI PREPARE FOR TRADITIONAL BATTLE WITH CHICAGO TEAM

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 2. — Chicago and Illinois, traditional rivals from way-back-when, will meet on Stagg Field in Chicago Saturday.

Zuppke put his first team through light signal practice yesterday and sent them to their dressing room early, while the second, third and fourth squads got a good, old-fashioned workout in scrimmage. Today the Zupp men will buck Chicago plays, which have been perfected by the freshman squad.

Postponement a Boon to Central; Team Improving

Delay of One Week Gives Walker's Green Team Chance to Perfect Plays.

After the weeping heavens had furnished a drab anti-climax to a week of strenuous practice for the second round of the schedule, when a rain-soaked gridiron at Roosevelt Field forced the postponement of Saturday's games, the public high school football elevens began pointing yesterday towards this week's struggles which bring Soldan and Central together in the opener and matches Roosevelt and Cleveland in the final and feature battle.

Beaumont draws the bye, thereby gaining an opportunity to recuperate from the injuries that have weakened Coach Lewis' lineup.

Although Central has not yet had a chance at its league rivals, it seems not unlikely that the Cleveland-Roosevelt score will go far towards determining the champions of 1926. The two South St. Louis elevens showed decided superority in downing their respective opponents in the league opening, two weeks ago.

Cleveland will hold an advantage in weight but Carlson's team at Roosevelt is fast-moving enough to even things up on this count. The Cleveland backfield, however, showed adequate speed in getting under way in the season's first game with Beaumont to roll up 18 points for a victory, while Graham, at halfback for Fenenga, when once started is not easy to overtake as his end runs in the Beaumont game indicated.

Roosevelt Attack Satisfactory.

The Roosevelt backfield, led by "Red" Sauselle, an elusive broken field runner, is fast and smoothly working, including Jarrett, Carroll and Bodge, and supplemented by Savage who alternates at right half with Jarrett, and who picked the holes in Soldan's line for consistent yardage besides rendering valuable defensive service.

With the attack functioning satisfactorily, Coach Carlson will devote most of the practices this week to the strengthening of the defense and the seconds will have possession of the ball during the greater part of the scrimmages.

All the regulars of the Rough Riders began the week in fine condition, unmarked by injuries, while at Cleveland, only Captain Coover was not in uniform yesterday. Coover is nursing an injured leg which gives promise, however, of healing before Saturday.

Central High Improving.

Due to Saturday's postponement, Central High makes its initial league appearance this week-end and with the time gained by drawing the bye in the opening round, Coach Walker has evolved a very creditable eleven from the green material that began the season. On the basis of comparative scores, Central is favored to take Saturday's verdict as the Red and Black scored a 6—0 victory over Principia after the Cadets had blanked Soldan 20 to 0.

NOTRE DAME'S ENTRY INTO BIG TEN MAY TAKE PLACE THIS YEAR

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Notre Dame's looming again as a national football titlist is the occasion for a revival of the question of Notre Dame's admission to the Big Ten.

Today it was reported that five of the six votes necessary for the action are assured when the faculty representatives of the Western Conference meet here in executive session Nov. 26 and 27.

For many seasons Rockne has observed all the conference rules for his teams which can usually find midwestern competition of interesting caliber only in the Big Ten.

The proposed admission of Notre Dame is taken to carry with it the enlargement of the conference to the Big Twelve, the desirable even number of members to be achieved by voting in of Michigan State, which has been campaigning in the East this fall. The readmission of Michigan in 1917 after an 11 years' absence was the last change in the historic athletic circle.

Marks Place of First Methodist Meeting West of Appalachians.
By the Associated Press.
JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Nov. 2. —Site of the first Methodist conferences held west of the Appalachian Mountains in Eastern Tennessee and Kentucky, under Francis Asbury, first Methodist Bishop in America, has been marked by a large granite boulder.
The marker was taken from the bed of the Watauga River near an ancient ford which Bishop Asbury crossed as he made his trips from East to West. On the front side of the marker are chiseled these words: "William Nelson's ancient home for Methodists and Methodist Preaching by Bishop Asbury." On the reverse side are the words: "Site of Annual Conferences, 1793, 1796 and 1797."

Chronic Head Colds
Simple Method of Prevention
Nasal catarrh is not only disagreeable and offensive, but it will lead to serious trouble.
That inflamed condition of the mucous membranes of the air passages of the head, nose and throat are spread to the point where it is curable and a danger to life.
Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes are composed of medicinal herbs, flowers and berries. The warm smoke vapor is inhaled into the affected air passages and will go where sprays, douches and salves cannot reach. They contain no tobacco or opiates, and being harmless, are used by children, as well as adults.

If you suffer from any catarrhal trouble, plain nasal catarrh, catarrhal deafness, hoarseness, asthma, hay fever, bronchial irritations, or are subject to frequent cold, get from any druggist a pocket-size package of Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes and prove for yourself their pleasant, beneficial effects.

Pesek to Wrestle Friberg Tonight

Nebraskan's Opponent Has Suffered Defeat on Many Occasions

John Pesek, the Nebraska heavyweight wrestler, who won considerable prestige in the mat sport during the championship tenure of Ed "Strangler" Lewis for whom he served as "police man" and protector against dangerous challengers, returns to St. Louis tonight to engage John Friberg, a Swedish heavyweight grappler, in the main event of three mat attractions making up a program to be presented at the New Coliseum arena. Friberg has been beaten many times and has no chance to win, in a real contest, on form.

Dick Daviscourt, California headlock specialist, meets Jack Roller of Chicago, in the semiwindup of tonight's card. Roller is also an exponent of the headlock. Their match will be limited to one fall but no time restrictions have been imposed.

Nick Valcoff, a Bulgarian heavyweight, opposes Joe Zigmund of Brainerd, Neb., in the first preliminary. This event will also be restricted to one fall.

Harry Sharpe has been appointed referee of the main attraction while John C. Meyers and Harry Cook are scheduled to officiate in the preliminaries. Election returns will be announced from the ring, according to an announcement by Promoter Packs.

ILLINI PREPARE FOR TRADITIONAL BATTLE WITH CHICAGO TEAM

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 2. — Chicago and Illinois, traditional rivals from way-back-when, will meet on Stagg Field in Chicago Saturday.

Zuppke put his first team through light signal practice yesterday and sent them to their dressing room early, while the second, third and fourth squads got a good, old-fashioned workout in scrimmage. Today the Zupp men will buck Chicago plays, which have been perfected by the freshman squad.

TABLETS AT CONFERENCE SITE

Marks Place of First Methodist Meeting West of Appalachians.

By the Associated Press.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Nov. 2. —Site of the first Methodist conferences held west of the Appalachian Mountains in Eastern Tennessee and Kentucky, under Francis Asbury, first Methodist Bishop in America, has been marked by a large granite boulder.

The marker was taken from the bed of the Watauga River near an ancient ford which Bishop Asbury crossed as he made his trips from East to West. On the front side of the marker are chiseled these words: "William Nelson's ancient home for Methodists and Methodist Preaching by Bishop Asbury." On the reverse side are the words: "Site of Annual Conferences, 1793, 1796 and 1797."

ENTERTAINING TASK IN SYRIA

Important Job for French High Commissioner in That Country.

By the Associated Press.

BEIRUT, Syria, Nov. 2.—Entertaining is one of the most important tasks of the French High Commissioner in Syria. Nowhere does ice-cold champagne flow as freely or are diners in evening clothes or decollette dresses and bare shoulders sparkling with gems, before the rule.

M. Henri de Jouvenel, the former High Commissioner, three times a week never had less than 30 guests at his table on any given evening, during the eight months of his stay.

STATE EMPLOYES DESERT CAPITAL TO LINE UP VOTES

Even Guard Ranks at Penitentiary Are Reduced to Send G. O. P. Workers Home.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 2.—Most of the State departments at the Capitol were operating today with greatly reduced forces, due to the exodus of department heads, deputies, clerks, inspectors and other employes to their home towns and counties to vote and work for the Republican ticket. Some of the department heads and their field forces of deputies and inspectors have been busy for several weeks over the State, but the eleventh-hour drive got under way Saturday.

Gov. Baker declined to forecast the election result. "I am not making any election predictions," Baker said. "Such forecasts are bombastic. I do not know how the election is coming out, but we will all know tomorrow."

The Governor has made only three or four speeches during the campaign, and two of them were in connection with the congressional race in the Eighth District. Mayor Thomas of Jefferson City is the Republican nominee in the district, and Baker made speeches for him at Tuscumbia and Eldon. The Governor's inactivity has surprised some of the Republican office holders, as two of his appointees, Senator Williams and Supreme Judge Robert W. Otto, are the Republican nominees to succeed themselves.

At the penitentiary the guard force has been reduced this week to allow some of the guards to return to their home counties to do campaign work, although the most serious convict outbreak in the prison in 21 years occurred Oct. 24. Other guards are working longer hours to replace those sent back home to "line up the boys."

EX-KAISER'S SON SENT GIFT TO PLOTTER, NEWSPAPER SAYS

Berlin Prisoner He Comforted Was Acquitted, However, of Designs on Stresemann's Life.

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The Taglische Rundschau says it is now confirmed that Prince Oscar, the ex-Kaiser's fifth son, some time ago sent a friendly letter with some cigarettes to Werner Lorenz when Lorenz was under arrest with Karl Kaltdorf on a charge of plotting to assassinate Foreign Minister Stresemann. The two men were acquitted Oct. 20, the Court expressing the opinion that they were braggarts who could not be taken seriously.

The Rundschau says that, when the story of Prince Oscar's action was first reported, it was not believed. "Unfortunately, it develops that the story was really true."

Salesman Shot Leaving Hotel.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 2.—John Kelly, 25 years old, a traveling salesman for the Bristol Hat Co. of St. Louis, was wounded slightly in the right arm today by a shot as he appeared in the doorway of the Frederic Hotel. Kelly, whose home is in Omaha, arose early and prepared to drive to his home. As he went out of the hotel the shot was fired. He could assign no reason for the act. The police are conducting an investigation.

Fergusons Vote for Moody.

By the Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 2.—The votes of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and her husband, James E. Ferguson, will be cast today for Dan Moody, who defeated Mrs. Ferguson for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. The Fergusons announced that they voted the Democratic ticket straight by the absentee voting method.

DR. HARDING RECALLS SON'S FIRST SPEECH

Young Warren Interrupted School Program to Recite Poem, Father Says.

By the Associated Press.

MARION, O., Nov. 2.—Ill of body, but with his 82-year-old mind alert, Dr. George T. Harding, father of the late President Warren G. Harding, sits in the house which has been his home here for 42 years. He lives in a world gone by, his mind filled with interesting incidents in the life of his son.

And any review by Dr. Harding of the life of his President-son begins with the statement that the most important factor in it was "the wonderful teaching and inspiration received from his mother and his grandmother."

The future President's first effort at public speaking is an incident which Dr. Harding takes great pleasure in telling.

"It was while I was teaching the Buckhorn Inn School," he says. "Neighbors and students were gathered and I had just delivered an address when Warren pulled my coat tail and said, 'Pappy, I want to speak also.' There was no dissuading him. He recited a five-stanza poem, taught him by his grandmother. That was 58 years ago this coming winter."

Dr. Harding tells how his son earned his first money by sawing wood for a neighbor, later raising 18 bushels of wheat on an abandoned potato patch. Still later while not yet 13 years of age, young Warren worked as a teamster in the construction of the Toledo & Ohio Central Railroad.

When he graduated from Ohio Central College, young Warren started to read law in the office of a Marion attorney. He seemed pretty well satisfied, but Dr. and Mrs. Harding did not like the men with whom he was associated and we induced him to give up reading law.

"Warren," the father relates, "had been editor of the college paper, so after he left the law office he went to work for the Marion Mirror. The editor and Warren got into a ruckus about James G. Blaine. Warren always had been an admirer of Blaine's so he quit the Mirror and after working at odd times for the Star, I made it possible for him to buy this paper by lending him $500 and going on a couple of small notes.

"In all the 30-odd years that Warren ran the Star he never said anything harmful against any one The paper grew in value until it sold for about $500,000."

Dr. Harding is the only living father of a President.

14 PRIVATE BANKS CLOSED

Michigan Depositories Were All Operated by One Company.

By the Associated Press.

BAY CITY, Mich., Nov. 2.—Fourteen small private banks, known as the Ealy & Co. banks in Tuscola, Lapeer, Ogemaw and Iosco Counties have been closed within the last few days, pending a dissolution of partnerships and reorganization into State banks. No statement of assets, deposits or liabilities has been made.

Frozen loans, damage to bean and beet crops, a steady withdrawal of deposits in some of the banks and the necessity of conserving assets are given as the reasons for closing them. The banks closed are at Reese, Richville, Fairgrove, Gilford, Akron, Silverwood and Millington, in Tuscola County; Clifford and Otter Lake in Lapeer County; Munger, in Bay County; West Branch in Ogemaw and Hale, East Tawas and Tawas City in Iosco County.

Fuses Undo Kahn Club Opening.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Society just poured from the first night of the opera eager to pay a $25 cover charge at Roger Wolff Kahn's new club, dance on a glass floor and eat on tables made of bowls of goldfish. But the fuses blew out after he had been working for hours in his shirt sleeves to get things ready. The opening was postponed.

Food Shortage on Isle of Pines.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—A serious economic situation has arisen on the Isle of Pines as a result of the recent hurricane. A report to the Navy Department today from the American Embassy at Havana said that although sanitary conditions are good a food shortage is reported. The Cuban Red Cross and the Cuban Secretary of the Interior have been asked to forward supplies immediately for 2000 people. The present food supply was contributed for the most part by American naval vessels.

DETROIT LIQUOR SMUGGLING WORRIES DRY LAW CHIEFS

Andrews Confers With Dow Over Radical Steps Contemplated, Hears Situation Is Serious.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Worried over the continued flow of liquor across the Canadian border into Detroit, Assistant Secretary Andrews, chief of the dry forces, is contemplating radical steps in an attempt to relieve the situation.

Frank Dow, assistant to Andrews, returned today from a special investigation of Detroit conditions, and described the situation as "very bad." While only half of the 45 new border patrol authorized for the section have been added to the staff there, Dow said even the full quota would have its hands full stopping the traffic which goes across the border in boats and freight cars.

Dow praised the work of A. J. Hanlon, who was sent to Detroit to take charge of the forces, but he indicated some reorganization of the staff might be necessary. Dow also declared greater co-operation is necessary from the citizens of Detroit.

JEWISH RITES FOR HOUDINI

Funeral of Magician to Be Held in New York Thursday.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The body of Harry Houdini, magician, who died Sunday in Detroit, arrived here by train today for burial Thursday.

Services by the Elks will be followed by Jewish rites at the Temple Mt. Zion. Representatives of the Jewish Theatrical Guild and the National Vaudeville Artists' Association will participate. The American Society of Magicians, of which Houdini was president, today announced plans for a public memorial service.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring: use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO HOLDERS OF MISSOURI PORTLAND CEMENT COMPANY FIRST MORTGAGE 6½ PER CENT SERIAL GOLD BONDS DATED JULY 1, 1922

Notice is hereby given that the Missouri Portland Cement Company has elected and does hereby elect to exercise the redemption right reserved to it under Article XV of a deed of trust executed by it to the Mississippi Valley Trust Company, Trustee, dated July 1, 1922, securing Two Million Dollars ($2,000,000) First Mortgage 6½ per cent Serial Gold Bonds, dated July 1, 1922; and, in accordance with the rights reserved to it under said Article XV of said indenture, the Missouri Portland Cement Company does hereby call for redemption and payment on January 1, 1927, all of the several series of bonds issued by it and secured by said deed of trust now outstanding, and maturing by their terms on July 1, 1934, and July 1, 1935.

All persons holding any of said bonds maturing as above stated are hereby notified that such bonds have been called for redemption, and that the Missouri Portland Cement Company will on January 1, 1927, at the offices of the Mississippi Valley Trust Company, Trustee, as aforesaid, (said offices being at the northwest corner of Fourth and Pine streets, in the City of St. Louis, Mo.) pay and redeem the said bonds issued by it and maturing as aforesaid at one hundred and five per centum of their par value, and also will pay the accrued interest thereon up to January 1, 1927, and that from and after January 1, 1927, all the interest on said bonds so called for redemption will cease.

And the said Missouri Portland Cement Company does further give notice that on or before the first day of January, 1927, it will deposit at the said offices of said Trustee, in the City of St. Louis, Mo., the money required for the payment and redemption of said bonds with all accrued interest to January 1, 1927, and that from and after said first day of January, 1927, the date for such redemption and payment, all interest on the bonds so called for redemption will cease.

In case the holder of any bond or bonds hereby called for redemption and payment shall fail to present the same for redemption and payment at the time and place above designated, said Trustee shall continue to hold the money so provided to pay and redeem the same until said bond or bonds shall be presented for payment.
MISSOURI PORTLAND CEMENT CO.
By H. L. BLOCK, President.
Dated October 26, 1926.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail, cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

B. McD.—If you walk through a train in the direction the train is going and the train is traveling eastward you are walking faster than the train and the earth is traveling. The explanation follows: The earth is moving and if the train is moving in the same direction on the earth then the train is moving through space faster than the earth. And if you are walking through the train in the same direction then you are traveling through space quicker than the train is traveling and therefore faster than the earth is traveling. If a fly should walk across your face from your ear to your nose it would be traveling in the same direction as you, the train and the earth, and it would be traveling through space even faster than you, the train or the earth were traveling. Each of these things of course, is relative to other things.

SUBSCRIBER. — If the debutante's party is a formal reception or dance your greeting when presented to the debutante by her mother will be simply "how do you do," unless you are an early comer who may have time to say that you hope she will enjoy her season, or comment on the lovely flowers she has received, or anything similar that shows polite interest. Personal remarks are bad form. When the formal receiving is over you may have an opportunity to chat with the debutante but do not hold back the line of persons waiting to be presented to the debutante. Invitations to a large formal reception need not be acknowledged, as the hostess provides for hundreds of guests on such occasions. It is proper to acknowledge any invitation, but not necessary for a large reception. If you are a close friend of the family you may send the debutante a bouquet in honor of the occasion.

O. H.—Salt comes in two forms, that of rock salt and brine salt. Most of the salt used now is rock salt, which is mined. There are some salt mines operated like ore mines, but most of the mining is done by sinking wells into the salt deposit, pumping fresh water into the well and extracting the water after a strong brine is formed. This brine is evaporated by boiling in open kettles or by steam pipe heat. Salt originally was obtained by evaporating sea water. Some inland seas deposit salt along the shores. The Salton Sea close to the Mexico-California border is said to have deposited 29 inches of salt every day until the Colorado River flooded the sea in 1906 with fresh water and destroyed the buildings used to prepare the salt for use. There is a flow of fresh water into the Salton Sea now but the sea is evaporating faster than the New River, formed by the flood and connecting the Colorado River with the sea, can supply fresh water. Great cakes of salt deposit can be seen along the shore line now as the sea bottom is slowly exposed by evaporation. Salt wells and mines are located in various parts of the United States. The largest natural salt mine is in Austria. It has been used for several hundred years.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association.)

H. J. J.—The Attorney-General of Missouri is North Todd Gentry.

J. T. McD.—You should consult a lawyer about deeding the property to relatives.

READER.—Write to the Secretary of State, Jefferson City, Mo., about the 1918 amendment.

W. H. M.—Unless the landlord agreed to pay for blowing out the gas pipe he does not have to do so.

INFORMATION.—Marriages are legal if the contracting persons give addresses that are fictitious but use their correct names.

A. M.—You should pay taxes on the land in December, 1926, but will not have to pay taxes on the newly finished building until December, 1927.

CONSTANT READER. — You should consult a lawyer if you want your will to exclude your commonlaw husband from sharing in your estate.

PEARL.—Consult the Legal Aid Bureau, Municipal Courts Building, Fourteenth and Market streets, about obtaining permission to see your children.

F. G.—You can garnishee 10 per cent of the husband's wages and all of the wife's wages after you get judgment against them in court. The company will have to pay the money in court if the court orders them to do so.

MAYBELLE. — Write to the Board of Hairdressers and Cosmeticians Examiners, Jefferson City, Mo., about requirements for application to become a registered operator. The requirements were made more rigid this month than they had been in the past.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

MRS. F. D. M.—Call at the Bureau of Municipal Nurses located in the Municipal Courts Building, Fourteenth and Market streets, for full particulars regarding your profession. The Josephine hospital is a general hospital.

A READER.—A thorough and complete examination by a specialist in obstetrics is the only way that the cause of such a defect could be fully and accurately determined. The x-ray could not furnish a solution to the trouble. Such an examination can be had free of charge at the clinics conducted by the larger hospitals here, or if you can afford it, preferably by a private physician skilled in this line of medical practice.

RUSH.—Dropping from their place would not cause bleeding from the kidneys, and not usually backache, nor any trouble with the prostate gland. Many inherit what are called idiosyncrasies, such as an article of food that is practically poisonous to them and yet a common diet for almost everyone else. This might explain why acid foods disagree with you, and knowing this they should be indulged in very sparingly, if at all. A misplaced or floating kidney is often crippled in the exercise of its proper and complete functioning by such displacement, this being a point that should be cleared up by urinary analysis. From the description of your case we rather think you should be under the care of a reliable physician.

ROBBER HANDCUFFS OWNER OF SHOE STORE, TAKES $66

Forces Clerk, Who Entered During Robbery, to Take Key From Employer and Open Register.

George H. Belke, proprietor of a shoe store at 2615 Gravois avenue, was handcuffed, bound around the legs with wire and gagged by an armed robber who entered his store at 6:45 p. m. yesterday.

Leaving the proprietor in a rear room the robber went to the cash register, which he was attempting to open when a clerk, John Schmatt, of 3521 Oregon avenue, entered. The robber marched him to the rear room, where he forced Schmatt to obtain the key to the cash register from his employer's pocket.

The robber then made Schmatt open the cash register, from which he took $66. As he started to leave the robber gave the keys to the handcuffs to Schmatt and he released Belke.

KILLED IN POLITICAL QUARREL

Thomas Huddleson, Negro, Shot in East St. Louis.

A political argument in a saloon at Sixteenth street and Boismenue avenue, East St. Louis, at 11:30 p. m. yesterday, resulted in the fatal shooting of Thomas Huddleson, 40 years old, a Negro, of 1704 Baker avenue, Republican Precinct Committeeman in East St. Louis. He was shot in the abdomen and died at 4:30 a. m. today in St. Mary's Hospital.

Joseph Long, 42, a Nero, of 1007 South Sixteenth street, is being held for the shooting. He said the argument started when Huddleson refused to buy him a drink because he is a Democrat.

KILLS 2 CHILDREN AND SELF

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Relatives here have received messages that Mrs. Luffrerry Lowinwood, 30 years old, had killed her two children and herself at the Inwood home in Hollywood, Cal. Friends of the family attributed the act in part to failure of her father's firm here, which already has resulted in one suicide.

Mrs. Inwood's father, William Low, was president of the Electrical Appliance Co., which failed a few weeks ago. Shortly after the failure of the firm, Thomas Stacey, secretary and treasurer, killed himself. Mrs. Inwood, wife of Louis Inwood, had been suffering intense pains from burns and also had been worrying over the failure of her father. Her husband found gas jets open in the room occupied by the children and also in Mrs. Inwood's room.

Police Seek Barefooted Prowler.

Three Maplewood residents reported to police there early today that a Negro attempted to break into their homes. The Negro escaped from each home before police arived. Footprints indicating that he was barefoot were found beneath windows of each home he attempted to enter.

Eighth Victim of Truck Crash Dies.

DAYTON, O., Nov. 2.—The toll of a collision of two trucks and an interurban car was increased to eight last night when Mrs. Frances Allo, 37 years old, died of burns. Six of the victims were children. Members of two Italian families were riding in a truck which attempted to pass another truck and crashed into the interurban car. Flames enveloped the wreckage when the gasoline tank burst.

TELLS OF BEING TORTURED WHEN IN RUMANIAN JAIL

Former Labor Union Secretary Says Neck Was Held in Pincers and Wrists Burned.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News. Copyright, 1926.

MOSCOW, Nov. 2.—An interesting description of Rumanian police methods of securing evidence is given in a letter from Boris Sthepanov smuggled out of a Rumanian prison.

Sthepanov was secretary of a labor union and was arrested with others in a recent drive against labor unions especially those including Jews in the Kishinev region. His trial with three students including a girl will be started in Bucharest this week. A noted Rumanian lawyer who has been retained by the defense has declared his intention to summon the secretaries of war, labor and interior, as well as Bessarabian workmen to give evidence.

"As soon as I arrived in prison," writes Sthepanov, "I was stripped of my clothes by the gendarmes. Two of them, named Georgescu and Basilescu, held my neck with large iron pincers and started questioning me. They then beat me with rubber clubs until I was unconscious. As soon as my eyes opened three hours later they demanded the addresses of my friends and when I refused to give them, the beating with the rubber clubs was resumed. My hands were placed in iron clamps and burned with red hot irons and the clamps were screwed into my wrists until I fainted. I was thrown into a dungeon until the following morning."

Included in the list of witnesses in the present case was Pavet Tkatchenko who was mysteriously assassinated while being brought to Bucharest from Kishinev under a guard of soldiers.

WOULD DIVORCE A. W. PECK

Wife Cites Conviction of Husband for a Felony in Petition.

Mrs. Loretta Devitt Peck yesterday sued to divorce Austin W. Peck, real estate operator, alleging general indignities. They were married six years ago and separated last June.

In her petition Mrs. Peck recites the fact that her husband, during the marriage, was convicted of a felony and served a term in the Jefferson City penitentiary, from which he was paroled in November, 1921. The conviction was on an indictment charging him with embezzling securities instrusted to a stock brokerage firm which he operated. In May, 1924, Mrs. Peck filed a suit for divorce but this case was dismissed after a reconciliation. Peck recently was stabbed by another real estate dealer with whom he had an altercation. He lives at Hotel Chase and has an office in the Central National Bank Building.

October Commercial Failures.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Commercial failures in the United States in October tabulated by R. G. Dun & Co., increased to 1763 from 1437 in September, which was the smallest number for any month in two years, while the October total is 11½ per cent above the 1581 failures of the same month last year. October liabilities of $33,230,720 are the largest reported since last May, and compared with $29,989,817 in September and $29,543,870 in October, 1925. Defaults for the 10 months this year were 17,874, against 17,664 in the same period last year, but indebtedness dropped to $330,900,000 from $372,300,000.

MONTGOMERY WARD SALES FOR OCTOBER $20,154,626

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—For the first time since January, 1922, Montgomery Ward & Co., today reported a decrease in sales. The company's October sales showed a decrease of 8.24 per cent.

Sales for the month were $20,154,626, a falling-off of $1,810,256 under October last year. On the other hand, sales for the 10 months up to Oct. 31 were $156,281,323, an increase of 9.66 per cent over the same period last year.

Commenting on the October decrease, the company says:

"October last year was unusually cold and occasioned a pre-season demand for winter merchandise, resulting in sales of nearly $22,000,000, an increase of approximately 27 per cent over the preceding October. October this year has one less working day than last year. These are the principal reasons for the sales recession."

COTTON PRICES HIGHER ON NEW ORLEANS MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2.—The cotton market opened firm today, due to favorable cables and bad weather in the belt. First trades showed gains of 12 to 16 points and although prices reacted 6 to 8 points after the start, they soon rallied to new high with December at 12.85c, January at 12.92c and March at 13.07c, or 18 to 19 points above Saturday's close. The market was quiet early with prices steady.

After making new highs at the end of the first hour for March at 13.09c and May at 13.26c, the market became quieter and fluctuated narrowly within the previous range, but always near the highs, being sustained by the cool, rainy weather in the belt and by the growing belief that the efforts being made to stabilize prices by holding back a considerable amount of cotton were successful. The continued large exports are likewise proving a constructive influence. New Orleans cleared today 49,944 bales.

The market ruled quiet during the afternoon, prices fluctuating narrowly within the earlier range although prices eased off slightly at times on realizing. The fact that the New York market was closed shut off the mutual trading between the markets and contributed to the lull. December traded at 12.77c, January at 12.83c and March at 13.00c or 8 to 9 points below the highs of the morning.

Wall Street News and Comment

—SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Believers in high prices on the stock market were considerably cheered by the strength displayed by the market on the eve of today's elections, although this strength was by no means conclusive.

What was shown was that the share list was able to stand up and close decidedly strong in the face of uncertainty. Had the market been in a sensitive position this could not have happened. Monday's happenings were an additional support to the contention that the liquidation which ran its course at the middle of October had been reasonably thorough.

Another contributing factor to the better feeling toward the stock market at the present price level is the continued decline in broker's loans as indicated in the latest figures of the federal reserve. According to the statistics published Monday, loans to brokers for the week ended Oct. 27 totaled $2,602,190,000 against $2,655,118,000 in the previous week. The decrease was not as large as that reported the week ended Oct. 20, which amounted to $71,136,000 and this decline in turn was not as large as that for the week ended Oct. 13, when the falling off amounted to $81,953,000, but the fact remained that the tendency toward a decrease in brokers' borrowings was accompanied by a decline in stock market activity and an abundance of funds available for stock market purposes.

HEAD OF STANDARD OIL CO. OF NEW JERSEY ON STAND

Walter C. Teagle Called in U. S. Proceedings Against Alleged Cracking Process Pool.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, testified in behalf of his company today before a special master hearing of Federal charges that the company and 45 others formed an illegal pool of oil-cracking process patents.

Teagle's testimony showed the enormous business conducted by his company, which, he said, handles daily about 80,000 barrels of crude oil in eight foreign countries and operates in about a dozen countries plants having a daily refining capacity of approximately 120,000 barrels. It operates a fleet of 35 domestic and 44 foreign oil tankers aggregating 800,000 tons, he said, but has no producing properties in this country, except indirectly through other companies. Teagle said his company refined about 13.58 per cent of all the gasoline refined in this country.

CANDIDATE IS BANKRUPT

Involuntary Petition Against Man Financing Own Campaign.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—Bankruptcy of a California candidate who was financing his own race for Associate Justice of the State Supreme Court has furnished a sidelight on the subject of campaign expenses on the Pacific Coast.

The candidate is D. L. Thornbury, whose liabilities were placed at $35,000 in an involuntary petition in Federal Court yesterday. The Supreme Court nominations are nonpartisan.

FURTHER DECLINE IN HOG MARKET

Receipts Fair at 13,500 Head —Improvement in Cattle Prices.

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., Nov. 2.—Receipts today, estimated: Cattle and calves, 6800; hogs, 13,500; sheep, 3000; horses and mules, 75.

CATTLE—Virtually all classes of cattle showed an improved trend here today under modest receipts and a fairly active demand. Veal calves, on the other hand, were steady, and Southern canner yearlings 50c lower.

Estimated receipts at 6800 cattle and calves included a fairly wide representation of quality, with the average about normal for a second day. Arrivals at most of the other Western markets were likewise of modest proportions.

The most pronounced strength locally was in native beef steers, which averaged 25c higher. Sales were largely at $8 to $10 per cwt. and four cars of 935-pound Hereford yearlings from Sangamon County, Ill., equaled the year's top at $12.25.

Light yearling steers and heifers proved strong and some favored deals reflected a 15c to 25c advance. Beef cows, canner and cutter cows, and bulls sold on a strong market.

Nine cars of Oklahoma grass steers at $6 to $7.25 were 10c to 15c higher. Veal calves topped at $12.50. Southern canner yearlings bulked at $5.

Quotations—Beef steers, range, $6 to $12.50; fat light steers and heifers, range, $8 to $11.75; grass yearlings, range, $6 to $7.75; beef cows, range, $4.75 to $7.50; cutter cows, range, $3.85 to $4.50; canner cows, range, $3.35 to $3.75; bulls, range, $4 to $6.50; stocker and feeder steers, range, $5 to $8.

HOGS—The draggy movement inaugurated in Monday's session continued in today's trading with prices showing further decline on practically all grades. Receipts were fair at 13,500 head estimated for the local trade. 11 markets totaling 86,850 head, against 92,800 last Tuesday and 98,300 a year ago today. Quality here graded fair to good.

Order buyers and traders bought sparingly on the early rounds at prices generally 25c under yesterday's best time or around 10c lower than the low time or close. Top was $13, paid for a few loads and bunches of choice butchers weighing 200 lbs. and better with 180 to 190 lb. averages noted at $12.90. Bids from big killers were mostly at $12.85 and $12.90.

Pig stuff averaged 25c lower throughout, best strong weight kinds of 130 to 150 lbs. at $12.50 to $12.75 and lighter grades of good quality around $12.25 to $12.50. Some inferior Southern pigs were noted as low as $11.50.

Packer sows found a draggy clearance, in contrast with yesterday's brisk movement of this class and prices were 25c to 50c lower. Most of the desirable medium weight and light sows cleared around $11 with a few at $11.25. Weightier kinds ranged $10.25 to $10.75. Stags quotable at steady prices, mainly $9 to $11.

Hog market developed further weakness as the session progressed and last deals were mostly 25c under Monday's close. Bulk of late butcher hogs brought $12.80 with light hogs around $12.75. Clearance was good. Bulk of all sales for the day $12.75 to $12.90.

SHEEP—Little change in price was shown in the early movement of lambs today under a moderate to fair supply of around 1800 head, through and direct lambs raising the total number of arrivals to approximately 3000. Packers bought a few at $13 to $13.50, the latter figure the top to these operators. Culls continued at $8.50 mostly, occasional lots above the ordinary in flesh making $9. Sheep were unchanged, best mutton ewes at $6 and heavies ranging downward to $4.

Late sheep sales included a load of yearling wethers at $11 and two decks of aged Southern wethers, one load was burry and mediums in quality at $6.25 and the other made $7.

Quotations: Slaughter stock—Good to choice lambs $13 to $13.75, medium to good $12 to $13, plain to medium $10 to $12, cull and common $8 to $9, skins $5 to $7. Good to choice yearling wethers $11 to $12, medium to good $10 to $11, plain to medium $9 to $10. Good to choice mutton ewes $5.50 to $6, medium to good $4.50 to $5.50, plain to medium $4 to $4.50. Choppers and bucks $2 to $4, canners $1.50 to $2.50. Good to choice aged wethers $7 to $8.25. Fat hair goats $2 to $2.50, thin to fair goats $1 to $2. Fat kids $4.50 to $5.50, thin to fair kids $2 to $4.

HORSES AND MULES—The market reflects a steady tone this week under light receipts and a moderate demand. Outlet includes mine and pit mules, some big mules, big horses and 1200 to 1400 lb. wagon horses.

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Olive Tablets bring no griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All Druggists.

IS YOUR HAIR FALLING OUT OR GETTING THIN?

Chronic dandruff, falling hair and itchy scalp are warning signs that baldness is on the way. Better act in time and save your hair.

Thomas' Special Formula for Falling Hair will drive away the dandruff, stop falling hair and correct conditions which promote baldness. As different from the ordinary run of "hair dopes" as day and night. Contains no alcohol to dry up the scalp and make the hair brittle. It is highly antiseptic, checking and eliminating all conditions which destroy the life and lustre of your hair. It stimulates "dying hair roots," and does more to preserve a good head of hair than any other product yet discovered.

This is the same formula used so successfully by the greatest hair and scalp specialists in the world at all the Thomas' offices in 40 cities.

'RADIUM' CURE SWINDLERS GOT ABOUT $10,000

Man Arrested in St. Louis Is Alleged Member of Gang That Operated in Kentucky and Tennessee.

A fake "radium" cure for failing eyesight, by which three smooth swindlers are alleged to have defrauded Confederate veterans and their wives of approximately $10,000 in the past month in Kentucky and Tennessee, is the basis of charges on which John D. Connor, self-styled promoter, is held here for Nashville (Tenn.) police.

Conner, who said after his arrest at Hotel Statler Saturday by Federal agents that he had once been exploitation manager for Jack Dempsey, is said by Tennessee authorities to be the notorious "Dr. Brown," who swindled many blind and near-blind Tennesseans of substantial sums after telling them he had been sent by the Government to relieve their condition.

It is on the basis of his alleged representation of himself as a Government physician that he was arrested here and booked as suspected of impersonating a Federal officer. He denies any connection with the swindles.

Methods of "Dr. Brown."

Yesterday one of the swindle victims, George Bertram of Winchester, Tenn., outlined the methods of "Dr. Brown" in a suit filed in Chancery Court in Franklin County, Tenn., against the quack optometrist. In connection with the suit Bertram attached $900 deposited by the swindler in a Nashville bank under the name of "J. D. Connor."

Bertram, an aged man with failing eyesight, alleges that Dr. Brown came to his home on Oct. 22 accompanied by two other men, whom he termed his assistants. He represented himself as a licensed physician and said he had an unfailing cure for Bertram's condition, which involved a process of radium treatment.

Overjoyed at the news that he was to see again, Bertram says, he gave the "specialists" a certificate of deposit for $900 which the stranger speedily converted to a draft for the account of J. D. Connor. The "doctor" never returned, according to the suit, to effect the promised cure.

Used Various Aliases.

Investigation of the activities of the swindlers, which even then was under way, has shown they used various aliases, traveled in an expensive automobile and dressed immaculately, to fit their adopted profession. During the period of operations they took payments for cures ranging from $200 to $1400.

One of the features of their plan was that they were not seen, or seen only imperfectly, by the victims of their swindle. Because all their victims are totally or partially blind, some doubt has been expressed as to whether it will be possible to make identifications should criminal prosecutions ensue.

A list of 20 victims of the swindle, to many of whom the men represented themselves as Government physicians, has been compiled by investigators, working in the district around Nashville. To an aged widow, for example, the men came with the story that they had motored from Washington to administer to her sight. They asked $200 as an advance fee and never returned. Later she learned that the $200 check had been raised to $675 and that they had taken every cent she had in the bank.

Several Victims Located.

Another victim was Miss Jessie Buchanan, residing on the Powder road near Lebanon, Tenn., who gave the "doctor" a check for $650 to effect a cure and waited vainly for him to return. Still another was "Uncle Bob" Caskey, 80-year-old Confederate veteran of Columbia, who parted with $200.

Again, an aged man at Winchester gave the swindlers $1000, an older soldier at Morristown parted with $1400 and another at Winchester gave up $1000 for the "cure." In many of these cases the swindlers persuaded their victims to give them blank checks and filled them in for whatever amount they had on deposit.

On the strength of the investigation of "Dr. Brown's" activity warrants have been issued at Nashville for Conner and detectives are on the way to St. Louis to get him. Conner has asserted that he is a graduate of a Kansas City school of optemery, but denies that he has practiced as the warrants charge.

TO RAISE TURKISH GALLEONS

American Salvage Concern Makes Bid on Ship in Greece.

Special Correspondence of Post-Dispatch.

ATHENS, Oct. 15.—Like the project of finding Capt. Kidd's treasure is that of raising the 87 Turkish galleons sunk in the Bay of Navarino, Greece, by the British fleet in 1827. The ships had been cruising around quite a bit and picking up plunder in the form of gold coins and ornaments. Besides, their numerous bronze cannon have a high intrinsic value.

Once more the project is seriously discussed, and an American salvage company is offering the Greek Government 10 per cent of the spoils. But it will be a costly job, for most of the galleons lie in 200 feet of water.

Poison Cosmetics Called a Menace

New York Authority Says Thousands Are Slowly Injuring Themselves Without Knowing the Cause.

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall

THOUSANDS of persons all over America are slowly poisoning themselves, without realizing it or without knowing how it is done.

Men are poisoning themselves with hair dye. So are women.

Women also are poisoning themselves with rouge, powder, lipstick.

We are protected by law against poisoning by food and drugs. But there is no legal protection against poisoning by cosmetics and toilet preparations.

The remedy is not to abolish cosmetics or to declaim against their use, but to compel manufacturers to compound hair dye, rouge, powder, lipstick of nonpoisonous materials—a thing which can perfectly well be done.

The present startling situation and the right way to cope with it were described to me by a man who is certainly in a position to know what he is talking about—Dr. Dana U. Hubbard, head of the Division of Investigation of Medical Practice and Chairman of the Committee on Patent Medicines for the New York Health Department.

Dr. Hubbard in a recent speech before the New England Health Institute declared that many girls and women buy and use poisonous cosmetics without knowing of their danger, and I went to ask him just how bad conditions really are and how they can be changed.

MEN ENDANGERING HEALTH

"But it isn't women alone who are being poisoned by toilet preparations," Dr. Hubbard promptly warned. "Large numbers of men are endangering their health by the use of dyes for the hair and mustache. You would probably be surprised if you knew how many men use these preparations. And nobody can blame them. Often a man's job—his very existence—depends on his ability to retain the appearance of youth."

"The same thing is true to women," I reminded Dr. Hubbard. "Are you one of the persons who blame women for using rouge and powder and trying to make themselves look young? The woman who grows old too fast may not only lose a job—she may lose her husband's love!"

"And her friends," Dr. Hubbard added in sympathetic agreement. "Of course, I don't blame her for the employment of cosmetics. It's all very well to praise natural color and to argue that anybody can have it who leads a simple, normal life. How can such a life be led by many city dwellers. They work indoors, often under artificial light and sleep in rooms where the sun never comes. What chance have 'natural roses' against such a regime? Yet how can it be avoided in the highly artificial civiliration of a great city?

"The point is that, since cosmetics and toilet preparations are being used by an ever-increasing number of persons, it is increasingly imporatnt that they be made of nonpoisonous materials. This can be done. But it is not being done at present in the case of an innumerable number of preparations which are advertised as 'absolutely safe and harmless.'

"Of eighteen hair dyes analyzed in this office, every one has been found to contain a poisonous agent. The poison commonly found in such dyes is para phenylene diamin—a terrible name; we call it 'para' for short. It is a known poison, and we have had many cases come into this office in which the scalp had been much injured by it. There are other symptoms, too, as in the case of a charming little black-haired woman with a grown son in college who came to me. She was suffering in a number of painful ways and she couldn't think what was the cause. We found that her hair dye was responsible.

"Another woman, a young girl, came to me with a bad case of dermatitis factitia—that is, artificially caused inflammation, centering in her case on the lips. I found that she had been using a poisoned lipstick, one containing benzol, a poisonous irritant.

"Rouge is often made poisonous because one of the amine solutions is used in mixing it. The coloring agent also is frequently not a vegetable dye, as it should be to achieve the maximum of harmlessness.

"Many powders are poisonous because of an admixture of carbonate of lead, or even of arsenic. It is not necessary to take the latter in food or drink in order to be poisoned by it. And I have seen a number of well-defined cases of lead poisoning with all the symptoms, caused by the lead in the face powder used. If they do nothing worse, such cosmetics are often responsible for dermatitis venenata—skin-poisoning similar to that caused by poison ivy. There is the same itching, swelling, weeping."

"But you say that cosmetics need not be poisonous. Why are they made so, in many instances?" I asked.

WHY POISONS ARE USED

"In order to save money by producing them as cheaply as possible," replied Dr. Hubbard. "The making of toilet preparations and cosmetics is an enormous industry, and the competition is keen not only among American manufacturers but between them and England, France and Germany.

"According to the Government figures the amount of money spent andually in the United States for toilet preparations, perfumes and cosmetics is $141,000,000. For hair dye alone the national bill is $1,900,000. For hair tonics it is $11,000,000—we have not yet acquired the habit of drinking hair dyes." Dr. Hubbard added a sardonic note. "Incidentally, hair tonics as tonics for hair are absolutely useless—nothing has ever been discovered which will make hair grow from dead roots. Yet in 1925 there were 180 more hair tonic manufacturers than in 1924.

"In 1890 there were 69 manufacturers of cosmetics in the United States, with $2,000,000 in the business. In 1920 there were 600 manufacturers with $59,000,000 invested.

"Yet there is absolutely no legal regulation of this huge industry, the products of which affect the health of so many persons. Medical supervision is what we are asking. For interstate commerce, cosmetics should come under a regulation similar to the Pure Food and Drug Act. Locally, the supervision of such articles should be vested by law in the local Health Departments. People ought to know what they are getting—I don't mean the exact formula, that is rightfully a business secret, but they ought to know whether they are applying actual poisons to their scalps and faces. You can't buy poison freely in food or drugs—why should you not be protected against buying it in hair dye or rouge or lipstick?"

Why Drama Has Such Appeal to Women

Love for the Emotional and Theatric Seems to Be Part of Their Nature.

By WINIFRED BLACK

WINIFRED BLACK

WHO loves to go to the theater best—the man or the woman?

I don't see how anybody can have any kind of doubt about that. Women begin to play theater from the time they can walk.

Little girls are always "dressing up" and playing "lady"—and a little later they're always "dressing up" and playing "theater."

Women love the dramatic and the theatric, and if they can't go to the theater and see somebody have hysterics they'll have hysterics themselves just for the fun of it.

Men dislike scenes, they hate dramatics. Men like things to be pleasant and agreeable and easy-going.

Men like old clothes and easy slippers and a loose, old coat that looks as if the rag picker had dropped it.

Women like new clothes; why they even like new shoes! Women like to move; women like to change the furniture in their houses; they want new curtains and new rugs—just to have them "different."

Try to "do over" John's study. Then hear him growl. He wants it to be old and comfy and a little shabby, so he can put his feet wherever he likes.

John likes to light the fire, turn on the reading lamp and settle down in his study with the feeling that it's his—that it's going to stay just the way it is as long as he lives.

Yes, John likes the theater—if it's not too exciting. He'll stand a mystery play once in awhile, or a very old-fashioned melodrama, but usually John likes the follies, and the revues—and when you've had a hard day down town adding and subtracting and telling everybody business is good, when business is really rather bad, and holding up your head and keeping up your end of things—camouflaging and worrying and hoping and then losing hope—you'll like the follies, too.

They're so bright and gay. All the girls are so pretty. Nobody worries about money and there's no fuss about rents and bills. Above all, there are no "emotions." John hates emotions—and Mary simply loves them.

Mary loves to go to the theater and have a good cry. She loves to fancy herself as the heroine. John never can understand why Mary always quarrels with him after they've been to a modern play. Mary doesn't know herself, but she does the quarreling just the same.

She wants to be "modern" too, and slam the door and rush out into the night and defy the conventions—but there's the baby and there's little John in his pajamas, expecting her to come and help him dress in the morning. There's mother; there's little sister Lou—somehow Mary can't quite seem to arrange it—and it makes her cross.

John wonders.

Mary hates the Follies because she's afraid John admires little Miss Tottie Coughdrop, the third from the right at the end, more than he really should.

If all the women died tomorrow—except those who are on the stage—John would never go to the theater again except to a revue or a follies of some sort or other. He gets all the emotions he wants at home.

If all the men died tomorrow—except those on the stage—Mary would never step inside of a theater unless she went to see a problem play and had the time of her life crying her eyes out.

Dear me, what a good thing it is that the world is made up of men and women—isn't it?

DOLLY DIALOGUES, 1926

A SATIRE ON THE MODERN GIRL

By ROLLIN KIRBY

Remember the "Dolly Dialogues" made famous by Anthony Hope? Rollin Kirby, the ablest editorial cartoonist in the country, has written and illustrated a series of "Dolly Dialogues," 1926 style, that should amuse both those who remember the girls of the nineties and those who think the present crop could not be improved on.

No. 4

MY cousin put her feet up on the radio set with an air of one for whom life holds but little. Quite a respectable array of ancestors looked down from the walls on her as she lay sprawled in her chair.

"Great-grandfather Hosea was a tough old egg," she mused, fixing her eye on a Supreme Court Judge who regarded her in a pontifical manner. "I'll bet he was the hotsy-totsy kid."

"Your great-grandfather, my dear," said my aunt, "was an ornament to the family. And that is something you will never be—not if you live to be a thousand."

"Well, you're very close to that and I don't notice much in the way of ornament in you, old bean," responded my cousin cheerily.

My aunt's lips tightened and she reached for a cigaret. Her poise was admirable. One can't learn aplomb like that. It's in the blood. There was a calm assurance about her that was like a shining armor.

"If you were my child, which, thank God, you are not, I'd see to it that you got what was coming to you," she said.

"Phooey," replied my cousin, turning one of the knobs on the front of the radio with her toe.

"I think," I cut in, "that you two are too much together."

"My dear Eustace," said my aunt, "the only time she ever comes here is when she tries to shake me down for some jack—and that is practically every day."

"I got expenses," drawled my cousin.

"What now?" I asked.

"Well," she answered, "it's for Squint-Eyed Bennie Levine. He didn't stick up that jeweler on Amsterdam Avenue. The dicks framed him."

"How do you know?" I asked.

"I've been talking to him today down in the Tombs."

"Not a single smacker for that crook," my aunt said with determination. "If he didn't do that job he has done plenty of others."

"When did you begin bringing sunshine to the strong-arm boys?" I asked.

"It's not her first," said my aunt. "The last one she got out beat it with the upstairs girl and most of the silver."

There was a ring at the door and Rawlston announced a man asking for my cousin.

"Show him in," she said. "We can't lose."

A large person with "plain clothes" written all over him stepped into the room.

"Are you the young lady who was at the Tombs to see Squint-Eyed Levine?"

"Yep," responded my cousin, removing her feet from the radio.

"I came up to tell you you're takin' an awful chance with that gorilla, lady. Is this yours?" and he held up an emerald brooch.

"Yes," said my cousin weakly.

"Well, he nicked you for it while youse was talkin' to him. You janes hadn't ought to mix with rats like that."

As he left my aunt rang for Rawlston.

"Cocktails," she said.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

YOU know the wonders men have done in every land and time, you see their cities in the sun, great peaks and towers that climb. You see the imprint of their toil that changes Nature's face, you find their touch within the soil, through hills their way you trace. Till, awed by all this splendid past, this great, unwritten tale, you cringe at thought of deeds so vast, you falter and you fail. But push such craven thoughts away, by fear be not possessed, for Earth has called for you today; give it, today, your best! Forget what any other man has dreamed and dared to do; remember only that the plan has need, this hour, of you. Let not the great who lived and died obstruct your onward way; for you this task was set aside, forget it not, today!

Sports Clothes Favorite Today

By Janet Winslow

IT SEEMS as though sports clothes have jumped out of their regular cut-and-dried outdoor class. They have reached a new era of expression, a new plan of development. It may be going a little far to say that they are the uniform, chosen quantity, best beloved quantity of the American woman of today, but on the surface that seems to be but an entirely adequate statement of the situation.

Sports clothes themselves have stepped into a new class. They are the ultra-simple dresses of the day, as well as those which are meant for wear during outdoor activities. They are the light wool, heavy silk, woven dresses which the American woman delights to wear and they are all done over lines that express only the most classic simplicity.

The very youngest portion of the younger generation today knows nothing else but sports clothes. They are the only sort of dresses recognized by the extremely younger set. Make them of tweed, of velvet, of chiffon or what you will and the lines remain those of the ultra-sports clothes, the extremely simple, unadorned modeling which characterizes the dressing of the younger set.

Now, when a woman has grown older and settled, she must, of course, modify the youthfulness of the sports clothes. She cannot afford to eliminate so many lines, for the exigencies of the proportions of her figure will not permit that. However, she can in many ways cling to the general making of herself a more stylish and interesting factor because of the principles involved in her dressing.

Kasha cloth is one of the favorite materials for dresses of this general, every-day character. Then there are the wool jerseys and the imported cashmere cloths, all of which go to make up the smarter of the sports clothes of the day.

The colors of these dresses and coats are particularly ravishing. They are all the softer pastel shadings, becoming to the older as well as to the younger generation. Then, of course, there are the more vivid shadings for those whose complexions and figures can stand them best.

"Not a single smacker for that crook," my aunt said with determination. "If he didn't do that job he has done plenty of others."

"When did you begin bringing sunshine to the strong-arm boys?" I asked.

"It's not her first," said my aunt. "The last one she got out beat it with the upstairs girl and most of the silver."

There was a ring at the door and Rawlston announced a man asking for my cousin.

"Show him in," she said. "We can't lose."

A large person with "plain clothes" written all over him stepped into the room.

"Are you the young lady who was at the Tombs to see Squint-Eyed Levine?"

"Yep," responded my cousin, removing her feet from the radio.

"I came up to tell you you're takin' an awful chance with that gorilla, lady. Is this yours?" and he held up an emerald brooch.

"Yes," said my cousin weakly.

"Well, he nicked you for it while youse was talkin' to him. You janes hadn't ought to mix with rats like that."

As he left my aunt rang for Rawlston.

"Cocktails," she said.

By Thornton W. Burgess

Danny's Tail Is Discovered

The clever schemer never sleeps,
But constant vigil keeps.
—Old Mothed Nature.

DANNY MEADOW MOUSE was sitting in the grass beside one of the tiny little paths of Nanny Meadow Mouse. He was quite hidden in that grass. Nothing was to be seen of him from the path but his funny little short tail, which was sticking out right in the path. You know, Danny had left that tail out there on purpose. He was planning to break the news of his homecoming to Nanny Meadow Mouse little by little, and he thought the best way to do it would be for her to discover his tail first. Perhaps Danny wasn't thinking of Nanny altogether. I don't know anything about it, but perhaps he was thinking that if Nanny should discover that tail he might have a chance to find out just how she felt about him without having to face her. You see, he wasn't at all certain how welcome he would be after having been away all summer.

Ahead of him, lying in the path, was a little worm

Now Danny was very tired, for you know he had done a lot of traveling. It was very quiet and peaceful there. Danny began to doze. Two or three times his eyes almost closed, only to be opened hurriedly. But at last they did close and remained closed. Danny was taking a nap and out in the little path lay Danny's funny little short tail. It was a short tail, too. Sometimes Danny had been ashamed of that short tail. Sometimes he had been envious of his cousins with long tails. Many a time he had admired the long slim tail of Whitefoot the Wood Mouse, and the even longer tail of Nimbleheels the Jumping Mouse. But now he was quite satisfied with that little short tail. You see, he hoped that little tail was going to be a sort of an ambassador for him. Ambassador is a big word, isn't it? But its meaning is quite simple. It means some one who smooths the way for you. Danny hoped that his tail would smooth the way for him with Nanny.

Now it just happened that one of the half-grown children of Ringneck the Pheasant happened along that way. Young Ringneck was out in the Great World and very proud of it. He had perfect faith in his ability to pick up a living. His bright eyes, which were very sharp eyes, looked this way and that way in search of good eating. Many a worm and insect and many a plump seed those bright eyes discovered and his stout bill picked up. Despite this, he was still hungry. In fact, he had an extra good appetite that day.

It was just by chance that young Ringneck found that little path through the grass. It was a good place to walk and so he followed it. Presently those sharp eyes of his brightened. Ahead of him, lying in the path, was a little worm. Never had he seen one just like it before, but he was sure it was a worm. He hurried forward. Just before reaching it he stopped. He cocked his head on one side and studied that worm.

"I never saw one like that before," said he to himself "but when I'm hungry all worms look alike to me."

Just then Danny Meadow Mouse, who was dreaming, twitched his funny little short tail. Young Ringneck saw it. He saw that tail move. That settled any doubt there might have been in young Ringneck's mind. He would have that worm before it had a chance to get away. He took a step forward and swiftly picked up that tempting little worm.

Now, no two people have yet agreed which was the most surprised—Danny Meadow Mouse or young Ringneck—when the latter picked up what he thought was a worm. He dropped it as quickly as he had picked it up, but he had pinched it good and hard, so hard that it had made Danny squeal. The instant he was dropped he took to his heels.

Young Ringneck looked quite upset. Then, as Nanny Meadow Mouse poked her head out of her doorway and inquired what the trouble was, he tried to look dignified. "It is a queer thing to me," said he, "how careless some people can be. If I had a tail I thought anything of I wouldn't leave it around where other folks would be likely to step on it."

FLOURS YOU CANNOT BUY IN STORES

—her own ingredients mixed just as she used them

Never before a recipe so many women have tried and liked! And yet no cook book gives it. Some of the ingredients for this old-time recipe cannot even be bought in stores today.

For years down on the old plantation Aunt Jemima would not reveal to a soul how she mixed the batter for her tender, golden-brown cakes. Only her master and his guests could enjoy their matchless flavor.

Today you get her own ingredients ready-mixed—proportioned exactly as she used them—in Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour. We grind her special flours with machinery designed for the purpose. Only in this way is it possible for so many families to have cakes just like her own, always light and fluffy, with that old-time plantation flavor.

Watch the plates come back for more when you serve Aunt Jemima's cakes! Plan now to test her famous recipe—ready-mixed. Your grocer has Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour and her Prepared Buckwheat Flour.

Coupons for valuable premiums come in every Aunt Jemima package.

CHICKEN MARYLAND AS IT'S SERVED DOWN SOUTH

2 medium sized frying or broiling chickens	1½ teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons Argo or Kingsford's Cornstarch	⅛ teaspoon pepper
	½ cup Mazola
	1 pint white sauce
	Potato or rice croquettes
	Currant jelly

CLEAN and disjoint the chickens as for fricassee, then dust with salt, pepper and cornstarch. Heat the Mazola in a frying pan and quickly brown the chicken in it. Reduce the heat, cover closely and cook gently or steam for thirty minutes. For serving, arrange in the middle of a platter with croquettes around the edge. Garnish with cress, parsley or celery tips and pass white sauce. This may be made from the drippings in the pan by adding to them two tablespoons cornstarch, one-half teaspoon salt, few grains pepper and a pint of rich milk.

YOU'LL never worry about new ideas for dinner if you have a copy of Mrs. Ida Bailey Allen's new Cook Book (see coupon below). For instance, follow this Chicken Maryland recipe and you'll know why Southerners serve chicken so often.

Send Only 10c. with this coupon and you will receive a copy of Ida Bailey Allen's wonderful new Cook Book, beautifully bound, 192 pages of unusual recipes. Write Corn Products Refining Co., P.O. Box 161, N.Y.C.

Grim Pyorrhea gets 4 out of 5

All around you are people doomed, through carelessness, to contract Pyorrhea. Four persons out of five past forty (and many younger) are its victims.

Carelessness—neglect of teeth and gums—is the cause. And the results, too often, are loss of teeth, neuritis, rheumatism, or other serious diseases.

And yet, if you start in time, it is so easy to prevent. If your gums are soft and bleeding, see your dentist at once for examination. And start immediately to use Forhan's for the Gums.

Used regularly and in time, Forhan's prevents Pyorrhea or checks it. It firms the gums and keeps them healthy. It protects teeth against decay-causing acids and keeps them snowy white.

Ask your dentist about Forhan's. It is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S., and contains a percentage of Forhan's Pyorrhea Liquid, used by dentists for 15 years.

Safeguard your youth and health! See your dentist twice a year. And start the morning-and-night Forhan habit, today. Teach your children to use it as health-insurance. Get a tube today. At all druggists' 35c and 60c.

No Embarrassing Give-Away
Forhan's Antiseptic, a new product, most powerful, safe, antiseptic mouthwash known, has no tell-tale odor of its own. Keeps you safe from whispering tongues. Try it.

The Man on the Sandbox

by L. C. Davis

THE PASSING SHOW.

THE well-known Abie's Irish Rose,
The record for continued shows,
Has put upon the hummer.
But, while the "Rose" is going strong,
We doubt that it will last as long
As Moore's Last Rose of Summer.

The justly famous classic gem
Is still as fresh upon the stem
As when old Thomas wrote it.
Our great-grandfathers saw it blow
And burgeon many years ago
But, to this day we quote it.

The Sooners took our famous Bears,
As one might call it, unawares,
And handed them a trouncing;
But, when their shattered ranks re-form
They're going to put on a storm,
Our heroes are announcing.

The Rolla Miners and the Bills
Provided quite a line of thrills
For local cognoscenti.
Although the Miners finished fine
The Bills had nicked 'em for a 9
Which proved to be a-plenty.

TOO TRUE.

The man on the sandbox says a blanket ballot covers a multitude of things you can't understand.
